LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(vii) Enforcement/A. ENFORCEMENT BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/1148. Execution of works required by listed building enforcement notice.

1148. Execution of works required by listed building enforcement notice.

If any of the steps¹ specified in the listed building enforcement notice² have not been taken within the period for compliance with the notice³, the authority may:

- 4248 (1) enter the land⁴ and take those steps; and 4249 (2) recover from the person who is then the owner⁵ of the land any expenses reasonably incurred by it in doing so⁶.

Any person who wilfully obstructs a person acting in the exercise of such powers is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁷.

Where a listed building enforcement notice has been served in respect of a building⁸:

- 4250 (a) any expenses incurred by the owner or occupier of the building for the purpose of complying with it; and are deemed to be incurred or paid for the use and at the request of the person who carried out the works to which the notice relates¹⁰.

1 Regulations under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 may provide that all or any of the following sections of the Public Health Act 1936, namely: (1) s 276 (power of local authorities to sell materials removed in executing works subject to accounting for the proceeds of sale); (2) s 289 (power to require the occupier of any premises to permit works to be executed by the owner of the premises); (3) s 294 (limit on liability of persons holding premises as agents or trustees in respect of the expenses recoverable), shall apply, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the regulations, in relation to any steps required to be taken by a listed building enforcement notice: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 42(3). Regulations so made applying all or any of the Public Health Act 1936 s 289 may include adaptations and modifications for the purpose of giving the owner of the land to which such a notice relates the right, as against all other persons interested in the land, to comply with the requirements of the notice: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 42(4). Such regulations may also provide for the charging on the land on which the building stands of any expenses recoverable by a local planning authority under s 42(1): s 42(5).

The provisions of the Public Health Act 1936 ss 276, 289 and 294 (see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARAS 118, 123-124) apply in relation to any step required to be taken by a listed building enforcement notice as if (a) references to a local authority were references to the local planning authority which issued the enforcement notice or, where the notice was issued by the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage'), to the Commission; (b) references, in whatever form, to the execution of works under the Public Health Act 1936 were references to the taking of steps required to be taken under notice; (c) references in s 289 to the occupier were references to the person having an interest in the premises other than the owner; and (d) the reference in s 294 to 'expenses under this Act' were a reference to expenses incurred in the taking of such steps: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 11(1) (renumbered by SI 1991/2804). 6 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 42(1) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 25, Sch 3 para 21(a)). The expenses recoverable by a local planning authority under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 42(1) (as so amended) are, until recovered, a charge that is binding on successive owners of the land to which the listed building enforcement notice related; and the charge takes effect as from the date of the completion by the local planning authority of the steps required to be taken by the listed building enforcement notice: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/2909, reg 11(2) (added by SI 1991/2804).

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(vii) Enforcement/A. ENFORCEMENT BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/1149. Non-compliance with listed building enforcement notice.

1149. Non-compliance with listed building enforcement notice.

Where, at any time after the end of the period for compliance with a listed building enforcement notice¹, any step required by such a notice to be taken has not been taken, the person who is then the owner² of the land³ is in breach of the notice⁴.

If at any time the owner of the land is in breach of a listed building enforcement notice, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000⁵; and, in determining the amount of any fine to be imposed on a person convicted of such an offence, the court must in particular have regard to any financial benefit which has accrued or appears likely to accrue to him in consequence of the offence⁶.

Such an offence may be charged by reference to any day or longer period of time and a person may be convicted of a second or subsequent such offence by reference to any period of time following the preceding conviction for such an offence⁷.

In proceedings against any person for such an offence it is a defence for him to show:

- 4252 (1) that he did everything he could be expected to do to secure that all the steps required by the notice were taken⁸; or
- 4253 (2) that he was not served with a copy of the listed building enforcement notice and was not aware of its existence⁹.

If, after the issue of a listed building enforcement notice¹, consent is granted²:

- 4254 (1) for the retention of any work to which the notice relates; or
- 4255 (2) permitting the retention of works without compliance with some condition subject to which a previous listed building consent³ was granted, the notice ceases to have effect in so far as it requires steps to be taken involving the works not being retained or, as the case may be, for complying with that condition⁴.

1151. Injunctions.

Where a local planning authority¹ considers it necessary or expedient for any actual or apprehended contravention of the statutory controls² on work affecting listed buildings to be restrained by injunction, it may apply to the court³ for an injunction, whether or not it has exercised or is proposing to exercise⁴ any of its other statutory powers⁵. On such an application the court may grant such an injunction as the court thinks appropriate for the purposes of restraining the contravention⁶.

Rules of court may, in particular, provide for such an injunction to be issued against a person whose identity is unknown⁷. Without prejudice to the court's power to make an order for service by an alternative method or an order dispensing with service⁸, an applicant for such an injunction must, in the claim form, describe the defendant by reference to (1) a photograph; (2) a thing belonging to or in the possession of the defendant; or (3) any other evidence, with sufficient particularity to enable service to be effected⁹. The applicant must file¹⁰ in support of the application evidence by witness statement or affidavit:

- 4257 (b) setting out the action taken to ascertain the defendant's identity; and

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² to be expedient that a listed building enforcement notice³ should be issued in respect of any land⁴, he or the Assembly may issue such a notice⁵.

Before the Secretary of State serves such a notice, he must consult⁶ the local planning authority⁷ and the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')⁸; and before the Assembly serves such a notice it must consult the local planning authority⁹. Electronic communications may not be used for service of the notice¹⁰.

A listed building enforcement notice issued by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly, has the same effect as a notice issued by the local planning authority¹¹.

C. ENFORCEMENT IN RELATION TO THE CROWN

1153. Enforcement in relation to the Crown; in general.

At the date at which this title states the law, notwithstanding any interest of the Crown in Crown land¹, any restrictions or powers imposed or conferred by the provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 relating to enforcement² apply and are exercisable³ in relation to Crown land to the extent of any interest⁴ in it for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown⁵.

As from a day to be appointed⁶, however, the above provisions are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004⁷ and new provision is made regarding enforcement in relation to the Crown. As from such a day, and despite the general application of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 to the Crown⁸, no act or omission done or suffered by or on behalf of the Crown constitutes an offence under that 1990 Act⁹. A local planning authority¹⁰ must not take any step for the purposes of enforcement in relation to Crown land¹¹ unless it has the consent of the appropriate authority¹²; and the appropriate authority may give such consent subject to such conditions as it thinks appropriate¹³. A step taken for the purposes of enforcement is anything done in connection with the enforcement of anything required to be done¹⁴ or prohibited by or under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990¹⁵; and this includes entering land, bringing proceedings and the making of an application¹⁶ but does not include service of a notice¹⁷ or the making of an order, other than by a court¹⁸.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. (viii) Prevention of Deterioration

A. ACQUISITION OF LISTED BUILDINGS

(A) COMPULSORY ACQUISITION

1154. In general.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² that reasonable steps are not being taken for properly preserving a listed building³, he or the Assembly may:

- 4259 (1) authorise the appropriate authority⁴ to acquire compulsorily the buildings and any relevant land⁵; or
- 4260 (2) himself or itself compulsorily acquire them⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may not so make or confirm a compulsory purchase order for the acquisition of any building unless:

- 4261 (a) in the case of the acquisition of a building situated in England otherwise than by the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage'), the Secretary of State has consulted⁷ with the Commission; and
- 4262 (b) in any case, the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that it is expedient to make provisions for the preservation of the building and to authorise its compulsory acquisition⁸ for that purpose⁹.

Before taking any steps with a view to making a dangerous structure order in respect of a listed building under building control legislation, a local planning authority must consider whether it should instead exercise the above powers¹⁰.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 as to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 47 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'listed building' see PARA 1091 ante. There is no specific duty on owners to keep their buildings in a good state of repair: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 7.4. However, attention is drawn to the need to safeguard architectural features, statuary, monuments and specialist materials; local authorities and owners are recommended to take precautions to safeguard them from theft, especially when historic buildings are vacant or being refurbished: para 7.3. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'the appropriate authority' means (1) the council of the county, county borough or district in which the building is situated; or (2) in the case of a building situated in Greater London, the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') or the council of the London borough in which the building is situated; or (3) in the case of a building situated outside Greater London, the joint planning board for the area in which the building is situated; or (4) in the case of a building situated within the Broads, the Broads Authority: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 47(7)(a)-(d) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 20(4)(b), Sch 6 para 25(6)). In the case of a building situated in a National Park for which a National Park authority is the local planning authority, that authority and no other authority is the appropriate authority for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 47-51 (as amended): Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 13(1). For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante; for the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 1101 note 3 ante; for the meaning of 'joint planning board' see PARA 1142 note 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante. As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 ante; and as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29.

5 For these purposes, 'relevant land' in relation to any building, means the land comprising or contiguous or adjacent to it which appears to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly to be required for preserving the building or its amenities, or for affording access to it, or for its proper control or management: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 47(7). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante.

6 Ibid s 47(1). As to the procedure see PARA 1157 post.

7 For the meaning of 'consult' para 2 note 1 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'compulsory acquisition' see PARA 1079 note 7 ante.

9 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 47(3). Privately owned historic buildings should, wherever possible, remain in the private sector. Local planning authorities are encouraged to identify a private individual or body, such as a building preservation trust, which has access to funds to carry out the necessary repairs and to which the building will be sold on as quickly as possible: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 7.13.

TEXT AND NOTES--The National Assembly for Wales Commission is to be treated as a Crown body for the purposes of the 1990 Act s 47: National Assembly for Wales Commission (Crown Status) (No 2) Order 2007, SI 2007/1353, art 5(1), (2)(a).

TEXT AND NOTES 6, 7--Day now appointed and repeals in force: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(viii) Prevention of Deterioration/A. ACQUISITION OF LISTED BUILDINGS/(A) Compulsory Acquisition/1156. Repairs notice as preliminary to compulsory acquisition.

1156. Repairs notice as preliminary to compulsory acquisition.

The compulsory purchase¹ of a listed building² in need of repair may not be started³ by the appropriate authority⁴ or by the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁶ unless, at least two months previously, the authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly has served on the owner⁷ of the building⁸ a notice (a 'repairs notice'):

- 4265 (1) specifying the works which the appropriate authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers reasonably necessary for the proper preservation⁹ of the building; and
- 4266 (2) explaining the effect of the statutory provisions relating to the compulsory acquisition of listed buildings in need of repair¹⁰, and the repairs notice has not been withdrawn¹¹.

Where (a) a building is demolished¹² after a repairs notice has been served in respect of it by an appropriate authority or by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; but (b) the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that he or it would have confirmed or, as the case may be, would have made a compulsory purchase order in respect of the building had it not been demolished, the demolition of the building does not prevent the authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly from being authorised¹³ to acquire compulsorily the site of the building¹⁴.

An appropriate authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly may at any time withdraw a repairs notice served by it or him on any person; and must, if it or he does so, immediately give such person notice of the withdrawal¹⁵. The Secretary of State must, however, consult¹⁶ with the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')¹⁷ before he serves or withdraws a repairs notice in relation to a building situated in England¹⁸.

Where a repairs notice has been served on a person in respect of a building he is not entitled to serve a listed building purchase notice¹⁹ in respect of it:

- 4267 (i) until the expiration of three months beginning with the date of the service of the repairs notice; or
- 4268 (ii) if during that period the compulsory acquisition of the building is begun²⁰, unless and until the compulsory acquisition is discontinued²¹.

Before taking any steps with a view to making a dangerous structure order in respect of a listed building under building control legislation, a local planning authority must consider whether it should instead exercise the above powers²².

² For the meaning of 'listed building' see PARA 1091 ante.

3 For these purposes, a compulsory acquisition is started when the notice required by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 s 12 (as amended) or, as the case may be, s 2(3), Sch 1 para 3(1) (as amended) is served: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 48(6)(a). See further COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARAS 560, 607. For the meaning of 'compulsory acquisition' see PARA 1079 note 7 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'appropriate authority' has the same meaning as in ibid s 47 (as amended) (see PARA 1154 note 4 ante): s 48(7). Where appropriate, it includes a National Park authority: see the Environment Act s 70, Sch 9 para 13(1), cited in PARA 1154 note 4 ante.

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

6 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 48, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 1075 note 17 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

9 On its true construction the word 'preservation' must be given its ordinary meaning and does not extend to restoration work; but, having regard to the policy of the statutory provisions and the public interest in preserving buildings of special architectural or historic interest, the preservation of a listed building refers to its being kept in the state it was in when first listed and not when the repairs notice was served: Robbins v Secretary of State for the Environment [1989] 1 All ER 878, [1989] 1 WLR 201, HL. If, however, repairs are necessary to preserve what remains of the rest of the building, eg to a roof that was defective at the time of listing, it is legitimate to include them in a repairs notice: PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 7.10. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

10 Ie the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 47-50 (as amended): see PARA 1154 ante; the text and notes 1-9 supra, 11-21 infra; and PARAS 1157-1159 post.

11 Ibid s 48(1). Section 48(1) does not, however, require an authority to take the means of the owner into account in deciding what steps are reasonably necessary for the proper preservation of the building: Rolf v North Shropshire District Council (1987) 55 P & CR 242, CA.

A repairs notice so served on the owner of a listed building which specifies works considered reasonably necessary for the proper preservation of the building is an effective notice for the purposes of the compulsory purchase under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 47 (as amended) (see PARA 1154 ante) even if the list of works specified includes a number of items which go beyond the scope of s 48: Robbins v Secretary of State for the Environment [1989] 1 All ER 878, [1989] 1 WLR 201, HL.

20 See note 13 supra. See also note 3 supra.

21 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 48(5). For these purposes, a compulsory acquisition is discontinued (1) in the case of acquisition by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, when he or it decides not to make the compulsory purchase order; and (2) in any other case, when the order is withdrawn or the Secretary of State or the Assembly decides not to confirm it: s 48(6)(b). The Acquisition of Land Act 1981¹ applies to the compulsory acquisition² of a listed building³ in need of repair⁴.

Any person having an interest in a building⁵ which it is proposed compulsorily so to acquire may, within 28 days after the service of the prescribed notice⁶, apply to a magistrates' court for an order staying further proceedings on the compulsory purchase order⁷. If, on such an application, the court is satisfied that reasonable steps have been taken for properly preserving the building, the court must make an order accordingly⁸.

Where the appropriate authority¹:

- 4271 (1) proposes to acquire a building² compulsorily³; and
- 4272 (2) is satisfied that the building has been deliberately allowed to fall into disrepair for the purpose of justifying its demolition⁴ and the development⁵ or redevelopment of the site or any adjoining site, it may include in the compulsory purchase order as submitted to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷ for confirmation a direction for minimum compensation⁸.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly so acquires a building compulsorily, he or it may⁹, if satisfied as mentioned in head (2) above, include a direction for minimum compensation in the compulsory purchase order¹⁰.

A direction for minimum compensation, in relation to a building compulsorily acquired, is a direction that, for the purpose of assessing compensation, it is to be assumed¹¹:

- 4273 (a) that planning permission¹² would not be granted for any development or redevelopment of the site of the building; and
- 4274 (b) that listed building consent¹³ would not be granted for any works for the demolition, alteration or extension of the building other than development or works necessary for restoring it to, and maintaining it in, a proper state of repair¹⁴.

If a compulsory purchase order is confirmed or made with the inclusion of a direction for minimum compensation, the compensation in respect of the compulsory acquisition¹⁵ must be assessed in accordance with the direction¹⁶.

Where such a direction is included in a compulsory purchase order or, as the case may be, in a draft order prepared by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly, any person having an interest in the building may, within 28 days after the service of the notice¹⁷, apply to a magistrates' court for an order that no such direction be included in the compulsory purchase order as confirmed or made by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁸. If the court to which an application is so made is satisfied that the building in respect of which the application is made has not been deliberately allowed to fall into disrepair for the purposes mentioned in head (2) above, the court must make the order applied for¹⁹.

A person aggrieved²⁰ by the decision of a magistrates' court on such an application may appeal against the decision to the Crown Court²¹.

(C) MANAGEMENT OF ACQUIRED BUILDINGS

1162. Management of acquired listed buildings.

Where (1) a local authority¹ or joint planning board² acquires any building or other land compulsorily³ or by agreement⁴; or (2) the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')⁵ acquires any building or other land compulsorily⁶, it may make such arrangements as to its management, use⁷ or disposal⁸ as it considers appropriate for the purpose of the preservation of the building or other land⁹. These powers of management may also be exercised by a National Park authority which has so acquired a building or land situated in a National Park for which it is the local planning authority¹⁰.

When the Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹² acquires any building or other land compulsorily¹³, he or the Assembly may:

- 4284 (a) make such arrangements¹⁴ as he or it thinks fit as to the management, custody or use of the building or land; and
- 4285 (b) dispose of, or otherwise deal with, any such building or land as he or the Assembly may from time to time determine¹⁵.

B. URGENT PRESERVATION

1163. Urgent works to preserve unoccupied listed buildings.

A local authority¹, including a National Park authority², may execute any works which appear to it to be urgently necessary for the preservation of a listed building³ in its area⁴. Before taking any steps with a view to the making of a dangerous structure order in respect of a listed building under building control legislation, a local planning authority⁵ must consider whether it should instead exercise these powers⁶.

If it appears to the Secretary of State⁷ that any works are urgently necessary for the preservation of a listed building in England, he must authorise the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') to execute any works specified in the authorisation which appear to him to be urgently necessary for its preservation⁸. If it appears to the National Assembly for Wales⁹ that any works are urgently necessary for the preservation of a listed building in Wales, the Assembly may itself execute any works which appear to it to be urgently necessary for the building's preservation¹⁰.

The works which may be executed under these provisions may consist of or include works for affording temporary support or shelter for the building¹¹. If, however, the building is occupied, works may be carried out only to those parts which are not in use¹².

The owner¹³ of the building must be given not less than seven days' notice in writing of the intention to carry out the works¹⁴. Such a notice must describe the works proposed to be carried out¹⁵.

1 In the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54 'local authority', in relation to a building or land in the Broads, includes the Broads Authority: s 91(6). For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1072 note 8 ante. See also note 2 infra. For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante. As respects buildings in Greater London, the functions of a local authority under s 54 are exercisable concurrently by the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') and the relevant London borough council: s 54(7). As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; for the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 1073 note 3 ante; and for the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 1094 note 3 ante. As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 ante.

2 The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 has effect as if a National Park authority were the local authority for the purposes of ss 54, 55 (as amended) (see the text and notes 3-15 infra; and PARA 1164 post) and as if, in relation to ss 54, 55 (as amended), the relevant Park were the authority's area: Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 13(4)(a). As to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

3 For the meaning of 'listed building' see PARA 1091 ante.

4 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54(1). Section 54(1) requires only that the works appear to be urgently necessary: R v Secretary of State for Wales, ex p the City and County of Swansea

[1999] JPL 524 (expenses incurred in respect of works carried out in the belief that they were urgently necessary and which after the event were determined to have been necessary, but not urgently necessary for the preservation of the building, were properly recoverable under s 55 (as amended) (see PARA 1164 post)). The fact that the future of the building, including its possible demolition, is under consideration cannot be a reason for the local authority not so acting, bearing in mind that the whole purpose of such action is to prevent all question of demolition being decided by the elements, perhaps assisted by the owner, rather than by the local authority or the Secretary of State: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Hampshire County Council (1980) 44 P & CR 343, DC. As to rights of entry see PARAS 1083-1086 ante.

The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54 is not well adapted to works of a continuing nature, such as the continued maintenance of scaffolding, or of a continuing liability: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Hampshire County Council supra. Planning policy guidance issued in relation to England advises that use of the powers under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54 should be restricted to emergency repairs, eg works to keep a building wind- and weather-proof and safe from collapse, or action to prevent vandalism or theft. The steps taken should be the minimum consistent with achieving this objective, and should not involve an owner in great expense: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 7.7. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante.

6 See the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 56; and PARA 1165 post.

7 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

8 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54(2)(a). The Secretary of State's policy is to use these powers only in exceptional cases, eg where a building is of exceptional interest or is in local authority ownership: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 7.6.

9 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

13 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 1075 note 17 ante.

14 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54(5). In the case of works authorised under s 54(2)(a) (see the text and notes 7-8 supra), the Commission must give that notice: s 54(5). The purpose of the seven days' notice is to enable the owner of the building to discuss the matter with the local authority, discuss what works are necessary and what alternative ways there may be of achieving the object of preserving the building and perhaps to volunteer to carry out the works himself: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Hampshire County Council (1980) 44 P & CR 343, DC.

15 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 54(6). The notice must state with sufficient particularity the steps which the owner is required to take: R v Camden London Borough Council, ex p Comyn Ching & Co (London) Ltd (1983) 47 P & CR 417 (notice requiring the owner to take 'all such steps as may be necessary ...' insufficient and thus defective).

Recovery of expenses of urgent works to preserve unoccupied listed buildings.

1164. Recovery of expenses of urgent works to preserve unoccupied listed buildings.

The following provisions have effect for enabling the expenses of urgent works executed to preserve unoccupied listed buildings¹ to be recovered by the authority which carried out the works, that is to say the local authority², the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')³, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ or, in the case of works carried out by the Commission on behalf of the Secretary of State⁵, the Secretary of State⁶.

The authority may give notice to the owner⁷ of the building requiring him to pay the expenses of the works⁸.

Where the works consist of or include works for affording temporary support or shelter for the building:

- 4286 (1) the expenses which may be recovered include any continuing expenses involved in making available the apparatus or materials used; and
- 4287 (2) notices⁹ in respect of any such continuing expenses may be given from time to time¹⁰.

The owner may, within 28 days of the service of the notice, represent to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly:

- 4288 (a) that some or all of the works were unnecessary for the preservation of the building; or
- 4289 (b) in the case of works for affording temporary support or shelter, that the temporary arrangements have continued for an unreasonable length of time; or
- 4290 (c) that the amount specified in the notice is unreasonable; or
- 4291 (d) that the recovery of that amount would cause him hardship¹¹, and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must determine to what extent the representations are justified¹². The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give notice of this determination, the reasons for it and the amount recoverable:

- 4292 (i) to the owner of the building; and
- 4293 (ii) if the authority which gave notice is a local authority or the Commission, to it¹³.

2 le including a National Park authority: see PARA 1163 note 2 ante. 8 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 55(2).

9 I.e. notices under ibid s 55(2): see the text and notes 7-8 supra.

10 Ibid s 55(3).

11 'Hardship' clearly covers the personal circumstances of the owner in financial terms; it may also cover a gross disparity between what is paid out by the local authority and sought to be recovered from the building's owner and the benefit that the owner derives in terms of the value of the building. Hardship is a question of fact: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Hampshire County Council (1980) 44 P & CR 343, DC.

12 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 55(4). Planning policy guidance issued in relation to England indicates that the Secretary of State will be particularly concerned to establish whether the works carried out were the minimum required to secure the building's preservation and prevent further deterioration. If an authority intends to attempt to recover the cost of the works, the financial circumstances of the owner should be taken into account at the outset and any sums the authority wishes to recover from an owner should not be unreasonable in relation to his or her means: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 7.8. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 54 (see PARA 1163 ante) creates an emergency procedure and authorities are expected to decide what may be difficult questions quickly. In those circumstances a balance has to be struck between the interests of owners and the interest of society in the preservation of listed buildings; if the works are necessary, it is reasonable that, subject to the other defences set out in s 55(4)(b)-(d) (see heads (b)-(d) in the text), the owner should be liable to reimburse the authority with the costs: see R v Secretary of State for Wales, ex p City and County of Swansea (1999) 78 P & CR 317, [1999] JPL 524.

1165. Dangerous structure orders.

Building control legislation¹ enables a local authority outside inner London, if it appears to it that a building or structure, or part of a building or structure, is in such a condition, or is used to carry such loads, as to be dangerous, to apply to a magistrates' court for a dangerous structure order requiring the owner of the building either to execute such work as may be necessary to obviate the danger or, if he so elects, to demolish the building or structure, or any dangerous part of it, and remove any rubbish resulting from the demolition². That legislation also enables a local authority, if it appears to it that a building or structure is by reason of its ruinous or dilapidated condition seriously detrimental to the amenities of the neighbourhood, to require the owner of it, by notice, to execute such works of repair or restoration, or, if he so elects, to take such steps for demolishing the building or structure, or any part of it, and removing any rubbish or other material resulting from or exposed by the demolition, as may be necessary in the interests of amenity³.

In inner London, London building control legislation⁴ enables a magistrates' court, on complaint by a local authority:

- 4294 (1) to make any order which the court thinks fit for remedying the dangerous state of a structure or taking down repairing or otherwise securing it⁵; or
- 4295 (2) to order the owner to take down or repair or rebuild a neglected structure or any part of it or to fence in the land upon which it or any part of it is situated or otherwise to put the structure or any part of it into a state of repair and good condition to the satisfaction of the local authority⁶.

That legislation also provides that, acting on a certificate by the district surveyor that a structure is in a dangerous condition, the local authority may shore up or otherwise secure the structure, may erect a proper hoarding or fence for the protection of passengers and must cause notice in writing to be served on the owner or occupier of the structure requiring him forthwith to take down, repair or otherwise secure it as the case requires⁷.

Before taking any steps with a view to the making of any such order in respect of a listed building⁸, or the service of any such notice⁹, as is described above, a local planning authority¹⁰ must consider whether it should instead exercise its powers to issue a repairs notice¹¹, to acquire the building compulsorily¹² or to execute urgent works to preserve it¹³ under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990¹⁴.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(viii) Prevention of Deterioration/C. GRANTS FOR REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE/1166. Power of local authority to contribute to preservation of listed buildings etc.

C. GRANTS FOR REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE

1166. Power of local authority to contribute to preservation of listed buildings etc.

A local authority¹, including a National Park authority², may contribute towards the expenses incurred or to be incurred in the repair or maintenance:

- 4296 (1) of a listed building³ which is situated in or in the vicinity of its area; or
- 4297 (2) of a building⁴ in its area which is not listed but which appears to it to be of architectural or historic interest⁵.

At the time of making such a contribution the local authority may also contribute towards the expenses incurred, or to be incurred, in the upkeep of any garden occupied with the building and contiguous or adjacent to it⁶.

Such a contribution may be made by grant or loan⁷. A contribution by way of loan may be made upon such terms and conditions as the local authority may determine including, but without prejudice to the above provisions, a term that the loan shall be free of interest⁸.

A local authority may:

- 4298 (a) renounce its right to repayment of such a loan or any interest for the time being outstanding; and
- 4299 (b) by agreement with the borrower, otherwise vary any of the terms and conditions on which such a loan is made⁹.

A local authority may require as a condition of the making by it of a contribution by way of grant towards the expenses of the repair or maintenance or upkeep of any property that the person to whom the grant is made shall enter into an agreement with it for the purpose of enabling the public to have access to the property or part of it during such period and at such times as the agreement may provide¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 58 (see PARA 1167 post), 'local authority' means (1) the council of a county, county borough, borough or district; (2) a joint planning board constituted under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 2 (as amended) (see PARA 30 ante); and (3) in relation to a building or land in the Broads, the Broads Authority: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 57(7) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 20(4)(b), Sch 6 para 25(8)). 2 The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 has effect as if a National Park authority were a local authority for the purposes of s 57 (as amended) and s 58 and, in relation to those provisions, as if the relevant Park were the authority's area: Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 13(4). 4 For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 57(1)(b) and s 57(2) as it applies for the purposes of s 57(1)(b), the definition of 'building' in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 applies (see PARA 2 note 10 ante) with the omission of the words 'but does not include any plant or machinery comprised in a building': Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(7). LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(viii) Prevention of Deterioration/C. GRANTS FOR REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE/1167. Recovery of grants.

1167. Recovery of grants.

If, during the period of three years beginning with the day on which a grant is made¹ towards the repair or maintenance or upkeep of any property ('the grant property'), the grantee disposes² of the interest held by him in the property on that day or any part of that interest, by way of sale or exchange or lease³ for a term of not less than 21 years, the local authority⁴ may recover the amount of the grant, or such part of it as it thinks fit, from the grantee in any court of competent jurisdiction⁵.

If the grantee gives:

4300 (1) the whole of that interest to any person, whether directly or indirectly, but otherwise than by will, the above provisions⁶ have effect as if the donee were the grantee⁷;

4301 (2) part of that interest to any person, whether directly or indirectly, but otherwise than by will, the above provisions⁸ have effect as if any disposal or part disposal of that interest by the donee were a disposal by the grantee⁹.

If any condition imposed on the making of a grant is contravened or not complied with, the grantor may recover the amount of the grant, or such part of it as the grantor thinks fit, from the grantee¹⁰.

Nothing in the above provisions entitles a grantor to recover amounts in the aggregate exceeding the amount of the grant, for example by virtue of a breach of more than one condition or disposals of several parts of an interest in the grant property¹¹.

If, with the intention of causing damage to a listed building¹, any relevant person² does or permits the doing of any act which causes or is likely to result in damage to the building³, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁴.

The above provisions do not, however, apply to an act for the execution:

- 4302 (1) of works authorised by planning permission⁵ granted or deemed to be granted in pursuance of an application duly made⁶; or
- 4303 (2) of works for which listed building consent⁷ has been given⁸.

If a person convicted of such an offence fails to take such reasonable steps as may be necessary to prevent any damage or further damage resulting from the offence, he is guilty of a further offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale for each day on which the failure continues⁹.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(3) CONSERVATION AREAS/(i) Designation of Conservation Areas/1169. Designation of conservation areas.

(3) CONSERVATION AREAS

(i) Designation of Conservation Areas

1169. Designation of conservation areas.

Every local planning authority¹ including, in relation to Greater London², the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')³ must:

- 4304 (1) from time to time determine which parts of its area are areas of special architectural or historic interest the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance; and
- 4305 (2) designate those areas as conservation areas⁴.

It is the duty of a local planning authority from time to time to review the past exercise of its functions under these provisions and to determine whether any parts or any further parts of its area should be designated as conservation areas; and, if it so determines, it must designate those parts accordingly⁵.

A local planning authority must give notice of the designation of any part of its area as a conservation area⁶ and of any variation or cancellation of any such designation to the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁸ and, if it affects an area in England and the designation or, as the case may be, the variation or cancellation was not made by the Commission, to the Commission⁹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may from time to time determine that any part of a local planning authority's area which is not for the time being designated as a conservation area is an area of special architectural or historic interest the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance; and, if he or the Assembly so determines, he or it may designate that part as a conservation area¹⁰. Before so making a determination, however, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult the local planning authority¹¹. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give notice of the designation of any part of the area of a local planning authority as a conservation area¹² and of any variation or cancellation of any such designation to the authority and, if it affects an area in England, the Secretary of State must give such notice to the Commission¹³.

Notice of any such designation, variation or cancellation¹⁴, with particulars of its effect, must be published in the London Gazette and in at least one newspaper circulating in the area of the local planning authority, by that authority or, as the case may be, by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁵.

The designation of any area as a conservation area is a local land charge¹⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante. For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 69, 70 (see the text and notes 2-16 infra) and s 73 (as amended) (see PARA 1173 post), the Broads Authority is the sole district planning authority in respect of the Broads: see s 81, Sch 4 para 5 (as amended); and PARA 1073 ante.

3 The functions of a local planning authority under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 69, 70 (see the text and notes 4-16 infra) are also exercisable in Greater London by the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') (s 70(1)); and, before making a determination under s 69, the Commission must consult the council of each London borough of which any part is included in the area to which the proposed determination relates (s 70(2)). Before designating any area in Greater London as a conservation area, the Commission must obtain the consent of the Secretary of State: s 70(4). 4 Ibid s 69(1). For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'conservation area' means an area for the time being so designated: s 91(1). Before making a determination under s 69, a county planning authority or National Park authority in England must consult the council of each district of which any part is included in the area to which the proposed determination relates: Sch 4 para 1(2) (as added), Sch 4 para 4(2) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 78, Sch 10 para 33). As to county planning authorities and district planning authorities see PARA 28 ante. In deciding whether to designate an area as a conservation area, the local planning authority is entitled to consider the whole of the area as an entity; not every part of the area need have on it something of interest, but interesting features and their setting are together to be treated as the 'area': R v Canterbury City Council, ex p Halford (1991) 64 P & CR 513, [1992] 2 PLR 137. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(3) CONSERVATION AREAS/(ii) General Duties of Planning Authorities/1171. Exercise of planning functions; in general.

1171. Exercise of planning functions; in general.

In the exercise, with respect to any buildings¹ or other land² in a conservation area³, of any functions⁴ under or by virtue of any of the provisions of the planning Acts⁵, of Part I of the Historic Buildings and Ancient Monuments Act 1953⁶ and of certain provisions of the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 relating to estate management schemes⁷, special attention must be paid to the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of that area⁸.

Without prejudice to these provisions, in the exercise of its powers of appropriation, disposal⁹ and development, including redevelopment, under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁰ a local authority¹¹ must have regard to the desirability of preserving features of special architectural or historic interest, and in particular, listed buildings¹².

A local planning authority has power to direct that certain types of development for which permission is granted by the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995¹³ may nevertheless not be carried out within the whole or part of a conservation area unless specific permission for such development has been granted on an application made to the authority¹⁴. For these purposes, references to provisions of the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 include references to those provisions as they have effect by virtue of the Housing Act 1996 s 118(1): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 72(3) (added by the Housing Act 1996 s 118(7)).

8 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 72(1), (2) (amended by the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 s 187(1), Sch 21 para 30). For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 72 (as amended), the Broads Authority is the sole district planning authority in respect of the Broads: see s 81, Sch 4 para 5 (as amended); and PARA 1073 ante. As to district planning authorities see PARA 28 ante. As to the Secretary of State's or the National Assembly for Wales's power to direct the relevant local planning authority to submit for approval the arrangements which the authority proposes to make to obtain specialist advice in connection with its functions under s 72 (as amended) see PARA 1098 note 7 ante; and as to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

Section 72 (as amended) only imposes a duty to pay special attention to the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of a conservation area. It does not require as a consideration of a development proposal that it must preserve or enhance, or serve to preserve or enhance, the character or appearance of a conservation area. There may be cases where other important factors in the public interest operate which render a development acceptable in a conservation area notwithstanding the conservation considerations: Harrow London Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment and the Keepers and Governors of Harrow School (1989) 60 P & CR 525. See also Bath Society v Secretary of State for the Environment [1991] JPL 663, CA. As to the quashing of planning consent for the retention of a development already carried out see Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England v Secretary of State for the Environment [1997] 3 PLR 8.

Preserving the character of appearance of a conservation area can be achieved not only by a positive contribution to preservation but also by development which leaves the character or appearance of the conservation area unharmed. Accordingly, where a particular development would not adversely affect the character or appearance of the area and is otherwise unobjectionable on planning grounds, there is no planning reason for refusing to allow it to proceed: South Lakeland District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1992] 2 AC 141, [1992] 1 All ER 573, HL. See also Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission v Secretary of State for the Environment [1997] JPL 424 (inspector entitled to conclude that uPVC front door in keeping with character and appearance of conservation area).

11 For these purposes, the reference to a local authority includes a reference (1) to a joint planning board (Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 66(3) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 120, Sch 24)); and (2) to a National Park authority (Environment Act 1995 s 65(7), Sch 8 para 2(4)). The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 66 (as amended) is applied in relation to conservation areas by s 74(3), (4); and modified, so far as so applying, by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3: see note 12 infra; and PARA 1174 note 5 post. 12 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 66(2) (as applied and modified: see note 11 supra). Section 66(1) (see PARA 1106 ante) does not apply for these purposes: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12(b), Sch 3.

NOTE 8--See Chandler v Secretary of State for the Communities and Local Government [2007] EWHC 1000 (Admin), [2007] 2 P & CR 481 (a more stringent requirement than that contained by the 1990 Act s 72(1) was not required where neither the structure plan nor the local development plan sought to inhibit any development in a conservation area which was not either a development by way of reinstatement or restoration or a development which positively enhanced the character or appearance of the area).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(3) CONSERVATION AREAS/(ii) General Duties of Planning Authorities/1172. Preservation of trees and control of advertisements.

1172. Preservation of trees and control of advertisements.

Trees in conservation areas¹ which are not subject to tree preservation orders² are afforded special statutory protection. These provisions have already been discussed³.

In relation to the control of advertisements⁴, the statutory exceptions from control do not apply to balloons in conservation areas⁵ and deemed consent is not granted for the following classes of advertisements in conservation areas:

- 4306 (1) illuminated advertisements on business premises in a retail park (with a saving for such advertisements already displayed when the area was designated)⁶;
- 4307 (2) illuminated advertisements on other business premises, with a similar saving⁷;
- 4308 (3) certain flag advertisements⁸; and
- 4309 (4) advertisements on hoardings (with a saving for such advertisements already displayed when the area was designated)⁹.

Planning policy guidance issued in relation to England accepts that the local planning authority's duty to pay special attention to the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of a conservation area will result in practice in applying more exacting standards when the authority considers whether to grant consent for a proposed advertisement in such an area¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'conservation area' see PARA 1169 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'tree preservation order' see PARA 850 ante.

3 See the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 211-214 (as amended); and PARA 877 et seq ante. When considering whether to extend protection to trees in conservation areas, local planning authorities should always take into account the visual, historic and amenity contribution of trees. In some instances new plantings or re-plantings may be desirable where this would be consistent with the character and appearance of the area: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 4.40. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(3) CONSERVATION AREAS/(iii) Control of Demolition/1174. Control of demolition in conservation areas.

(iii) Control of Demolition

1174. Control of demolition in conservation areas.

A building¹ in a conservation area² may not be demolished³ without the consent of the appropriate authority⁴ ('conservation area consent')⁵. These provisions for controlling demolition do not, however, apply to:

- 4310 (1) listed buildings⁶;
- 4311 (2) ecclesiastical buildings⁷ which are for the time being used for ecclesiastical purposes⁸;
- 4312 (3) buildings for the time being included in the schedule of monuments complied and maintained⁹ under the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979; or
- 4313 (4) buildings in relation to which a direction¹⁰ by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales that they are not to apply to any description of building specified in the direction is for the time being in force¹¹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may by order provide for restricting or excluding the operation of head (2) above in such cases as may be specified in the order¹²; and any such order may make:

- 4314 (a) provision for buildings generally, for descriptions of building or for particular buildings;
- 4315 (b) different provision for buildings in different areas, for buildings of different religious faiths or denominations or according to the use made of the building;

- 4316 (c) such provision in relation to a part of a building, including in particular an object or structure falling to be treated as part of the building¹³, as may be made in relation to a building and make different provision for different parts of the same building;
- 4317 (d) different provision with respect to works of different descriptions or according to the extent of the works;
- 4318 (e) such consequential adaptations or modifications of the operation of any other provision of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 or the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, or of any instrument made under either of those Acts, as appear to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be appropriate¹⁴.

The order which has been made by the Secretary of State under heads (a) to (e) above, prior to the transfer of planning functions in Wales to the Assembly¹⁵, and the extent to which ecclesiastical exemption¹⁶ still applies and the bodies to which it applies have already been discussed¹⁷.

Any proceedings on or arising out of an application for conservation area consent made while the above provisions for controlling demolition apply to a building lapse if those provisions cease to apply to it; and any conservation area consent granted with respect to the building also lapses¹⁸. The fact that those provisions have ceased to apply to a building does not, however, affect the liability of any person to be prosecuted and punished for an offence¹⁹ committed with respect to the building while those provisions did apply to it²⁰.

2 For the meaning of 'conservation area' see PARA 1169 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'demolition' see PARA 1109 note 2 ante.

4 For these purposes, the appropriate authority is (1) in relation to applications for consent made by local planning authorities, the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales; and (2) in relation to other applications for consent, the local planning authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 74(2). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under ss 74, 75, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante. For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 74, 75, the Broads Authority is the sole planning authority in respect of the Broads: see s 81, Sch 4 para 5 (as amended); and PARA 1073 ante. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 1077 note 4 ante. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 1074 ante.

As to the exercise of this power see the Ecclesiastical Exemption (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Order 1994, SI 1994/1771; and PARAS 1102-1104 ante.

8 For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 7-9 (as amended), as they apply by virtue of s 74(3) (see note 5 supra; and PARA 1175 post), a building is taken to be used for the time being for ecclesiastical purposes if it would be so used but for the works in question: s 75(6).

No person may execute or cause to be executed any works for the demolition¹ of an unlisted building in a conservation area² unless the works are authorised³. Works for the demolition of such a building are authorised if conservation area consent⁴ has been granted for their execution and the works are executed in accordance with the terms of the consent and of any conditions attached to it⁵. Where works for the demolition of such a building are executed without such consent and written consent is granted by the local planning authority⁶ or by the Secretary of State⁷ (or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁸) for the retention of the works, the works are authorised from the grant of that consent⁹.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(3) CONSERVATION AREAS/(iii) Control of Demolition/1176. Application for and granting of conservation area consent.

1176. Application for and granting of conservation area consent.

The statutory provisions relating to making applications for listed building consent¹, certificates as to the applicant's status², and reference of certain applications to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴ apply to applications for conservation area consent⁵ with the appropriate modifications in terminology⁶. Except where the building in question is in Greater London⁷, there is no statutory requirement to notify the Secretary of State or the Assembly of such applications⁸. Where application for conservation area consent is made as respects a building situated in Greater London, the local planning authority⁹ must notify the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')¹⁰ of that application, may not determine such application until the expiry of a period of 28 days from such notification, must take into account any representations made by the Commission within such period in respect of that application, and must notify the Commission of the authority's decision on that application¹¹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may give directions to local planning authorities requiring them, in such cases or classes of case as may be specified in the directions, to notify him and such other persons as may be so specified of any applications made to the authorities for conservation area consent and of the decisions taken by the authorities on those applications¹². Such directions may be given to authorities generally or to particular authorities or descriptions of authority¹³.

The local planning authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may grant or refuse an application for conservation area consent and, if it or he grants consent, may grant it subject to conditions¹⁴. Except in so far as it otherwise provides, any conservation area consent enures for the benefit of the building and of all persons for the time being interested in it¹⁵. The statutory provisions relating to the granting of listed building consent subject to conditions¹⁶ apply to the granting of conservation area consent with the appropriate modifications in terminology¹⁷.

The regulations relating to procedure on:

- 4319 (1) applications for conservation area consent¹⁸;
- 4320 (2) applications to vary or discharge conditions attached to a conservation area consent¹⁹;
- 4321 (3) the advertisement of applications²⁰;
- 4322 (4) the certificates which must accompany applications and appeals²¹;
- 4323 (5) applications under head (1) or head (2) above in National Parks²²;

- 4324 (6) the use of electronic communications²³; and 4325 (7) applications for conservation area consent in anticipation of the disposal of Crown land²⁴,

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² that the preservation of a building³ in a conservation area⁴ is important for maintaining the character or appearance of that area, he or the Assembly may direct that the statutory provisions relating to urgent works to preserve unoccupied listed buildings⁵ are to apply to it as they apply to listed buildings⁶. If, in the opinion of the National Assembly for Wales⁵, any relevant expenditure has made or will make a significant contribution towards the preservation or enhancement of the character or appearance of any conservation area situated in Wales or any part of such an area, the Assembly may make grants or loans for the purposes of defraying the whole or part of that expenditure⁶.

Any such grant or loan may be made subject to such conditions as the Commission or, as the case may be, the Assembly may think fit to impose⁷; and any loan so made must be made on such terms as to repayment, payment of interest or otherwise as the Commission may⁸ determine or, as the case may be, the Assembly may⁹ determine¹⁰.

TEXT AND NOTES 13-15--1990 Act s 77(7)-(9) repealed: Historic Buildings Council for Wales (Abolition) Order 2006, SI 2006/63, art 3(1)(b).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(3) CONSERVATION AREAS/(iv) Grants and Loans/1183. Recovery of grants.

1183. Recovery of grants.

The following provisions apply to any grant for the preservation or enhancement of conservation areas¹ made on terms that it shall be recoverable²; and a grant is regarded as made on those terms only if, before or on making the grant, the grantor gives the grantee notice in writing:

- 4326 (1) summarising the effect of these provisions³; and
- 4327 (2) if the grant is made for the purpose of defraying the whole or part of expenditure in relation to any particular property ('the grant property') specifying the recovery period⁴.

If during the recovery period the grantee disposes⁵ of the interest which was held by him in the grant property on the day on which the grant was made or any part of that interest by way of sale or exchange or lease⁶ for a term of not less than 21 years, the grantor may recover the amount of the grant, or such part of it as the grantor thinks fit, from the grantee⁷.

If any condition imposed on the making of such a grant is contravened or not complied with, the grantor may recover the amount of the grant, or such part of it as he thinks fit, from the grantee⁸.

Nothing in the above provisions entitles a grantor to recover amounts in the aggregate exceeding the amount of the grant, for example by virtue of a breach of more than one condition or disposals of several parts of an interest in the grant property⁹.

1 le any grant made under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 77: see PARA 1182 ante.

3 le the effect of ibid s 78: see the text and notes 1-2 supra, 4-9 infra.

1185 Grants for repairing buildings in town schemes

NOTE 11--1990 Act s 80(4) repealed: Historic Buildings Council for Wales (Abolition) Order 2006, SI 2006/63, art 3(1)(b).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. (4) APPEALS ETC RELATING TO LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS

(i) Rights of Appeal

A. APPEALS REGARDING LISTED BUILDING CONSENTS

1186. Right of appeal.

Where a local planning authority¹:

- 4338 (1) refuses an application for listed building consent² or grants it subject to conditions³;
- 4339 (2) refuses an application for the variation or discharge of conditions⁴ subject to which such consent has been granted or grants it and adds new conditions; or
- 4340 (3) refuses an application for approval required by a condition imposed on the granting of listed building consent with respect to details of works or grants it subject to conditions, the applicant, if aggrieved⁵ by the decision, may appeal to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷.

A person who has made such an application may also appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly if the local planning authority has done none of the following⁸:

- 4341 (a) given notice to the applicant of its decision on the application;
- 4342 (b) partly as from a day to be appointed⁹, given notice to the applicant that it has exercised its statutory power¹⁰ to decline to determine the application;

- 4343 (c) in the case of such an application as is mentioned in head (1) or head (2) above, given notice to the applicant that the application has been referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly in accordance with directions given¹¹ by him or by the Assembly, within the relevant period¹² from the date of the receipt of the application, or within such extended period as may be at any time agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority¹³.

It has been held that the Secretary of State has jurisdiction to hear an appeal under the above provisions where the local planning authority has refused to consider the application on the grounds that it has not been validly made¹⁴.

The following provisions apply, partly as from a day to be appointed¹⁵, if a person who has made an application for listed building consent¹⁶ appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under heads (a) to (c) above¹⁷. At any time before the end of the additional period¹⁸ the local planning authority may give the notice referred to in those heads¹⁹. If the local planning authority so gives notice that its decision is to refuse the application:

- 4344 (i) the appeal must be treated as an appeal²⁰ against the refusal;
 4345 (ii) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give the person making the appeal an opportunity to revise the grounds of the appeal;
 4346 (iii) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give such a person an opportunity to change any option the person has chosen relating to the procedure for the appeal²¹.

If, however, the local planning authority so gives notice that its decision is to grant the application subject to conditions, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give the person making the appeal the opportunity:

- 4347 (A) to proceed with the appeal as an appeal²² against the grant of the application subject to conditions;
 4348 (B) to revise the grounds of the appeal;
 4349 (C) to change any option the person has chosen relating to the procedure for the appeal²³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must not issue his or its decision on the appeal before the end of the additional period²⁴.

The statutory right of appeal to the Secretary of State¹ or to the National Assembly for Wales² in relation to listed building consents³ applies in relation to conservation area consents⁴ with the appropriate modifications in terminology⁵ and the same procedure for making such an appeal⁶ applies⁷, except that the notice of appeal may not include the statutory grounds relating to inclusion of the relevant building in the statutory lists⁸. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may allow or dismiss such an appeal or may reverse or vary any part of the authority's decision, whether or not the appeal relates to that part, and may deal with the application for conservation area consent as if it had been made to him or to the Assembly in the first instance⁹. There are the same rights to appear before and be heard by an appointed person before the appeal is determined¹⁰. The procedure on such appeals is discussed below¹¹.

(A) APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY

1191. Right of appeal.

A person having an interest in the building¹ to which a listed building enforcement notice² relates or a relevant occupier³ may appeal to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ against the notice on any of the following grounds:

- 4360 (1) that the building is not of special architectural or historic interest;
- 4361 (2) that the matters alleged to constitute a contravention of the statutory controls⁶ on works affecting such buildings have not occurred;
- 4362 (3) that those matters, if they occurred, do not constitute such a contravention;
- 4363 (4) that works to the building were urgently necessary in the interests of safety or health or for the preservation of the building, that it was not practicable to secure safety or health or, as the case may be, the preservation of the building by works of repair or works for affording temporary support or shelter, and that the works carried out were limited to the minimum measures immediately necessary;
- 4364 (5) that listed building consent⁷ ought to be granted for the works, or that any relevant condition of such consent which has been granted ought to be discharged, or different conditions substituted;
- 4365 (6) that copies of the notice were not duly served⁸;
- 4366 (7) that, subject to certain exceptions⁹, the requirements of the notice exceed what is necessary for restoring the building to its condition before the works were carried out;
- 4367 (8) that the period specified in the notice as the period within which any step required by the notice is to be taken falls short of what should reasonably be allowed;
- 4368 (9) that the steps required by the notice for the purpose of restoring the character of the building to its former state would not serve that purpose;
- 4369 (10) that steps required to be taken¹⁰ exceed what is necessary to alleviate the effect of the works executed to the building;
- 4370 (11) that steps required to be taken¹¹ exceed what is necessary to bring the building to the state in which it would have been if the terms and conditions of the listed building consent had been complied with¹².

1 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'listed building enforcement notice' see PARA 1146 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'relevant occupier' means a person who (1) on the date on which the listed building enforcement notice is issued occupies the building to which the notice relates by virtue of a licence; and (2) continues so to occupy the building when the appeal is brought: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39(7) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 25, 84(6), Sch 3 para 20, Sch 19 Pt I).

An inspector hearing such an appeal is not entitled to ignore evidence of the condition of the building prior to the alterations made by the appellant: see Braun v Secretary of State for Local Government, Transport and the Regions [2002] EWHC 2767 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 309 (Dec); affd [2003] EWCA Civ 665, [2003] All ER (D) 266 (May).

- 4371 (1) require the local planning authority⁵ to submit, within such time as may be prescribed, a statement indicating the submissions which it proposes to put forward on the appeal;

- 4372 (2) specify the matters to be included in such a statement;
- 4373 (3) require the authority or the appellant to give such notice of such an appeal as may be prescribed, being notice which in the opinion of the Secretary of State or the Assembly is likely to bring the appeal to the attention of persons in the locality in which the building⁶ in question is situated;
- 4374 (4) require the authority to send to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, within such period from the date of the bringing of the appeal as may be prescribed, a copy of the enforcement notice and a list of the persons served with copies of it⁷.

If either the appellant or the local planning authority so wishes, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, subject to certain exceptions⁸, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for the purpose⁹.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(4) APPEALS ETC RELATING TO LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(i) Rights of Appeal/C. APPEALS AGAINST LISTED BUILDING ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(A) Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/1193. Procedure for making appeal.

1193. Procedure for making appeal.

An appeal against a listed building enforcement notice¹ must be made:

- 4375 (1) by giving written notice of the appeal to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ before the date specified in the listed building enforcement notice as the date on which it is to take effect; or
- 4376 (2) by sending such notice to him or to the Assembly in a properly addressed and prepaid letter posted to him or to the Assembly at such time that, in the ordinary course of post, it would be delivered to him or to the Assembly before that date; or
- 4377 (3) by sending such notice to him or to the Assembly using electronic communications⁴ at such time that, in the ordinary course of transmission, it would be delivered to him or to the Assembly before that date⁵.

Where such an appeal is brought, and subject to any court order to the contrary under the relevant statutory power⁶, the listed building enforcement notice is of no effect pending the final determination or the withdrawal of the appeal⁷.

A person who so gives notice of appeal must submit to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, either when giving the notice or within such time as may be prescribed⁸, a statement in writing:

- 4378 (a) specifying the grounds on which he is appealing against the listed building enforcement notice; and
- 4379 (b) giving such further information as may be prescribed⁹.

Upon receipt of the statement the Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the local planning authority¹⁰ in writing that an appeal has been made and copy to the authority the appeal and the statement so made¹¹. On receiving such notification, the local planning authority must send to him or to the Assembly, not later than 14 days from the date of that notification, a certified copy of the listed building enforcement notice and a list of names and addresses of the persons on whom a copy of the notice has been served¹² under the relevant statutory provision¹³. The authority must also submit to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, and to any person on whom a copy of the listed building enforcement notice has been served, a statement indicating the submissions which the authority proposes to put forward on the appeal¹⁴. When the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers that he or it has received all the documents required to enable him or it to entertain the appeal, he or the Assembly must send a notice to this effect to the appellant and the local planning authority¹⁵.

If, where more than one ground is specified in the statement referred to in heads (a) and (b) above, the appellant does not give information required under head (b) above in relation to each of those grounds within the prescribed time, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may determine the appeal without considering any ground as to which the appellant has failed to give such information within that time¹⁶.

Where any person has so appealed to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly against a notice, no person is entitled, in any other proceedings instituted after the making of the appeal, to claim that the notice was not duly served¹⁷ on the person who appealed¹⁸.

APPEALS AGAINST LISTED BUILDING ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(A) Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/1194. Powers on determination of appeals.

1194. Powers on determination of appeals.

On an appeal against a listed building enforcement notice¹ the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 4380 (1) correct any defect, error or misdescription in the listed building enforcement notice; or
- 4381 (2) vary the terms of the listed building enforcement notice, if he or the Assembly is satisfied that the correction or variation will not cause injustice to the appellant or the local planning authority⁴.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly determines to allow the appeal, he or it may quash the notice⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give any directions necessary to give effect to his or its determination on the appeal⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may:

- 4382 (a) dismiss such an appeal if the appellant fails to submit a statement in writing⁷ within the prescribed⁸ time; and
- 4383 (b) allow such an appeal and quash the listed building enforcement notice if the local planning authority fails to comply within the prescribed period with any requirement imposed by regulations⁹ relating to appeals¹⁰.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to dismiss an appeal under head (a) above or to allow an appeal and quash the listed building enforcement notice under head (b) above, he or the Assembly need not give the appellant or the local planning authority an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed¹¹ by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose¹².

Where it would otherwise be a ground for determining an appeal in favour of the appellant that a person required to be served with a copy of the listed building enforcement notice was not served, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard that fact if neither the appellant nor that person has been substantially prejudiced by the failure to serve him¹³.

On the determination of an appeal the Secretary of State or the Assembly may:

- 4384 (i) grant listed building consent¹⁴ for the works to which the listed building enforcement notice relates or for part only of those works;
- 4385 (ii) discharge any condition or limitation subject to which listed building consent was granted and substitute any other conditions, whether more or less onerous;
- 4386 (iii) if he or it thinks fit, exercise the power¹⁵ to amend any list compiled or approved¹⁶ by him or by the Assembly by removing from it the building¹⁷ to which the appeal relates¹⁸.

Any listed building consent so granted by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly is treated as granted on a formal application for the same consent¹⁹ and the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's decision in relation to the grant is final²⁰.

APPEALS AGAINST LISTED BUILDING ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(B) Appeals to the High Court/1195. Right of appeal to the High Court.

(B) APPEALS TO THE HIGH COURT

1195. Right of appeal to the High Court.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² gives a decision³ in proceedings on an appeal against a listed building enforcement notice⁴, the appellant or the local planning authority⁵ or any other person having an interest in the land⁶ to which the notice relates may, according as rules of court may provide, either appeal to the High Court against the decision on a point of law or require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to state and sign a case for the opinion of the High Court⁷. An appeal lies to the High Court on a point of law against a decision of the Secretary of State or of the Assembly under the above provision at the instance of any person or authority so entitled to appeal⁸.

At any stage of the proceedings on any appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly against a listed building enforcement notice, he or the Assembly may state any question of law arising in the course of the proceedings in the form of a special case for the decision of the High Court⁹; and a decision of the High Court on a case so stated is deemed to be a judgment¹⁰ of the court¹¹.

In proceedings so brought the High Court or, as the case may be, the Court of Appeal may, on such terms, if any, as the court thinks fit, which may include terms requiring the local planning authority to give an undertaking as to damages or any other matter, order that the listed building enforcement notice shall have effect, or have effect to such extent as may be specified in the order, pending the final determination of those proceedings and any rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹².

In relation to any proceedings in the High Court or the Court of Appeal brought by virtue of these provisions the power to make rules of court includes power to make rules:

- 4387 (1) prescribing the powers of the High Court or the Court of Appeal with respect to the remitting of the matter with the opinion or direction of the court for rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and
- 4388 (2) providing for the Secretary of State or the Assembly, either generally or in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the rules, to be treated as a party to any such proceedings and to be entitled to appear and to be heard accordingly¹³.

No proceedings in the High Court may, however, be brought by virtue of the above provisions except with the leave of that court; and no appeal to the Court of Appeal may be so brought except with the leave of the Court of Appeal or of the High Court¹⁴.

D. APPEALS AGAINST CONSERVATION AREA ENFORCEMENT NOTICES

1197. Right of appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly.

A person having an interest in the building¹ to which a conservation area enforcement notice² relates or a relevant occupier³ may appeal to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ against the notice on the grounds, inter alia, that retention of the building is not necessary in the interests of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of the conservation area in which it is situated⁶. Other grounds of appeal are:

- 4389 (1) that the matters alleged to constitute a contravention of the statutory controls⁷ on works affecting such buildings have not occurred;
- 4390 (2) that those matters, if they occurred, do not constitute such a contravention;
- 4391 (3) that works to the building were urgently necessary in the interests of safety or health or for the preservation of the building, that it was not practicable to

- secure safety or health or, as the case may be, the preservation of the building by works of repair or works for affording temporary support or shelter, and that the works carried out were limited to the minimum measures immediately necessary;
- 4392 (4) that conservation area consent⁸ ought to be granted for the works, or that any relevant condition of such consent which has been granted ought to be discharged, or different conditions substituted;
- 4393 (5) that copies of the notice were not duly served⁹;
- 4394 (6) that, subject to certain exceptions¹⁰, the requirements of the notice exceed what is necessary for restoring the building to its condition before the works were carried out;
- 4395 (7) that the period specified in the notice as the period within which any step required by the notice is to be taken falls short of what should reasonably be allowed;
- 4396 (8) that steps required to be taken¹¹ exceed what is necessary to alleviate the effect of the works executed to the building; or
- 4397 (9) that steps required to be taken¹² exceed what is necessary to bring the building to the state in which it would have been if the terms and conditions of the conservation area consent had been complied with¹³.

Except for the provision regarding removal of a building from the statutory lists¹⁴, the procedure for making such appeals¹⁵ and the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's powers on the determination of such appeals¹⁶ are the same as those with regard to appeals against listed building enforcement notices, with the appropriate modifications in terminology¹⁷.

The procedure on the determination of such appeals is discussed below¹⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'relevant occupier' means a person who (1) on the date on which the conservation area enforcement notice is issued occupies the building to which the notice relates by virtue of a licence; and (2) continues so to occupy the building when the appeal is brought: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39(7) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 25, 84(6), Sch 3 para 20, Sch 19 Pt I; the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39 applied with modifications in relation to conservation area enforcement notices by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3).

A. WHETHER APPEALS TO BE DETERMINED BY APPOINTED PERSON

1199. In general.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations prescribe the classes of appeals³ which are to be determined by a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly ('an appointed person') for the purpose instead of being determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁴. Such appeals are known as 'transferred appeals'⁵. Appeals of a prescribed class must be so determined except in such classes of case as may for the time being be prescribed or as may be specified in directions given by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly⁶.

Regulations made for these purposes may provide for the giving of publicity to any directions so given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁷.

The above provisions do not, however, affect any provisions in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 or any instrument made thereunder that an appeal is to lie to, or a notice of appeal is to be served on, the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁸.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(4) APPEALS ETC RELATING TO LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(ii) Procedure on Determination of Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. WHETHER APPEALS TO BE DETERMINED BY APPOINTED PERSON/1201. Powers and duties of appointed persons.

1201. Powers and duties of appointed persons.

An appointed person¹ has the same powers and duties² as the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ has in relation to appeals⁵ with respect to listed buildings and conservation areas⁶.

If both the parties express a wish not to appear and be heard, the appeal may be determined without their being heard⁷; but, if either of the parties expresses a wish to appear and be heard, the appointed person must give them both an opportunity of doing so⁸.

Where an appeal has been determined by an appointed person, his decision is treated as that of the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, as that of the Assembly⁹; and the validity of that decision may not, except as provided by statute¹⁰, be questioned in any proceedings whatsoever¹¹.

Where in any enactment¹² there is a reference to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in a context relating to or capable of relating to:

- 4403 (1) an appeal in respect of listed buildings or conservation areas¹³; or
- 4404 (2) anything done or authorised or required to be done by, to or before the Secretary of State or the Assembly on or in connection with any such appeal, then, so far as the context permits, it is to be construed, in relation to an appeal determined or falling to be determined by an appointed person, as a reference to him¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'an appointed person' see PARA 1199 ante.

2 Ie (1) in relation to an appeal under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 20 (as amended) (see PARAS 1186, 1190 ante), as the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales has under s 22(1) (see PARAS 1189, 1190 ante) and s 1(6), Sch 1 para 2 (see PARA 1096 ante); and (2) in relation to an appeal under s 39 (as amended) (see PARAS 1191, 1197 ante), as he or it has under s 41(1), (2), (2A), (5) or (6) (as amended) (see PARAS 1194, 1197 ante) and Sch 1 para 2 (see PARA 1096 ante).

It is not, however, a ground of application to the High Court under s 63 (as amended), or of appeal under s 65 (as amended), that an appeal ought to have been determined by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly and not by an appointed person, unless the appellant or the local planning authority challenges the appointed person's power to determine the appeal before his decision on the appeal is given: Sch 3 para 2(7).

1202. Determination of appeals by the Secretary of State or the Assembly instead of by an inspector.

If he or it thinks fit, the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may direct that an appeal which would otherwise fall to be determined by an appointed person³ shall instead be determined by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly⁴.

Such a direction must state the reasons for which it is given and must be served⁵ on the appellant, the local planning authority⁶, any person who made representations relating to the subject matter of the appeal which the authority was required to take into account⁷ and, if any person has been appointed⁸ to determine the appeal, on him⁹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give the appellant, the local planning authority and any person who has made representations¹⁰ an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for that purpose if:

- 4405 (1) the reasons for the direction raise matters with respect to which any of those persons have not made representations; or
- 4406 (2) in the case of the appellant and the local planning authority, either of them was not asked¹¹ whether he or it wished to appear before, and be heard by, the appointed person, or expressed no wish in answer to that question, or expressed a wish to appear and be heard but was not given an opportunity of doing so¹².

In determining the appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may take into account any report made to him or to the Assembly by any person previously appointed to determine it¹³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may by a further direction revoke a direction so given¹⁴ at any time before the determination of the appeal¹⁵. Such a further direction must state the reasons for which it is given and must be served on the person, if any, previously appointed to determine the appeal, the appellant, the local planning authority and any person who made representations relating to the subject matter of the appeal which the authority was required¹⁶ to take into account¹⁷.

Anything done by or on behalf of the Secretary of State or the Assembly in connection with the appeal which might have been done by the appointed person, including any arrangements made for the holding of a hearing or local inquiry, is treated, unless that person directs otherwise, as having been done by him¹⁸.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(4) APPEALS ETC RELATING TO LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(ii) Procedure on Determination of Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. WHETHER APPEALS TO BE DETERMINED BY APPOINTED PERSON/1204. Local inquiries and hearings.

1204. Local inquiries and hearings.

Whether or not the parties to an appeal have asked for an opportunity to appear and to be heard, an appointed person¹ may hold a local inquiry in connection with the appeal². He must hold a local inquiry if the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ so directs⁵. Where an appointed person holds a hearing by virtue of the provisions previously discussed⁶ or holds an inquiry by virtue of these provisions⁷, an assessor may be appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to sit with the appointed person at the hearing or inquiry to advise him on any matters arising, notwithstanding that the appointed person is to determine the appeal⁸. The costs of any hearing and of any inquiry are to be paid⁹ by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁰.

Subject to the following provisions, at any such inquiry oral evidence must be heard in public and documentary evidence must be open to public inspection¹¹. If, however, the Secretary of State in relation to England, or the Secretary of State exercising these functions concurrently with the Assembly in relation to Wales, is satisfied in the case of any such inquiry that:

- 4407 (1) giving evidence of a particular description or, as the case may be, making it available for inspection would be likely to result in the disclosure of information as to national security or the measures taken or to be taken to ensure the security of any premises or property; and
- 4408 (2) the public disclosure of that information would be contrary to the national interest, he or they may direct that evidence of the description indicated in the direction shall only be heard or, as the case may be, be open to inspection at that inquiry by such persons or persons of such descriptions as he or they may specify in that direction¹². In relation to England, if the Secretary of State is considering giving such a direction the Attorney General may appoint a person to represent the interests of any person who will be prevented from hearing or inspecting any evidence at a local inquiry if the direction is given¹³; and if before the Secretary of State gives such a direction no person is so appointed, the Attorney General may at any time so appoint a person for the purposes of the inquiry¹⁴. The Lord Chancellor may by rules make provision:

- 4409 (a) as to the procedure to be followed by the Secretary of State before he gives such a direction in a case where a person has been so appointed¹⁵;
- 4410 (b) as to the functions¹⁶ of a person appointed¹⁷ as described above¹⁸.

If the matter in respect of which a local inquiry to which the above provisions apply¹⁹ is to be held relates to Wales, the above references²⁰ to the Attorney General must be read as references to the Counsel General to the National Assembly for Wales²¹. The Assembly may by regulations²² make provision²³ in connection with such a local inquiry²⁴; and if it acts under this power, rules made by the Lord Chancellor under the provisions set out above²⁵ do not have effect in relation to the inquiry²⁶.

If a person is appointed as described above²⁷ ('the appointed representative') the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct any person who he or it thinks is interested in the inquiry in relation to a matter mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above ('the responsible person') to pay the fees and expenses of the appointed representative²⁸. If the appointed representative and the responsible person are unable to agree the amount of the fees and expenses, the amount must be determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly²⁹. He or it must cause the amount agreed between the appointed representative and the responsible person or determined by him or by the Assembly to be certified³⁰. An amount so certified is recoverable from the responsible person as a civil debt³¹. If, however, a person is so appointed, but no inquiry is held³², then the above provisions³³ apply in respect of the fees and expenses of the person appointed as if the inquiry had been held³⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'an appointed person' see PARA 1199 ante.

2 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 22(4), 40(3), Sch 3 para 6(1)(a). The Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 applies to a local inquiry or other hearing held in pursuance of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1199 et seq ante) as it applies to a statutory inquiry held by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly, but as if in the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 10(1) (statement of reasons for decisions: see JUDICIAL REVIEW vol 61 (2010) PARA 646) the reference to any decision taken by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly were a reference to a decision taken by an appointed person: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 3 para 7(1) (amended by the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 18(1), Sch 3 para 32). The Local Government Act 1972 s 250(2)-(5) (as amended) (evidence at and costs of local inquiries: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 105) applies to an inquiry held by virtue of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 3 para 6 with the following adaptations: (1) for the references in the Local Government Act 1972 s 250(4) (recovery of costs of holding inquiry) to the minister causing the inquiry to be held there must be substituted references to the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and (2) for the reference in s 250(5) (orders as to costs of the parties) to the minister causing the inquiry to be held there must be substituted a reference to the appointed person or the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 3 para 6(4).

The day so appointed was 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

1205. Determination of enforcement appeals by written representations.

In relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002¹ apply where an appellant² informs the Secretary of State³ in the notice of appeal against a listed building or conservation area enforcement notice⁴ that he wishes the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations⁵. Where such an appeal⁶ is not being disposed of on the basis of written representations and the appellant and the local planning authority⁷ inform the Secretary of State that they wish it to be disposed of on that basis, those 2002 Regulations apply to the proceedings to such extent as the Secretary of State may specify having regard to any steps already taken in relation to those proceedings⁸.

Similarly, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003⁹ apply where an appellant¹⁰ informs the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ in the notice of appeal of a wish for the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations¹². Where an appeal against a listed building or conservation area enforcement notice¹³ is not being disposed of on the basis of written representations and the appellant and the local planning authority inform the Assembly that they wish it to be disposed of on that basis, those 2003 Regulations apply to the proceedings to such extent as the Assembly may specify having regard to any steps already taken in relation to those proceedings¹⁴.

The procedure on such appeals is the same as that applying to enforcement appeals under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 which are determined by written representations, and has already been discussed in that context¹⁵.

1206. Determination of other appeals by written representations.

Regulations have been made prescribing the procedure in relation to various applications and appeals¹ in Wales which are to be determined by written representations². The prescribed procedure, which applies, inter alia, to appeals to the National Assembly for Wales³ regarding listed building consents and conservation area consents⁴, has already been discussed in the context of certain appeals under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁵.

At the date at which this title states the law, the equivalent regulations applying in relation to England did not prescribe a procedure for the determination by written representations of appeals to the Secretary of State⁶ regarding listed building consents and conservation area consents⁷.

1 In the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390 (as amended), 'appeal' means, in relation to, inter alia: (1) the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 12 (as amended) (see PARAS 1115, 1176 ante) or s 19 (as amended) (see PARA 1131 ante), the determination of an application which has been referred to the National Assembly for Wales, but does not include an application which is deemed to have been referred to the Assembly by virtue of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 13(3) (see PARA 1078 ante); and (2) the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 20 (as amended) (see PARAS 1186, 1197 ante), an appeal made under s 20 (as amended): see the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3157).

16. HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES

(1) INTRODUCTION

1210. Planning, environmental and health and safety legislation; in general.

The presence of hazardous substances on, over or under land is subject to planning control under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990¹. The provisions of the 1990 Act are considered below². The storage and use of such substances is, however, also subject to control under environmental³ and health and safety legislation⁴ which is considered elsewhere in this work⁵.

Nuclear installations and radioactive substances are subject to a separate system of statutory controls⁶. For the purposes of the operation of the 1990 Act, and for the purposes of the exercise or performance of any power or duty conferred or imposed by, or for the enforcement of, any of its provisions, no account is to be taken of any radioactivity possessed by any substance or article or by any part of any premises⁷.

The inter-relationship between hazardous substances consent⁸ under the 1990 Act and other statutory controls is discussed below⁹.

1211. European Union legislation; the 'SEVESO II' Directive.

Under the 1996 European Council Directive on the control of major-accident hazards involving dangerous substances, known as the 'SEVESO II Directive'¹, member states must ensure that the objectives of preventing major accidents² and limiting the consequences of such accidents are taken into account in their land-use policies and/or other relevant policies and the procedures for implementing those policies³. They must pursue those objectives through controls on:

- 4419 (1) the siting of new establishments;
- 4420 (2) modifications to existing establishments where these could have significant repercussions on major-accident hazards⁴;
- 4421 (3) new developments such as transport links, locations frequented by the public and residential areas in the vicinity of existing establishments, where the siting or developments are such as to increase the risk⁵ or consequences of a major accident⁶.

Member states must ensure that their land-use and/or other relevant policies and the procedures for implementing those policies take account of the need, in the long term, to maintain appropriate distances between establishments covered by the SEVESO II Directive and residential areas, buildings and areas of public use, major transport routes as far as possible, recreational areas and areas of particular natural sensitivity or interest and, in the case of existing establishments, of the need for additional technical measures⁷ so as not to increase the risks to people⁸.

Member states must ensure that all competent authorities and planning authorities responsible for decisions in this area set up appropriate consultation procedures to facilitate implementation of the policies so established. The procedures must be designed to ensure that technical advice on the risks arising from the establishment is available, either on a case-by-case or on a generic basis, when decisions are taken⁹.

The directive does not apply to the following:

- 4422 (a) military establishments, installations or storage¹⁰ facilities;
- 4423 (b) hazards created by ionising radiation;
- 4424 (c) the transport of dangerous substances and intermediate temporary storage by road, rail, internal waterways, sea or air, outside the establishments covered by the directive, including loading and unloading and transport to and from another means of transport at docks, wharves or marshalling yards;

- 4425 (d) the transport of dangerous substances in pipelines, including pumping stations, outside establishments covered by the directive;
- 4426 (e) the exploitation (exploration, extraction and processing) of minerals in mines, quarries, or by means of boreholes, with the exception of chemical and thermal processing operations and storage related to those operations which involve dangerous substances, as defined in Annex I to the directive;
- 4427 (f) the offshore exploration and exploitation of minerals, including hydrocarbons;
- 4428 (g) waste land-fill sites, with the exception of operational tailings disposal facilities, including tailing ponds or dams, containing dangerous substances defined as mentioned in head (e) above, in particular when used in connection with the chemical and thermal processing of minerals¹¹.

In England and Wales, the land-use requirements of the SEVESO II Directive have been implemented by the Planning (Control of Major-Accident Hazards) Regulations 1999¹². Additionally, regional planning bodies¹³ and local planning authorities¹⁴ in England must take those requirements into account when preparing:

- 4429 (i) in the case of a regional planning body, a draft revision of its regional spatial strategy¹⁵;
- 4430 (ii) in the case of a local planning authority, a local development document¹⁶.

1 Ie EC Council Directive 96/82 (OJ L10, 14.01.97, p 13) (amended by European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 1882/2003 (OJ L284, 31.10.2003, p 01) and European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2003/105 (OJ L345, 31.12.2003, p 97). For these purposes, 'hazard' means the intrinsic property of a dangerous substance or physical situation, with a potential for creating damage to human health and/or the environment: EC Council Directive 96/82 (OJ L10, 14.01.97, p 13) art 3(6).

2 For these purposes, 'major accident' means an occurrence such as a major emission, fire, or explosion resulting from uncontrolled developments in the course of the operation of any establishment covered by EC Council Directive 96/82 (OJ L10, 14.01.97, p 13) (as amended), and leading to serious danger to human health and/or the environment, immediate or delayed, inside or outside the establishment, and involving one or more dangerous substances (art 3(5)); 'establishment' means the whole area under the control of an operator where dangerous substances are present in one or more installations, including common or related infrastructures or activities (art 3(1)); 'installation' means a technical unit within an establishment in which dangerous substances are produced, used, handled or stored, and includes all the equipment, structures, pipework, machinery, tools, private railway sidings, docks, unloading quays serving the installation, jetties, warehouses or similar structures, floating or otherwise, necessary for the operation of the installation (art 3(2)); 'operator' means any individual or corporate body who operates or holds an establishment or installation or, if provided for by national legislation, has been given decisive economic power in the technical operation thereof (art 3(3)); and 'dangerous substance' means a substance, mixture or preparation listed in Annex I Pt 1 (as amended), or fulfilling the criteria laid down in Annex I Pt 2 (as amended), and present as a raw material, product, by-product, residue or intermediate, including those substances which it is reasonable to suppose may be generated in the event of accident (art 3(4)).

6 Ibid art 12(1)(a)-(c).

7 Ie in accordance with ibid art 5.

8 Ibid art 12(1) (as amended: see note 3 supra). The European Commission is invited by 31 December 2006, in close co-operation with the member states, to draw up guidelines defining a technical database including risk data and risk scenarios, to be used for assessing the compatibility between the establishments covered by the directive and the areas described in art 12(1) (as so amended). The definition of that database must as far as possible take account of the evaluations made by the competent authorities, the information obtained from operators and all other relevant information such as the socio-economic benefits of development and the mitigating effects of emergency plans: art 12(1A) (as added: see note 3 supra).

10 'Storage' means the presence of a quantity of dangerous substances for the purposes of warehousing, depositing in safe custody or keeping in stock: ibid art 3(8).

1212 Application of general provisions of planning legislation

TEXT AND NOTE 8--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/16. HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(1) INTRODUCTION/1213. Power to make regulations.

1213. Power to make regulations.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may make regulations under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 for any purpose for which regulations are authorised or required to be made thereunder, not being a purpose for which regulations are authorised or required to be made by another minister³.

Any power conferred by that Act to make regulations is exercisable by statutory instrument⁴; and any statutory instrument containing regulations so made by the Secretary of State is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament⁵. Regulations may make different provision for different purposes⁶.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990A s 40 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 40(1). For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'minister' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 3 note 5 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(1), (2).

4 Ibid s 40(2).

5 Ibid s 40(3). As to parliamentary procedure in relation to regulations made by the Assembly see PARA 20 ante; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS; STATUTES.

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(2) APPLICATION OF LEGISLATION TO THE CROWN/1214. Exercise of powers in relation to Crown land; the original position.

(2) APPLICATION OF LEGISLATION TO THE CROWN

1214. Exercise of powers in relation to Crown land; the original position.

At the date at which this title states the law, the following provisions apply. Notwithstanding any interest of the Crown¹ in Crown land², any restrictions imposed or powers conferred by specified provisions³ of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 apply and are exercisable in relation to Crown land to the extent of any interest in it for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown⁴.

Except with the consent of the appropriate authority⁵, no order or notice may be made, issued or served under specified provisions⁶ of that Act in relation to land which for the time being is Crown land⁷.

As from a day to be appointed, however⁸, the provisions set out above are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004⁹.

1 For these purposes, 'Crown interest' means an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown, or belonging to a government or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 31(3). Except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'government department' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 3 note 5 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(1), (2). Any interest of a contractor in designated premises as defined in the Atomic Weapons Establishment Act 1991 s 3(1), Schedule para 1 is treated for the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 as a Crown interest in those premises: Atomic Weapons Establishment Act 1991 Schedule para 10.

2 For these purposes, 'Crown land' means land in which there is a Crown interest or a Duchy interest; and 'Duchy interest' means an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster, or belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 31(3) (as originally enacted). For the meaning of 'land' para 1216 note 6 post.

The Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 applies to land in which an interest is held by or on behalf of a visiting force or headquarters and which is used for the purposes of that force or headquarters to the extent that it applies to Crown land: Visiting Forces and International Headquarters (Application of Law) Order 1999, SI 1999/1736, art 11(1). In its application to such land, the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 has effect as if any reference in that Act to: (1) 'Crown land' included a reference to such land; (2) 'the Crown' included a reference to the visiting force or headquarters; and (3) 'the appropriate authority' was a reference to the Ministry of Defence: Visiting Forces and International Headquarters (Application of Law) Order 1999, SI 1999/1736, art 11(2).

3 le the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 ss 4-29 (as amended) (see PARA 1221 et seq post) except s 22 (as amended) (see PARA 1286 post).

4 Ibid s 31(1). Section 31(1) assumes that the Crown is already exempt in respect of its own interests in Crown land and preserves the Crown exemption in respect of those interests: Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food v Jenkins [1963] 2 QB 317, [1963] 2 All ER 147, CA. Where a Crown body wishes to keep or use a hazardous substance in circumstances which would otherwise have required hazardous substances consent, similar procedures to those pertaining to a hazardous substances consent application should be followed, but on a non-statutory basis: see ODPM Circular 04/2000 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 97; National Assembly for Wales Circular 20/01 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 95. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

A person who is entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing is treated for the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 31(1) as having an interest in land: s 31(4). As to the application of s 31 to land which is ecclesiastical property see PARA 1217 post; and as to the power of the council of a county to direct that any expenses incurred by it under s 31 shall be treated as special expenses see PARA 1225 post.

5 For these purposes, 'the appropriate authority', in relation to any land (1) in the case of land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown and forming part of the Crown Estate, means the Crown Estate Commissioners and, in relation to any other land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown, means the government department having the management of that land; (2) in relation to land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster, means the Chancellor of the Duchy; (3) in relation to land belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall, means such person as the Duke of Cornwall, or the possessor for the time being of the Duchy of Cornwall, appoints; (4) in the case of land belonging to a government department or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department, means that department: ibid s 31(5) (as originally enacted). If any question arises as to what authority is the appropriate authority in relation to any land, that question must be referred to the Treasury, whose decision is final: s 31(6). As to the Crown Estate see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 278 et seq; and as to the Crown Estate Commissioners see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 280.

6 le under ibid s 14 (see PARA 1260 post), s 15 (as amended) (see PARA 1261 post), s 24 (as amended) (see PARAS 1270-1274 post) or s 26AA (as added) (see PARA 1283 post).

7 Ibid s 31(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 25, Sch 3 para 31). In relation to Wales, the functions under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 31(2) (as so amended) are exercisable by the National Assembly for Wales concurrently with any Minister of the Crown by whom they are exercisable: see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended). As to the service of notices see PARA 1212 ante at head (5) in the text.

8 le as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see PARA 4 ante.

9 See ibid ss 79(4), 120, Sch 3 para 8(1), (2), Sch 9. At the date at which this title states the law, those repeals were not in force.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/16. HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(3) OTHER SPECIAL CASES/1216. Application of statutory provisions to certain authorities and persons.

(3) OTHER SPECIAL CASES

1216. Application of statutory provisions to certain authorities and persons.

The provisions of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 have effect, subject to such exceptions and modifications as may be prescribed¹, in relation to granting hazardous substances consent² for authorities which are hazardous substances authorities³.

Subject to certain provisions relating to deemed consent⁴, any such regulations may in particular provide for securing that:

- 4445 (1) any application by such an authority for hazardous substances consent in respect of the presence of a hazardous substance⁵ on, over or under land⁶ shall be made to the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁸ and not to the hazardous substances authority⁹;
- 4446 (2) any order or notice authorised to be made, issued or served under those provisions shall be made, issued or served by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly and not by the hazardous substances authority¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'prescribed' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 16 note 5 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(1), (2).

2 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'hazardous substances consent' means consent required by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 4 (as amended) (see PARA 1234 post): s 39(1), (2).

3 Ibid s 30(1) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 162(2), Sch 16 Pt VII). For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'hazardous substances authority' is to be construed in accordance with the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 1 (as amended) (see PARA 1219 post) and s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1220 post): s 39(1), (2) (amended by Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 144, Sch 13 paras 1, 2(7)). Where a National Park authority is the local planning authority for any National Park, it is the hazardous substances authority for that Park: see the Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 14; and PARAS 1219-1220 post. As to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

4 Ie subject to the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 12 (as amended): see PARA 1254 post.

5 As to the prescribed hazardous substances see PARA 1230 et seq post.

6 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'land' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 2 note 10 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(1), (2).

7 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

8 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 30 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

9 Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 30(2)(a). Any application by a hazardous substances authority for hazardous substances consent must be made to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly (Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 26(1)); and regs 5-8 (see PARAS 1238-1240, 1242, 1258, 1264 post) apply to the making of such applications as they apply to applications made to a hazardous substances authority (reg 26(2)).

For the purpose of reg 23 (see PARA 1222 post), an application made to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly by a hazardous substances authority is treated as an application made to the hazardous substances authority and referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 20 (as amended) (see PARA 1248 post): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 26(3).

The Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 9 (as amended) (see PARA 1244 post), other than s 9(2)(e) (as amended), applies in relation to an application made to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly by a hazardous substances authority as it applies in relation to an application made to a hazardous substances authority: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 26(4).

For the purpose of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 22 (as amended) (see PARA 1286 post), a decision of the Secretary of State or of the Assembly on an application made to him or to it by a hazardous substances authority is treated as a decision under s 20 (as amended): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 26(5).

1217. Ecclesiastical property.

Where, under any provisions of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990, a notice or copy of a notice is required to be served on an owner¹ of land² and the land is ecclesiastical property³, a similar notice or copy of a notice must be served on the Church Commissioners⁴.

Where the fee simple of any ecclesiastical property is in abeyance and the property is situated in England, the fee simple is treated⁵ as being vested in the Church Commissioners⁶.

Any compensation payable⁷ in respect of land which is ecclesiastical property where a hazardous substances consent⁸ is revoked or modified must:

4447 (1) in the case of land which is not diocesan glebe land, be paid to the Church Commissioners; and

and must, in either case, be applied by them for the purposes for which the proceeds of a sale by agreement of the land would be applicable under any enactment¹⁰ or Measure authorising or disposing of the proceeds of such a sale¹¹.

1 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'owner' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 17 note 1 ante); Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(1), (2). Section 39(2) does not, however, affect the meaning of 'owner' in s 8 (see PARA 1241 post): s 39(2).

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1216 note 6 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'ecclesiastical property' means land belonging to an ecclesiastical benefice, or being or forming part of a church subject to the jurisdiction of a bishop of any diocese or the site of such a church, or being or forming part of a burial ground subject to such jurisdiction or being diocesan glebe land; and 'diocesan glebe land' has the same meaning as in the Endowments and Glebe Measure 1976 (see ECCLESIASTICAL LAW): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 34(4) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 70(b), Sch 15 para 32(2)).

5 Ie for the purposes of ibid s 8 (see PARA 1241 post), s 22 (as amended) (see PARA 1286 post), s 31(1) (prospectively repealed; see PARA 1214 ante), so far as it applies to s 8, and s 34 (as amended), and any other provisions of the planning Acts so far as they apply, or have effect for the purposes of, any of those provisions. For the meaning of 'the planning Acts' see PARA 2 ante.

- 4450 (2) the Civil Aviation Authority¹¹;

Where, however, the National Park authority is the local planning authority⁵ for any National Park, that authority, and no other authority, is the hazardous substances authority for land in the relevant Park⁶.

1 le except in cases where the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 3 (as amended) applies: see PARA 1220 post.

2 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'London borough' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 28 note 7 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(1), (2).

The provisions of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 ss 1, 3 (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-4 supra; and PARA 1220 post) are designed to ensure that the hazardous substances authority will usually be the same council or other body that would act as the local planning authority in dealing with any associated application for planning permission. This will help ensure consistency in the handling of any linked applications: see ODPM Circular 04/2000 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 15. - 4464 (1) Part 1 must contain a copy of every application for hazardous substances consent³ made to the hazardous substances authority and not finally determined⁴;
- 4465 (2) Part 2 must contain, in respect of every application for hazardous substances consent made to the hazardous substances authority:
 - 332 100. (a) a copy of the application;
 - 101. (b) particulars of any direction to refer the application given⁵ by the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁷;
 - 102. (c) the decision, if any, of the authority, including details of any conditions subject to which consent was granted, and the date of the decision;
 - 103. (d) the reference number, date and effect of any decision⁸ of the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁹;
 - 333
- 4466 (3) Part 3 must contain a copy of every order revoking or modifying hazardous substances consent made by the hazardous substances authority and the date and effect of any confirmation¹⁰ by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly¹¹;
- 4467 (4) Part 4 must contain, in respect of every hazardous substances consent deemed to be granted in respect of the established presence of a hazardous substance¹², a copy of the relevant claim form¹³;
- 4468 (5) Part 5 must contain a copy of every hazardous substances consent deemed to have been granted by virtue of a direction given¹⁴ by a government department¹⁵;
- 4469 (6) Part 6 must contain a copy of any temporary exemption direction¹⁶ sent to the authority by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly¹⁷.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly grants hazardous substances consent¹⁸ on the determination of an appeal against a hazardous substances contravention notice¹⁹, the hazardous substances authority for the land covered by the consent must enter the date and effect of that decision in Part 2 of the register²⁰.

Every entry in the register must be made within 14 days of the relevant information being available to the hazardous substances authority²¹.

The register must include an index to enable any person to trace an entry in the register²²; and the register must be kept at the principal office of the hazardous substances authority²³.

This is compiled from information supplied by hazardous substances authorities to the Health and Safety Executive ('HSE') when they consult on applications for consent, and notify the Executive of subsequent decisions. It is important therefore that hazardous substances authorities notify decisions to HSE as quickly as possible after they are taken. Hazardous substances authorities should also notify HSE of every claim made for a deemed hazardous substances consent: see ODPM Circular 04/2000 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 78. HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(5) ADMINISTRATIVE AND FINANCIAL PROVISIONS/1223. Receipt of applications by hazardous substances authority.

1223. Receipt of applications by hazardous substances authority.

When the hazardous substances authority¹ receives an application for hazardous substances consent² or an application for any consent, agreement or approval required by a condition imposed on a grant of hazardous substances consent, it must, as soon as practicable, acknowledge receipt in writing³.

Where, in the opinion of the hazardous substances authority, the application is invalid, the authority must, as soon as practicable, notify the applicant of its opinion, giving its reasons⁴.

For these purposes⁵, an application for hazardous substances consent is taken to have been received when each of the following events has occurred:

- 4470 (1) the application form⁶ has been served on the hazardous substances authority;
- 4471 (2) any certificate or documents required⁷ have been served on that authority; and
- 4472 (3) any fee required to be paid⁸ in respect of the application has been paid to that authority and, for this purpose, lodging a cheque for the amount of a fee is to be taken as payment⁹.

1224. Health and safety requirements.

Nothing in: (1) any hazardous substances consent¹ granted or deemed to be granted or having effect by virtue of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990; or (2) any hazardous substances contravention notice² issued³, may require or allow anything to be done in contravention of any of the relevant statutory provisions relating to health and safety⁴ or any prohibition notice⁵ or improvement notice⁶ served under or by virtue of any of those provisions⁷.

To the extent that such a consent or notice purports to require or allow any such thing to be done, it is void⁸. Where it appears to a hazardous substances authority⁹ which has granted, or is deemed to have granted, a hazardous substances consent or which has issued a hazardous substances contravention notice that the consent or notice or part of it is so rendered void, the authority must, as soon as is reasonably practicable, consult¹⁰ the Health and Safety Executive¹¹ with regard to the matter¹². If the Health and Safety Executive advises the authority that the consent or notice is rendered wholly void, the authority must revoke the consent or notice¹³; and, if the Executive advises that part of the consent or notice is rendered void, the authority must so modify the consent or notice as to render it wholly operative¹⁴.

1 As to hazardous substances consent see PARA 1234 post.

2 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'hazardous substances contravention notice' means such a notice as is mentioned in the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 24(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1270 post): s 39(1), (2).

Where: (1) compensation is payable by a local authority¹ under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 in consequence of any decision or order given or made² thereunder; and (2) that decision or order was given or made wholly or partly in the interest of a service which is provided by a government department³ and the cost of which is defrayed out of money provided by Parliament, the minister⁴ responsible for the administration of that service may pay to that authority a contribution of such amount as he may with the consent of the Treasury determine⁵. In relation to Wales, this function is exercisable by the National Assembly for Wales⁶ concurrently with any Minister of the Crown by whom it is exercisable and the Assembly does not require Treasury consent⁷.

Any local authority and any statutory undertakers⁸ may contribute towards any expenses incurred by a hazardous substances authority⁹ in or in connection with the performance of any of its statutory¹⁰ functions¹¹.

Where any expenses are incurred by a local authority in the payment of compensation payable in consequence of anything done under the relevant statutory provisions¹², the Secretary of State¹³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may, if it appears to him or to it to be expedient to do so, require any other local authority to contribute towards those expenses such sum as appears to him or to the Assembly to be reasonable, having regard to any benefit accruing to that authority by reason of the proceeding giving rise to the compensation¹⁴.

The council of a county¹⁵ may direct that any expenses incurred by it under the specified statutory provisions¹⁶ are to be treated as special expenses of a county council chargeable upon such part of the county as may be specified in the directions¹⁷.

There must be paid out of money provided by Parliament any expenses of the Secretary of State or the Assembly or any government department under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990¹⁸.

Any sums received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly under that Act must be paid into the Consolidated Fund¹⁹, except that sums received by the Assembly under any statutory provision for the making of payments or loans to the Assembly by a Minister of the Crown or a government department are not required to be paid into the Consolidated Fund²⁰.

(6) RIGHTS OF ENTRY

1227. Right of entry without warrant.

Any person duly authorised in writing by a hazardous substances authority¹ or by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³ may at any reasonable time enter any land⁴:

- 4475 (1) for the purpose of surveying⁵ it in connection with:
336
- 106. (a) any application for hazardous substances consent⁶;
- 107. (b) any proposal to issue a hazardous substances contravention notice⁷;
- 337
- 4476 (2) for the purpose of ascertaining whether an offence in connection with hazardous substances control⁸ appears to have been committed⁹; and may so enter any land in respect of which a hazardous substances contravention notice or a stop notice¹⁰ has been issued for the purpose of ascertaining whether the notice has been complied with¹¹.

Any person who is an officer of the Valuation Office¹² or a person authorised in writing by a hazardous substances authority may at any reasonable time enter any land for the purpose of surveying it, or estimating its value, in connection with a claim for compensation made by virtue of the specified statutory provisions¹³ in respect of that land or any other land¹⁴.

The authority of the appropriate minister¹⁵ is required for the carrying out of works in the exercise of a power under the above provisions if (i) the land in question is held by statutory undertakers¹⁶; and (ii) they object to the proposed works on the ground that the execution of the works would be seriously detrimental to the carrying on of their undertaking¹⁷. In relation to Wales, this function of the appropriate minister is transferred to the Assembly only to the extent of its operation in cases where the Environment Agency¹⁸ and water and sewerage undertakers¹⁹ are deemed to be the statutory undertakers²⁰.

As from a day to be appointed²¹, the above rights of entry²² apply to Crown land²³ subject to the following modifications²⁴. A person must not enter Crown land unless he has the relevant permission²⁵; and relevant permission is the permission of (A) a person appearing to the person seeking entry to the land to be entitled to give it; or (B) the appropriate authority²⁶.

1228. Right of entry under warrant.

If it is shown to the satisfaction of a justice of the peace on sworn information in writing:

- 4477 (1) that there are reasonable grounds for entering any land¹ for any of the statutory purposes²; and
- 4478 (2) that admission to the land has been refused³ or a refusal is reasonably apprehended, or the case is one of urgency, the justice may issue a warrant authorising any person duly authorised in writing by a hazardous substances authority⁴ to enter the land⁵.

A warrant authorises entry on one occasion only and that entry must be:

- 4479 (a) within one month from the date of the issue of the warrant; and
- 4480 (b) at a reasonable hour, unless the case is one of urgency⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1216 note 6 ante.

2 Ie for any of the purposes mentioned in the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 36 (as amended): see PARA 1227 ante.

1229. Additional rights and duties on exercise of power of entry.

A person authorised to enter land¹ in pursuance of a right of entry conferred under or by virtue of the relevant statutory provisions²:

- 4481 (1) must, if so required, produce evidence of his authority and state the purpose of his entry before so entering;
- 4482 (2) may take with him such other persons as may be necessary; and
- 4483 (3) on leaving the land must, if the owner³ or occupier is not then present, leave it as effectively secured against trespassers as he found it⁴.

Any person who wilfully obstructs a person acting in the exercise of such a right of entry is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁵.

If any person who enters any land, in exercise of such a right of entry, discloses to any person any information obtained by him while on the land as to any manufacturing process or trade secret, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or to both, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum⁶; but this provision does not apply if the disclosure is made by a person in the course of performing his duty in connection with the purpose for which he was authorised to enter the land⁷.

If any damage is caused to land or chattels in the exercise of a right of entry or a power conferred⁸ in connection with such a right, compensation may be recovered by any person suffering the damage from the authority which gave the written authority for the entry or, as the case may be, from the Secretary of State⁹ or, in relation to Wales, from the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰.

PARAS 1009-1508)/16. HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(7) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES AND CONTROLLED QUANTITIES/1230. Power to prescribe hazardous substances.

(7) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES AND CONTROLLED QUANTITIES

1230. Power to prescribe hazardous substances.

For the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990, the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales²:

- 4484 (1) must by regulations specify:
108. (a) the substances that are hazardous substances; and
109. (b) the quantity which is to be the controlled quantity of any such substance;
and
4485 (2) may by regulations provide that, except in such circumstances as may be prescribed, all hazardous substances falling within a group specified in the regulations are to be treated as a single substance³.

Regulations which are made by virtue of head (1)(a) above, or which are made by virtue of head (1)(b) above and reduce the controlled quantity of a substance, may make such transitional provision as appears to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly to be appropriate⁴.

Any such regulations may make different provision for different cases or descriptions of cases⁵.

In the exercise of these powers, and prior to the transfer of functions in relation to Wales to the Assembly⁶, the Secretary of State has made regulations prescribing hazardous substances and controlled quantities, Schedule 1 to which classifies them under three headings:

- 4486 (i) named substances (Part A)⁷;
4487 (ii) categories of substances and preparations not specifically named (Part B)⁸;
4488 (iii) substances used in an industrial chemical process (Part C)⁹.

Substances, mixtures and preparations specified in column 1 of Part A, falling within a category in column 1 of Part B or meeting the description in column 1 of Part C of that Schedule and present as raw materials, by-products, residues or intermediates are hazardous substances for the purposes of the 1990 Act¹⁰. The quantity specified in column 2 of that Schedule is the controlled quantity of the corresponding hazardous substance in column 1 of that Schedule for the statutory purposes¹¹.

¹ As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

² As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 5, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

³ Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 5(1). As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 1213 ante; and as to when two or more bodies corporate are treated as one person for the purposes of s 5 see PARA 1234 note 5 post.

1231. Part A; named substances.

At the date at which this title states the law, 63 named substances are prescribed in Part A of Schedule 1 to the relevant regulations¹, together with their controlled quantity in tonnes² and the quantity for the purposes of determining the controlled quantity where hazardous substances are added together³. For these purposes, and for the purposes of the categories of substances and preparations not specifically named and prescribed in Part B of that Schedule⁴, mixtures and preparations are to be treated in the same way as pure substances provided they remain within the concentration limits set according to their properties⁵, unless a percentage composition or other description is specifically given⁶. In the case of substances and preparations with properties giving rise to more than one classification the lowest thresholds apply⁷.

Where a substance or group of substances listed in Part A also falls within a category of Part B, the controlled quantities set out in Part A must be used⁸.

1 See the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 3, Sch 1 Pt A col 1 (reg 3(1), Sch 1 substituted by SI 1999/981; amended by SI 2005/1082); and note 3 infra.

2 See the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 1 Pt A col 2 (as substituted: see note 1 supra); and note 3 infra. The controlled quantity is referred to as 'Q': see Sch 1 Pt A col 2 (as so substituted).

3 See ibid Sch 1 Pt A col 3 (as substituted: see note 1 supra). The quantity for these purposes is referred to as 'Q starred': see Sch 1 Pt A col 3 (as so substituted). The addition of hazardous substances to determine the controlled quantity must be carried out according to the prescribed addition rule: see Sch 1 notes to Pts A and B, note 4 (as so substituted). The addition rule in note 4 (as so substituted) applies for the following circumstances: (1) for substances and preparations appearing in Pt A at quantities less than their individual controlled quantity present with substances having the same classification from Pt B, and the addition of substances and preparations with the same classification from Pt B; (2) for the addition of categories 1, 2 and 10 from Pt B present together; (3) for the addition of categories 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 from Pt B present together: Sch 1 notes to Pts A and B, note 5 (as so substituted). For guidance on these rules regarding aggregate quantities see ODPM Circular 04/2000 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances paras 30-33; National Assembly for Wales Circular 20/01 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances paras 28-31. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(7) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES AND CONTROLLED QUANTITIES/1233. Part C; substances used in an industrial chemical process.

1233. Part C; substances used in an industrial chemical process.

Where it is believed that a substance ('HS'), which is within Part A or Part B of Schedule 1 to the relevant regulations¹, may be generated during loss of control of an industrial chemical process², any substance ('S') which is used in that process is prescribed by Part C of that Schedule as a hazardous substance for the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990³. The controlled quantity so prescribed in relation to that substance is the amount of S which it is believed may generate, on its own or in combination with other substances used in the relevant industrial chemical process, the controlled quantity of the HS in question⁴.

Where a substance falling within Part A or B of Schedule 1 to the regulations also falls within Part C, the classification with the lowest controlled quantity will apply⁵.

1233 Part C; substances used in an industrial chemical process

TEXT AND NOTES--SI 1992/656 Sch 1 substituted in relation to England: SI 2009/1901.

(8) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONSENT

(i) Requirement of Consent and Exemptions

1234. Requirement of hazardous substances consent.

Subject to the provisions of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990, the presence of a hazardous substance¹ on, over or under land² requires the consent of the hazardous substances authority³ ('hazardous substances consent')⁴; but this does not apply if the aggregate quantity of the substance:

4500 (1) on, over or under the land;

4501 (2) on, over or under other land which is controlled by the same person⁵ and which, in all the circumstances, including in particular the purposes for which the land and the land mentioned in head (1) above is used, forms with the land so mentioned a single establishment⁶;

- 4502 (3) on, over or under other land which is within 500 metres of the land mentioned in head (1) above and controlled by the same person; or
- 4503 (4) in or on a structure controlled by the same person any part of which is within 500 metres of the land mentioned in head (1) above, is less than the quantity prescribed⁷ as the controlled quantity for that substance⁸.

For these purposes, a quantity of a substance which falls within more than one of heads (1) to (4) above must only be counted once⁹; and the temporary presence of a hazardous substance while it is being transported from one place to another is not to be taken into account unless:

- 4504 (a) it is unloaded; or
- 4505 (b) it is present on, over or under land in respect of which there is a hazardous substances consent for any substance, or in respect of which, not taking into account the quantity of the substance being transported, there is required to be such a consent for any substance¹⁰.

The Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹² may by regulations provide that hazardous substances consent is not required or is only required:

- 4506 (i) in relation to land of prescribed descriptions;
- 4507 (ii) by reason of the presence of hazardous substances in prescribed circumstances¹³.

Any such regulations may make different provision for different cases or descriptions of cases¹⁴.

Hazardous substances consent may be granted on an application¹⁵ or may be deemed¹⁶ to have been granted¹⁷.

1 As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 1216 note 1 ante.

3 As to hazardous substances authorities see PARAS 1219-1220 ante.

4 Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 ss 4(1), 39(1).

5 For the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 ss 4-21, 23-26 (as amended) (see PARA 1230 ante; the text and notes 6-17 infra; and PARA 1237 et seq post), any two bodies corporate are to be treated as being one person if (1) one of them is a body corporate of which the other is a subsidiary, within the meaning of the Companies Act 1985 s 736 (as substituted) (see COMPANIES vol 14 (2009) PARA 25); or (2) both of them are subsidiaries, within the meaning of that Act, of one and the same body corporate: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(3).

6 There is no precise limit to the distance that may exist between areas of land that may be considered to constitute a single 'establishment' by virtue of ibid s 4(2)(aa) (as added) (see head (2) in the text); in most cases it should be clear what constitutes the 'establishment' having regard to all the circumstances but, eg, in cases where facilities shared by other establishments are involved, this may be more difficult to establish: see ODPM Circular 04/2000 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 19; National Assembly for Wales Circular 20/01 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 17. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

13 Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 4(4). In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of planning functions in Wales to the Assembly (see note 12 supra), the Secretary of State made the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 4 (as substituted): see PARA 1235 post. 1234 Requirement of hazardous substances consent NOTE 5--Reference to Companies Act 1985 s 736 now to Companies Act 2006 s 1159: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 39(3) (amended by SI 2009/1941).

Hazardous substances consent¹ is not required:

4508 (1) for the temporary presence of a hazardous substance² during the period between its being unloaded from one means of transport and loaded onto another while it is being transported from one place to another unless it is present on, over or under land³ in respect of which there is a hazardous substances consent for any substance, or in respect of which, not taking into account the quantity of the substance being transported, there is required to be such a consent for any substance⁴;

4509 (2) for the presence of a hazardous substance contained in an exempt pipeline⁵ or a service pipe⁶;

- 4510 (3) for the presence of a hazardous substance which has been unloaded from a ship or other sea going craft in an emergency⁷ until the expiry of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which it was so unloaded⁸;
- 4511 (4) for the presence of a hazardous substance on, over or under land at a waste land-fill site⁹;
- 4512 (5) for the presence of a hazardous substance which creates a hazard from ionising radiation¹⁰ if present on, over or under land in respect of which a nuclear site licence has been granted or is required for the purposes¹¹ of the Nuclear Installations Act 1965¹².

The presence of a substance to which heads (1) to (5) above apply is not be taken into account when calculating the quantity of a hazardous substance present on, over or under land for any of the statutory¹³ purposes¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'hazardous substances consent' see PARA 1234 ante.

2 As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante

3 The presence of a quantity of a hazardous substance (other than that of a substance numbered 6, 14, 35 and 39 in the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 3(1), Sch 1 Pt A col 1 (as substituted) (see PARA 1231 ante) (1) in a location where it cannot act as an initiator of a major accident elsewhere on the relevant site; and (2) which is equal to or less than 2% of the relevant controlled quantity for that substance, is not to be taken into account when calculating the quantity of a hazardous substance present, on, over or under land for any purpose of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 or the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656: reg 4(6) (reg 4 substituted by SI 1999/981). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1216 note 6 ante. For these purposes, 'major accident' means an occurrence (including in particular, a major emission, fire or explosion) resulting from uncontrolled developments in the course of any operation carried out on, over or under land in respect of which there is or is required to be a hazardous substances consent and leading to serious danger to human health or the environment, immediate or delayed, and involving one or more hazardous substances; and the expressions 'initiator', 'major emission, fire or explosion', 'resulting from uncontrolled developments' and 'leading to serious danger to human health or the environment, immediate or delayed' have the same meaning as in EC Council Directive 96/82 on the control of major-accident hazards involving dangerous substances (OJ L10, 14.10.97, p 13) (as amended) (the 'SEVESO II' Directive) (see PARA 1211 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, regs 2, 4(8) (c), (d) (as so substituted).

For guidance on the exemption in reg 4(6) (as so substituted) ('the 2% rule') see ODPM Circular 04/2000 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances paras 92-93; National Assembly for Wales Circular 20/01 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances paras 90-91. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'exempt pipeline' means a pipeline used to convey a hazardous substance to or from a site, but does not include (1) that part of the pipeline on, over, or under a site to which it has an outlet or inlet; (2) a service pipe; and 'service pipe' means a pipeline used by a gas transporter (within the meaning of the Gas Act 1986 s 7(1) (as substituted and amended)) to convey gas to an individual consumer from a main of that transporter: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 4(8)(a), (b) (as substituted (see note 3 supra); amended by virtue of the Utilities Act 2000 s 76(7)). The hazardous substances consent system does not apply to controlling the presence of substances in local or cross-country pipelines, to which the Pipelines Act 1962 and the relevant regulations continue to apply: see generally RAILWAYS, INLAND WATERWAYS AND CROSS-COUNTRY PIPELINES vol 39(1A) (Reissue) PARA 554 et seq.

6 Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 4(2) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

7 For these purposes a substance is to be treated as having been unloaded from a craft in an emergency if (1) it was unloaded from a craft to which a direction under the Dangerous Vessels Act 1985 s 3(1) (directions by Secretary of State to harbour master: see PORTS AND HARBOURS vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 698) applied; or (2) it was unloaded from a craft after having been brought into a harbour or harbour area, within the meaning of the Dangerous Substances in Harbour Areas Regulations 1987, SI 1987/37, reg 2, without requiring notification under reg 6(1) by virtue of an exemption under reg 6(5) (see PORTS AND HARBOURS vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 701): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 4(3) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

8 Ibid reg 4(3) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

9 Ibid reg 4(4) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). For these purposes, 'waste land-fill site' has the same meaning as in EC Council Directive 96/82 (OJ L10, 14.10.97, p 13) (as amended): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 4(8)(d) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). The presence of hazardous substances at such sites may be subject to controls exercised through the waste management licence issued by the Environment Agency: see generally ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH.

10 For these purposes, 'ionising radiation' has the same meaning as in EC Council Directive 96/82 (OJ L10, 14.10.97, p 13) (as amended): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 4(8)(d) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

11 Ie for the purposes of the Nuclear Installations Act 1965 s 1 (as amended): see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1487.

12 Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 4(5) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

13 Ie for any of the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 or the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656 (as amended): reg 4(7) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

Hazardous substances authorities should ensure they have an adequate supply of all the prescribed forms. It is open to applicants, if they so wish, to apply on forms they have produced themselves, provided that such forms accord with the prescribed format: see ODPM Circular 04/2000 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 36; National Assembly for Wales Circular 20/01 Planning Controls for Hazardous Substances para 34. As to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

1239. Fees for applications.

A fee is payable to a hazardous substances authority¹ on an application for hazardous substances consent² as follows:

- 4528 (2) if the application is not for a new consent without previous conditions⁴ and the quantity specified in the application as the maximum quantity proposed to be present exceeds twice the controlled quantity⁵, £400;
- 4529 (3) in all other cases, £250⁶.

Where, however, applications relating to the same site are made to two or more hazardous substances authorities, a fee is payable only to the authority in whose area the largest part of the site is situated; and the amount payable is the amount that would have been payable if application had fallen to be made to one authority in relation to the whole site⁷.

Any fee due in respect of an application must accompany the application when it is made to the hazardous substances authority⁸; and any fee so paid must be refunded if the application is rejected as invalidly made⁹.

1240. Publication of notices of applications.

Before making an application for hazardous substances consent¹ to the hazardous substances authority², the applicant must, during the 21-day period immediately preceding the application:

- 4530 (1) publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land to which the application relates is situated a notice of application in the prescribed form³;
- 4531 (2) post that notice on the land⁴ for not less than seven days during that 21-day period, sited and displayed in such a way as to be easily legible without entering onto the land⁵.

The notice so required must invite representations on the application to be made to the hazardous substances authority within 21 days of the publication or posting of the notice, as the case may be⁶.

An applicant is not, however, required to comply with head (2) above if:

- 4532 (a) he has no right of access or other rights in respect of the land which would enable him to post the notice as required; and
- 4533 (b) he has taken all reasonable steps to acquire such rights but has failed⁷.

The applicant is not treated as having failed to comply with head (2) above if the notice is, without any fault or intention of his, removed, obscured or defaced before the seven days referred to in head (2) above have elapsed, so long as he has taken reasonable steps for its protection and, if need be, replacement⁸.

An application for hazardous substances consent may not be entertained by the hazardous substances authority unless it is accompanied by:

- 4534 (i) a copy of the notice⁹ certified by, or on behalf of, the applicant as having been published in a local newspaper in accordance with head (1) above and specifying the name of the newspaper and the date of its publication; and
- 4535 (ii) the appropriate certificate in the prescribed form¹⁰, signed by or on behalf of the applicant¹¹.

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/ (8) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONSENT/(ii) Express Consent/1241. Certificates as to applicant's status; power to make regulations.

1241. Certificates as to applicant's status; power to make regulations.

Regulations under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 may provide that an application for hazardous substances consent¹ or an appeal against the refusal of such an application² or against the imposition of a condition³ on such a consent shall not be entertained unless it is accompanied by one of the following certificates in the prescribed form and signed by or on behalf of the applicant:

- 4536 (1) a certificate stating that, at the beginning of the period of 21 days ending with the date of the application, no person, other than the applicant, was the owner⁴ of any of the land to which the application relates;

- 4537 (2) a certificate stating that the applicant has given the requisite notice of the application to all the persons, other than himself, who, at the beginning of that period, were owners of any of the land to which the application relates;
- 4538 (3) a certificate stating that:
- 346
116. (a) the applicant is unable to issue a certificate in accordance with head (1) or head (2) above;
117. (b) he has given the requisite notice to such one or more of the persons mentioned in head (2) above as are specified in the certificate;
118. (c) he has taken such steps as are reasonably open to him, specifying them, to ascertain the names and addresses of the remainder of those persons but has been unable to do so;
- 347
- 4539 (4) a certificate stating that:
- 348
119. (a) the applicant is unable to issue a certificate in accordance with head (1) above;
120. (b) he has taken such steps as are reasonably open to him, specifying them, to ascertain the names and addresses of the persons mentioned in head (2) above but has been unable to do so⁵.
- 349

Where such provision is made, any such certificate as is mentioned in head (2) or head (3) above must set out the names of those persons to whom the applicant has given the requisite notice of the application, the addresses at which notice was given to them and the date of service of each such notice⁶.

Such regulations may require that any such certificate as is mentioned in head (3) or head (4) above shall also contain a statement that the requisite notice of the application, as set out in the certificate, has on a date specified in the certificate (which must not be earlier than the beginning of the period mentioned in head (1) above) been published in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land in question is situated⁷.

Such regulations may also require that, where an application is accompanied by such a certificate as is mentioned in head (2), head (3) or head (4) above, the hazardous substances authority⁸:

- 4540 (i) is not to determine the application before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the date appearing from the certificate to be the latest of the dates of service of notices as mentioned in the certificate or, if later, the date of publication of a notice as so mentioned;
- 4541 (ii) in determining the application, is to take into account any representations relating to it which are made to the authority before the end of that period by any person who satisfies the authority that he is an owner of any land to which the application relates; and
- 4542 (iii) is to give notice of its decision to every person who has made representations which the authority was required to take into account in accordance with head (ii) above⁹.

Such regulations may also make provision as to who is to be treated as the owner of land for the purposes of any provisions of the regulations¹⁰; and they may make different provision for different cases or descriptions of cases¹¹.

If any person:

- 4543 (A) issues a certificate which purports to comply with the requirements of regulations made by virtue of the above provisions and contains a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular; or
- 4544 (B) recklessly issues a certificate which purports to comply with those requirements and contains such a statement, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale¹².

1244. Consideration of applications.

Where an application is made to a hazardous substances authority¹ for hazardous substances consent², that authority may³:

- 4559 (1) grant hazardous substances consent, either unconditionally or subject to such conditions⁴ as it thinks fit; or
- 4560 (2) refuse hazardous substances consent⁵.

In dealing with such an application, the hazardous substances authority must have regard to any material considerations⁶ and, in particular, but without prejudice to the generality of the above:

- 4561 (a) to any current or contemplated use⁷ of the land⁸ to which the application relates;
- 4562 (b) to the way in which land in the vicinity is being used or is likely to be used;
- 4563 (c) to any planning permission⁹ that has been granted for development¹⁰ of land in the vicinity;
- 4564 (d) to the provisions of the development plan¹¹; and
- 4565 (e) to any advice which the Health and Safety Executive¹² has given¹³ following consultations¹⁴.

If an application relates to more than one hazardous substance, the authority may make different determinations in relation to each¹⁵.

A hazardous substances authority may not, however, so determine an application for hazardous substances consent before the expiry of:

- 4566 (i) the period or periods allowed¹⁶ for making representations; and 4567 (ii) where the authority is required to consult¹⁷, a period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the consultee is served with a copy of the application or, where the authority is required to consult more than one consultee, beginning with the date by which all consultees have been so served¹⁸.

1245. Power to impose conditions.

A hazardous substances authority¹ may² make the grant of hazardous substances consent³ conditional on the commencement or partial or complete execution of development⁴ on the land⁵ which is authorised by a specified planning permission⁶ or may grant hazardous substances consent subject to conditions with respect to any of the following:

- 4568 (1) how and where any hazardous substance⁷ to which the consent relates is to be kept or used;
- 4569 (2) the times between which any such substance may be present;
- 4570 (3) the permanent removal of any such substance:
- 352 124. (a) on or before a date specified in the consent; or
- 125. (b) before the end of a period specified in it and commencing on the date on which it is granted⁸.
- 353

A hazardous substances authority may only grant consent subject to conditions as to how a hazardous substance is to be kept or used if the conditions are conditions to which the Health and Safety Executive⁹ has advised the authority that any consent it might grant should be subject¹⁰.

It is the duty of a hazardous substances authority, when granting hazardous substances consent, to include in that consent in respect of each hazardous substance to which it relates a statement of all conditions relating to that substance subject to which the consent is granted¹¹.

It is the duty of a hazardous substances authority¹, when granting hazardous substances consent², to include in that consent:

- 4571 (1) a description of the land³ to which the consent relates;
- 4572 (2) a description of the hazardous substance⁴ or substances to which it relates;
- and
- 4573 (3) in respect of each hazardous substance to which it relates, a statement of the maximum quantity⁵ allowed by the consent to be present at any one time⁶.

Except in so far as it otherwise provides, any hazardous substances consent enures for the benefit of the land to which it relates and of all persons for the time being interested in the land⁷.

1247. Notification of decision.

A hazardous substances authority¹ must², within the prescribed period³, give the applicant written notice of its decision or notice that the application has been referred⁴ to the Secretary of State⁵ for determination by him or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ for determination by it⁷; and the period so prescribed is:

- 4574 (1) a period of eight weeks from the date when the application is received by the hazardous substances authority;
- 4575 (2) except where the applicant has already given notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, such extended period as may be agreed in writing by the applicant and the hazardous substances authority; or
- 4576 (3) where a fee due in respect of an application has been paid by a cheque which is subsequently dishonoured, the appropriate period specified in head (1) or head (2) above calculated without regard to any time between the date when the authority sent the applicant written notice of the dishonouring of the cheque and the date when the authority is satisfied that it has received the full amount of the fee⁸.

When a hazardous substances authority gives notice of a decision on an application, the notice must, where hazardous substances consent⁹ is refused or is granted subject to conditions¹⁰:

- 4577 (a) state, clearly and precisely, its full reasons for the refusal or for any condition imposed;
- 4578 (b) include a statement to the effect that, if the applicant is aggrieved by the decision, he may appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly¹¹ within six months of the date of the notice of the decision, or such longer period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may at any time allow¹².

The hazardous substances authority must, as soon as is practicable, inform the following persons of the terms of its decision:

- 4579 (i) the Health and Safety Executive¹³;
- 4580 (ii) the district¹⁴ or London borough¹⁵ council or county council¹⁶, where that council is not the hazardous substances authority concerned;
- 4581 (iii) any other consultees who have made representations to the authority on the application; and
- 4582 (iv) any owners who have made representations to the authority on the application¹⁷.

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/ (8) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONSENT/(ii) Express Consent/1248. Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly.

1248. Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions requiring applications for hazardous substances consent³ or applications for continuation of hazardous substances consent⁴ to be referred to him or to the Assembly instead of being dealt with by hazardous substances authorities⁵.

Such a direction:

- 4583 (1) may be given either to a particular hazardous substances authority or to hazardous substances authorities generally; and
- 4584 (2) may relate either to a particular application or to applications of a class specified in the direction⁶.

Any application in respect of which such a direction has effect must be referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly accordingly⁷. On referring any application to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly pursuant to such a direction, a hazardous substances authority must serve on the applicant a notice:

- 4585 (a) informing the applicant that the application has been referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly;
- 4586 (b) setting out the reasons given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for issuing the direction; and
- 4587 (c) containing a statement that the Secretary of State or the Assembly will, if the applicant so desires, give the applicant an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for that purpose⁸.

Before determining an application so referred to him or to it, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the hazardous substances authority so wishes, give to each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by it for the purpose⁹.

The decision of the Secretary of State or of the Assembly on any application so referred to him or to it is final¹⁰.

(iii) Deemed Consent

1249. Introduction.

Where a hazardous substance¹ was present on, over or under any land² at any time within the period of 12 months immediately preceding 1 June 1992³, a claim for deemed hazardous substances consent might be made before the end of a six-month transitional period from that date⁴. A claim was to be made in the prescribed form and to contain the prescribed information⁵ as to the presence of the substance during the 12-month period (referred to as 'the establishment period') and as to how and where it was kept and used while it was so present⁶. If it appeared to the hazardous substances authority⁷ that such a claim did not comply with those provisions, it was the authority's duty, before the end of the period of two weeks from its receipt of the claim, to notify the claimant that in the authority's opinion the claim was invalid and to give its reasons for that opinion⁸. Subject to that, and to certain other conditions⁹, the hazardous substances authority was deemed to have granted any hazardous substances consent which was so claimed¹⁰.

The Planning (Control of Major-Accident Hazards) Regulations 1999¹¹, which came into force on 20 April 1999¹², made a number of amendments to the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 and the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992¹³, in particular by prescribing new categories of hazardous substances and their controlled quantities¹⁴. The statutory provisions regarding deemed consent for the established presence of a hazardous substance enabled applications for such consent to be made before the end of a six-month period from 20 April 1999, where such consent would not previously have been required¹⁵, and are set out below in that context, although the time limit for making such applications has now expired¹⁶.

Deemed hazardous substances consent may also be granted where a government department or the National Assembly for Wales authorises certain development¹⁷. Such consent is discussed below¹⁸.

1 As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1216 note 6 ante.

3 Ie at any time within the establishment period: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 11(1). For these purposes, 'establishment period' meant the period of 12 months immediately preceding the relevant date; and 'the relevant date' means the date on which the Housing and Planning Act 1986 Pt IV (ss 30-39) came into force or, if Pt IV (ss 30-39) was not in force immediately before the date on which the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990, came into force, that date: s 11(8). The Housing and Planning Act 1986 ss 30-34 were repealed, without having been brought into force, by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 3, Sch 1 Pt I; the Housing and Planning Act 1986 Pt IV was thus not wholly in force on 1 June 1992 when the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 came into force: see s 41(3); and the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 (Commencement and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/725, art 3.

1250. Established presence of hazardous substance.

Where a hazardous substance¹ was present on, over or under any land² at any time within the establishment period³ for which hazardous substances consent was not required during that period, hazardous substances consent⁴ might be claimed in respect of its presence⁵.

A claim was be made in the prescribed form⁶ before the end of the transitional period⁷ and to contain the prescribed information⁸ as to the presence of the substance during the establishment period and as to how and where it was kept and used while it was so present⁹. If it appeared to the hazardous substances authority¹⁰ that a claim for hazardous substances consent did not comply with those provisions, it was the authority's duty, before the end of the period of two weeks from its receipt of the claim:

- 4588 (1) to notify the claimant that in the authority's opinion the claim was invalid;
and
- 4589 (2) to give its reasons for that opinion¹¹.

1251. Claim for deemed consent.

A claim for deemed consent in respect of the established presence of a hazardous substance¹ was:

- 4590 (1) to be made to the hazardous substances authority² in the prescribed form³;
- 4591 (2) to include the information specified by that form, a site map⁴ and, where applicable, a movable container storage area plan⁵ and a vessel location plan⁶ for each hazardous substance included in the claim;
- 4592 (3) to be accompanied by three copies of the form and the map and any plan submitted with it⁷.

The time limit for making such claims has now expired⁸.

1 Ie under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 11 (as amended): see PARA 1250 ante.

2 As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante.

3 For the prescribed form of claim see the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 14(1)(a), Sch 2, Form 8 (substituted by SI 1999/981). Schedule 2, Form 8 (as so substituted) includes two Tables, Table A and Table B. Table A contains three columns, one for listing hazardous substances present during the establishment period for which consent was not required during that period; one for the Part and entry number of the substance in reg 3(1), Sch 1 (as substituted) (see PARAS 1231-1233 ante) and one for the established quantity, ie the maximum quantity present during the establishment period: see Sch 2, Form 8 Pt 2, Table A and notes (as so substituted). Table B relates to vessel capacity, temperature and pressure, and contains a total of 11 numbered columns: see Sch 2, Form 8 Pt 4, Table B (as so substituted). As to the information given in Table B see further PARA 1253 the text and notes 2-7 post.

4 The site map so required must be a map, reproduced from, or based upon, an Ordnance Survey map with a scale of not less than 1 to 10,000, which identifies the land to which the claim relates and shows National Grid lines and reference numbers: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 14(2).

5 The movable container storage area plan so required must be a plan of the land to which the claim relates, drawn to a scale of not less than 1 to 2,500, which identifies any area of the site where the hazardous substance has been stored in movable containers at any time during the establishment period: ibid reg 14(3). For these purposes and for the purposes of the condition set out in reg 15, Sch 3 para 7(1) (see PARA 1253 post), no account is, however, to be taken of the storage of a hazardous substance in movable containers in an area if the quantity of the substance so stored in that area does not exceed 10% of the substance's controlled quantity: regs 2(3), 16(1).

As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances and the quantity which is to be the controlled quantity of a substance see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances and quantity so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante.

For these purposes, 'movable container' means any container designed or adapted to contain hazardous substances other than a vessel; and 'vessel' means any container designed or adapted to contain hazardous substances which is affixed to the land, and includes a container which forms part of plant or machinery which is affixed to the land but does not include a pipeline: reg 2(1).

6 The vessel location plan so required must be a plan of the land to which the claim related, drawn to a scale of not less than 1 to 2,500, which identifies any area of the site where the hazardous substance has been present in a vessel at any time during the establishment period; provided that (1) no point on the boundary of the area so identified may be more than 75 metres away from (a) a building which is or was within the area and which at any time during the establishment period contained a vessel in which the substance was present; (b) plant and machinery, other than pipe work, which is or was affixed to land within the area and which, at any time during the establishment period whilst it was affixed, was used for an industrial process involving the substance; or (c) a vessel which is or was located outside a building and within the area and in which, at any time during the establishment period whilst it was so located, the substance was present; (2) no area so identified may overlap with any other area so identified in respect of the same substance: ibid reg 14(4). For the meaning of 'establishment period' see PARA 1250 note 3 ante.

For the purposes of the 75-metre limit in head (1) supra, where a petroleum-spirit licence under the Petroleum (Consolidation) Act 1928 applying to the site was in force at any time during the establishment period, the reference to a vessel in which the hazardous substance was present includes, in relation to hazardous substances numbered 32 in the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 3(1), Sch 1 Pt A col 1 (as substituted) (see PARA 1231 ante), any vessel identified in the licence: regs 2(3), 16(2) (reg 16(2), (3) amended by SI 1999/981).

For the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 14(4) and the conditions set out in reg 15, Sch 3 paras 1-6 (as amended) (see PARA 1253 post), and for the purposes of completing reg 14(1)(a), Sch 2, Form 8 Table B (as substituted), no account is to be taken of the presence in a vessel of a hazardous substance if the quantity present in the vessel does not exceed 10% of the substance's controlled quantity: regs 2(3), 16(3) (as so amended).

1252. Deemed consent for established presence.

The hazardous substances authority¹ is deemed² to have granted any hazardous substances consent which was claimed³ in accordance with the statutory provisions⁴. Hazardous substances consent is, however, only to be deemed to be granted if an aggregate quantity of the substance not less than the controlled quantity⁵ was present at any one time within the establishment period⁶.

Hazardous substances consent which is deemed to be granted under these provisions is subject:

4593 (1) to the condition that the maximum aggregate quantity of the substance that may be present:

126. (a) on, over or under the land⁷ to which the claim for the consent relates;

127. (b) on, over or under other land which is controlled by the same person⁸ and which, in all the circumstances, including in particular the purposes for which the land and the land mentioned in head (a) above is used, forms with the land so mentioned a single establishment;

128. (c) on, over or under other land which is within 500 metres of the land mentioned in head (a) above and controlled by the same person; or

129. (d) in or on a structure controlled by the same person any part of which is within 500 metres of the land mentioned in head (a) above,

4595 (2) to such other conditions, if any, as are prescribed¹⁰ for these purposes and are applicable in the case of that consent, and in calculating whether the established quantity is exceeded, a quantity of a substance which falls within more than one of heads (a) to (d) above must only be counted once¹¹.

1253. Deemed consent conditions.

The following conditions are prescribed for the purposes of granting deemed consent for the established presence of a hazardous substance¹:

- 4596 (1) below ambient temperature vessel conditions²;
- 4597 (2) ambient temperature vessel conditions for buried or mounded vessels³;
- 4598 (3) ambient temperature vessel conditions for non-buried or non-mounded vessels⁴;
- 4599 (4) above ambient temperature vessel conditions⁵;
- 4600 (5) a vessel location condition⁶; and
- 4601 (6) movable container storage area conditions⁷.

The time limit for making claims for such deemed consent has now expired⁸.

1 The conditions described in heads (1)-(6) in the text are the prescribed conditions for the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 11(7)(b) (as substituted) (see PARA 1252 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 15. As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante.

2 See ibid reg 15, Sch 3 para 1 (Sch 3 amended by SI 1999/981). A hazardous substance may only be present at below ambient temperature in a vessel in a vessel area if: (1) it was present at below ambient temperature in a vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; (2) the vessel in which it is present does not have a greater capacity than the capacity specified in the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 1 (as substituted); and (3) the pressure at which it is present does not exceed: (a) atmospheric pressure, if the substance was not present at above atmospheric pressure at below ambient temperature in a vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; or (b) the pressure specified in Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 2 (as substituted), in any other case: Sch 3 para 1 (as so amended). As to the power to prescribe the quantity which is to be the controlled quantity of a substance see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the quantity so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante. As to the circumstances in which the presence of a hazardous substance in a vessel is not to be taken into account see PARA 1251 note 6 ante; for the meaning of 'vessel' see PARA 1251 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'establishment period' see PARA 1250 note 3 ante. For these purposes, 'vessel area' means an area identified in a vessel location plan in accordance with reg 14(4) (see PARA 1251 ante): regs 2(3), 16(7) (reg 16(4)-(8) amended by SI 1999/981). As to the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 2, Form 8 Table B (as substituted) see PARA 1251 note 3 ante.

For the purposes of the conditions set out in Sch 3 paras 1-5 (as so amended), and for the purpose of completing Sch 2, Form 8 Table B (as substituted), a hazardous substance is not treated as being present in a vessel at other than ambient temperature by virtue only of (i) the heating of the substance to maintain its fluidity during seasonal variations in temperature; or (ii) any cooling effect resulting from the vaporisation of the substance during the withdrawal of vapour from the vessel; or (iii) the presence of the substance at above or below ambient temperature on entry into the vessel, if the temperature of the substance is allowed to move to ambient temperature upon entry: reg 16(4) (as so amended). For these purposes, references to a column of Table B refer to the relevant column of Table B of the form on which the claim for deemed consent is made which applies to the relevant hazardous substance and vessel area: reg 16(8) (as so amended).

For the purposes of the conditions set out in Sch 3 paras 1-5 (as so amended), and for the purposes of completing Sch 2, Form 8 Table B (as substituted), a hazardous substance is not treated as being present at above atmospheric pressure unless the pressure at which it is present exceeds 1.5 bar absolute (reg 16(5) (as so amended)); and for the purposes of those conditions, no account is to be taken of an increase in pressure during the operation of a pressure relief system (reg 16(6)).

3 See ibid Sch 3 para 2 (as amended: see note 2 supra). A hazardous substance may only be present at ambient temperature in a buried or mounded vessel in a vessel area if: (1) it was present at ambient temperature in a buried or mounded vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; (2) the buried or mounded vessel in which it is present does not have a greater capacity than that specified in Sch

2, Form 8 Table B col 3 (as substituted); (3) the pressure at which it is present in the buried or mounded vessel does not exceed: (a) atmospheric pressure, if the substance was not present at above atmospheric pressure at ambient temperature in a buried or mounded vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; or (b) the pressure specified in Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 4 (as substituted) in any other case: Sch 3 para 2 (as so amended). For these purposes, 'buried or mounded vessel' includes a vessel which is only partially buried or mounded: reg 2(1).

4 See ibid Sch 3 para 3 (as amended: see note 2 supra). A hazardous substance may only be present at ambient temperature in a non-buried or non-mounded vessel in a vessel area if: (1) it was present at ambient temperature in a non-buried or non-mounded vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; (2) the non-buried or non-mounded vessel in which it is present does not have a greater capacity than that specified in Sch 3, Form 8 Table B col 5 (as substituted); (3) the pressure at which it is present in the non-buried or non-mounded vessel does not exceed: (a) atmospheric pressure, if the substance was not present at above atmospheric pressure at ambient temperature in a non-buried or non-mounded vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; or (b) the pressure specified in Sch 3, Form 8 Table B col 6 (as substituted), in any other case: Sch 3 para 3 (as so amended).

5 See ibid Sch 3 paras 4, 5 (as amended: see note 2 supra). A hazardous substance may only be present at above ambient temperature and at or below its boiling point at 1 bar absolute in a vessel in a vessel area if: (1) it was present at above ambient temperature and at or below its boiling point at 1 bar absolute in a vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; (2) the vessel in which it is present does not have a greater capacity than that specified in Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 7 (as substituted); and (3) the pressure at which it is present does not exceed: (a) atmospheric pressure, if the substance was not present at above atmospheric pressure at above ambient temperature and at or below its boiling point at 1 bar absolute in a vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; or (b) the pressure specified in Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 8 (as substituted), in any other case: Sch 3 para 4 (as so amended).

A hazardous substance may only be present at above its boiling point at 1 bar absolute in a vessel area if: (i) it was present at above its boiling point at 1 bar absolute in a vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; (ii) the temperature at which it is present does not exceed the temperature specified in Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 9 (as substituted); (iii) the vessel in which it is present does not have a greater capacity than that specified in Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 10 (as substituted); and (iv) the pressure at which it is present does not exceed: (A) atmospheric pressure, if the substance was not present at above atmospheric pressure at above its boiling point at 1 bar absolute in a vessel in that vessel area at any time during the establishment period; or (B) the pressure specified in Sch 2, Form 8 Table B col 11 (as substituted), in any other case: Sch 3 para 5 (as so amended).

6 See ibid Sch 3 para 6 (as amended: see note 2 supra). A hazardous substance may not be present in a vessel outside of a vessel area: Sch 3 para 6 (as so amended).

7 See ibid Sch 3 para 7 (as amended: see note 2 supra). A hazardous substance may only be stored in movable containers in an area identified in a movable container storage area plan for that substance in accordance with reg 14(3) (see PARA 1251 ante): Sch 3 para 7(1). The quantity of a hazardous substance stored in such an area may not exceed the maximum quantity of the substance stored in movable containers in that area at any time during the establishment period: Sch 3 para 7(2) (as so amended). A hazardous substance may not be stored in such an area in a movable container with a capacity in excess of: (1) 10% of the substance's controlled quantity, if it was not stored in a movable container with a capacity in excess of 10% of that quantity in that area at any time during the establishment period; or (2) the capacity of the largest movable container in which it was stored during that period in that area, in any other case: Sch 3 para 7(3).

8 See PARA 1250 the text and notes 3, 6-7 ante.

1253 Deemed consent conditions

NOTE 1--The conditions in heads (1)-(6) are now also prescribed for the purposes of the 1990 Act s 30B (see PARA 1257): SI 1992/656 reg 15 (amended by SI 2006/1283 (England), SI 2006/1388 (Wales)).

CONSENT/(iii) Deemed Consent/1254. Government authorisation.

1254. Government authorisation.

Where: (1) the authorisation of a government department¹ is required by virtue of an enactment² in respect of development³ to be carried out by a local authority⁴, or by statutory undertakers⁵ who are not a local authority; and (2) the development would involve the presence of a hazardous substance⁶ in circumstances requiring hazardous substances consent⁷, the department may, on granting that authorisation, also direct that hazardous substances consent shall be deemed to be granted subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the direction⁸.

For these purposes, development is taken to be authorised by a government department if:

- 4602 (a) any consent, authority or approval to or for the development is granted by the department in pursuance of an enactment;
- 4603 (b) a compulsory purchase order is confirmed by the department authorising the purchase of land⁹ for the purpose of the development;
- 4604 (c) consent is granted by the department to the appropriation of land for the purpose of the development or the acquisition of land by agreement for that purpose;
- 4605 (d) authority is given by the department for the borrowing of money for the purpose of the development, or for the application for that purpose of any money not otherwise so applicable; or
- 4606 (e) any undertaking is given by the department to pay a grant in respect of the development in accordance with an enactment authorising the payment of such grants; and references to the authorisation of a government department are to be construed accordingly¹⁰.

On granting a consent under the Electricity Act 1989¹¹ in respect of any operation or change of use¹² that would involve the presence of a hazardous substance in circumstances requiring hazardous substances consent, the Secretary of State¹³ may direct that hazardous substances consent shall be deemed to be granted, subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the direction¹⁴. This function in Wales is not transferred to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵.

On making an order under the Transport and Works Act 1992¹⁶ which includes any provision that would involve the presence of a hazardous substance in circumstances requiring hazardous substances consent, the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may direct that hazardous substances consent shall be deemed to be granted, subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the direction¹⁷.

The department or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult¹⁸ the Health and Safety Commission¹⁹ before giving any such direction²⁰.

A government department or the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as respects any hazardous substances consent deemed to be granted by virtue of directions under the above provisions, send to the hazardous substances authority²¹ concerned any such information as appears to be required by that authority for the purposes of a register kept²² by it²³.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/16. HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/ (8) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONSENT/(iv) Applications by the Crown/A. PROVISIONS BEFORE AMENDMENT BY THE 2004 ACT/1255. Application for hazardous substances consent in anticipation of disposal of Crown land.

(iv) Applications by the CrownA. PROVISIONS BEFORE AMENDMENT BY THE 2004 ACT1255. Application for hazardous substances consent in anticipation of disposal of Crown land.

At the date at which this title states the law, the following provisions have effect for the purpose of enabling Crown land¹, or an interest in Crown land, to be disposed² of with the benefit of hazardous substances consent³.

Notwithstanding the interest of the Crown in the land in question, an application for such consent may be made (1) by the appropriate authority⁴; or (2) by any person authorised by that authority in writing; and all the statutory provisions⁵ relating to the making and determination of such an application apply accordingly⁶ as if the land were not Crown land⁷.

Any hazardous substances consent so granted⁸ applies only:

- 4607 (a) to the presence of the substance to which the consent relates after the land in question has ceased to be Crown land; and
- 4608 (b) so long as that land continues to be Crown land, to the presence of the substance by virtue of a private interest in the land⁹.

The Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ may by regulations:

- 4609 (i) modify or exclude any of the statutory provisions referred to above¹² and any other statutory provisions in their application to consents granted by virtue of these provisions;
- 4610 (ii) make provision for requiring a hazardous substances authority¹³ to be notified of any disposal of, or interest in, any Crown land in respect of which such an application has been made; and
- 4611 (iii) make such other provision in relation to the making and determination of such applications as he or the Assembly thinks necessary or expedient¹⁴.

The above provisions are not to be construed as affecting any right to apply for hazardous substances consent in respect of Crown land in a case in which such an application can be made by virtue of a private interest in the land¹⁵.

As from a day to be appointed, however¹⁶, the provisions set out above are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹⁷ and the Crown may apply for hazardous substances consent regardless of whether disposal of the land in question is anticipated¹⁸.

1 The Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 31(3) (meaning of 'Crown land': see PARA 1214 note 2 ante) applies for these purposes as it applies for the purposes of s 31 (as amended): s 32(7). For the meaning of 'land' para 1216 note 6 ante.

2 For these purposes, references to the disposal of an interest in Crown land include references to the grant of an interest in such land: ibid s 32(6).

A person who is entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing is treated for these purposes as having an interest in land; and references to the disposal or grant of an interest in Crown land and to a private interest in such land are to be construed accordingly: s 32(8). 'Private interest' means an interest which is neither a Crown interest nor a Duchy interest: s 32(6). Section 31(3) (as originally enacted) (meanings of 'Crown interest' and 'Duchy interest' (see PARA 1214 notes 1-2 ante)) applies for these purposes as it applies for the purposes of s 31 (as amended): s 32(7).

3 Ibid s 32(1). For the meaning of 'hazardous substances consent' see PARA 1234 ante.

4 Ibid s 31(5) (as originally enacted) (meaning of 'the appropriate authority': see PARA 1214 note 5 ante) applies for these purposes as it applies for the purposes of s 31 (as amended): s 32(7).

5 For these purposes, 'statutory provisions' means provisions contained in or having effect under any enactment: ibid s 32(6)). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 1217 note 10 ante.

6 Ie subject to ibid s 32(3), (4): see the text and notes 7-14 infra.

1257. Transitional arrangements.

Partly as from a day to be appointed¹, the following transitional provisions apply if at any time during the establishment period² a hazardous substance³ was present on, over or under Crown land⁴. The appropriate authority⁵ must make a claim in the prescribed⁶ form before the end of the transitional period⁷. The claim must contain the prescribed information as to:

- 4612 (1) the presence of the substance during the establishment period;
- 4613 (2) how and where the substance was kept and used⁸.

Unless either of the statutory exceptions applies⁹, the hazardous substances authority¹⁰ is deemed to have granted the hazardous substances consent¹¹ so claimed¹².

The first statutory exception applies if the hazardous substances authority thinks that a claim does not comply with heads (1) and (2) above¹³. If that exception applies, the hazardous substances authority must, before the end of the period of two weeks starting with the date it received the claim, notify the claimant that the authority thinks the claim is invalid and give its reasons¹⁴.

The second statutory exception applies if at no time during the establishment period was the aggregate quantity of the substance equal to or greater than the controlled quantity¹⁵.

Hazardous substances consent which is deemed to be granted under these provisions is subject:

- 4614 (a) to the condition that the maximum aggregate quantity of the substance that may be present for these purposes¹⁶ at any one time must not exceed the established quantity¹⁷;
- 4615 (b) to such other conditions, if any, as are prescribed for these purposes and are applicable in the case of the consent¹⁸.

A. APPLICATION FOR CONSENT WITHOUT PREVIOUS CONDITIONS

1258. Mode of application.

An application for a hazardous substances consent without a condition subject to which a previous consent was granted¹ must²:

- 4616 (1) be made to the hazardous substances authority³ on the prescribed form⁴;
- 4617 (2) include the particulars specified in that form, a change of location plan, if required⁵, and particulars of the relevant consent⁶;
- 4618 (3) be accompanied by three copies of the form, the relevant consent, any plan submitted with it and the required⁷ notices and certificates⁸.

Where such an application relates to more than one relevant consent, particulars of each such consent must be included in the application⁹.

When the hazardous substances authority receives¹⁰ an application for hazardous substances consent, it must, as soon as practicable, acknowledge receipt in writing¹¹. Where, in the opinion of the hazardous substances authority, the application is invalid, the authority must, as soon as practicable, notify the applicant of the authority's opinion, giving its reasons¹².

1 le an application to which the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 13 (as amended) relates: see PARA 1259 post.

2 le subject to the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 26: see PARA 1216 note 9 ante.

5 A change of location plan is so required in the case of an application to which the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 13 (as amended) applies which relates to a condition restricting the location of a hazardous substance, and must be a plan of the land to which the application relates, drawn to a scale of not less than 1 to 2,500, which identifies the location of the hazardous substance at the date of the application and the proposed location requiring the application: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 5(6). As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante.

6 The relevant consent so referred to is the existing hazardous substances consent which applies to the hazardous substances to which the application applies; and the particulars of the relevant consent to be supplied are a copy of the consent, in the case of a consent granted on an application under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990, a copy of the relevant claim, in the case of a consent deemed to be granted under s 11 (as amended) (see PARA 1250 et seq ante) or a copy of the relevant direction, in the case of a consent deemed to be granted under s 12 (as amended) (see PARA 1254 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, regs 2(1), (2)(a), 5(8).

1259. Consideration of application.

The following provisions apply to an application for hazardous substances consent¹ without a condition subject to which a previous hazardous substances consent was granted².

On such an application the hazardous substances authority³ must consider only the question of the conditions subject to which hazardous substances consent should be granted⁴.

If, on such an application, the hazardous substances authority determines that:

- 4619 (1) hazardous substances consent should be granted subject to conditions differing from those subject to which the previous consent was granted; or
- 4620 (2) it should be granted unconditionally, it must grant hazardous substances consent accordingly⁵.

If, however, on such an application, the hazardous substances authority determines that hazardous substances consent should be granted subject to the same conditions as those subject to which the previous consent was granted, it must refuse the application⁶.

Where (a) hazardous substances consent has been granted or is deemed to have been granted for the presence on, over or under land⁷ of more than one hazardous substance⁸; and (b) an application under these provisions does not relate to all the substances, the hazardous substances authority must only have regard to any condition relating to a substance to which the application does not relate to the extent that it has implications for a substance to which the application does relate⁹.

Where: (i) more than one hazardous substances consent has been granted or is deemed to have been granted in respect of the same land; and (ii) an application under these provisions does not relate to all the consents, the hazardous substances authority must only have regard to any consent to which the application does not relate to the extent that it has implications for consent to which the application does relate¹⁰.

B. REVOCATION OR MODIFICATION OF CONSENT; IN GENERAL

1260. General power to revoke or modify consent.

The hazardous substances authority¹ may by order revoke a hazardous substances consent² or modify it to such extent as the authority considers expedient if it appears to the authority, having regard to any material consideration³, that it is expedient to revoke or modify it⁴.

The hazardous substances authority may also by order revoke a hazardous substances consent if it appears to the authority:

- 4621 (1) that there has been a material change of use⁵ of land⁶ to which a hazardous substances consent relates⁷; or
- 4622 (2) that planning permission has been granted for development⁸ the carrying out of which would involve a material change of use of such land and the development to which the permission relates has been commenced⁹; or
- 4623 (3) in the case of a hazardous substances consent which relates only to one substance, that that substance has not for at least five years been present on, over or under the land to which the consent relates in a quantity equal to or exceeding the controlled quantity¹⁰; or
- 4624 (4) in the case of a hazardous substances consent which relates to a number of substances, that none of those substances has for at least five years been so present¹¹.

1261. Confirmation by the Secretary of State or the Assembly of orders revoking or modifying consents.

An order¹ revoking or modifying a hazardous substances consent² does not have effect unless it is confirmed by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may confirm any such order submitted to him or to it either without modification or subject to such modification as he or the Assembly considers expedient⁵.

Where a hazardous substances authority⁶ submits such an order to Secretary of State or the Assembly for confirmation, the authority must serve notice of the order on:

- 4625 (1) any person who is an owner⁷ of the whole or any part of the land⁸ to which the order relates;
- 4626 (2) any person other than an owner who appears to the authority to be in control of the whole or any part of that land;
- 4627 (3) any other person who in its opinion will be affected by the order⁹.

Any such notice must specify the period, which must be not less than 28 days from the service of it, within which any person on whom the notice is served may require an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for that purpose¹⁰. If such a person so requires, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, before confirming the order, must give that person and the hazardous substances authority such an opportunity¹¹.

Where such an order has been confirmed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly, the hazardous substances authority must serve a copy of the order on every person who was entitled to be served with notice under heads (1) to (3) above¹².

1262. Compensation in respect of orders revoking or modifying consents.

Where an order is made¹ revoking or modifying a hazardous substances consent², then, if on a claim made to the hazardous substances authority³ within the prescribed⁴ time and in the prescribed manner it is shown that any person has suffered damage in consequence of the order:

4628 (1) by depreciation of the value of an interest to which he is entitled in the land⁵ or in minerals⁶ in, on or under it; or the authority must pay him compensation in respect of that damage⁷.

Any person who carries out any works in compliance with the order is entitled⁸, on making a claim⁹, to recover from the hazardous substances authority compensation in respect of any expenses reasonably incurred by him in that behalf¹⁰.

Any compensation so payable to a person must, however, be reduced by the value to him of any timber, apparatus or other materials removed for the purpose of complying with the order¹¹.

C. APPLICATION FOR CONTINUATION OF CONSENT1264. Application for continuation of hazardous substances consent.

An application for continuation of a hazardous substances consent¹ must:

- 4630 (1) be made to the hazardous substances authority² on the prescribed form³;
- 4631 (2) include the particulars specified in that form, a change of control plan⁴, and particulars of the relevant consent⁵;
- 4632 (3) be accompanied by three copies of the form, the relevant consent, the change of control plan and the required⁶ notices and certificates⁷.

Where such an application relates to more than one relevant consent, particulars of each such consent must be included in the application⁸.

Before making the application, the applicant must publicise it⁹ and it may not be entertained by the hazardous substances authority unless accompanied by the appropriate form relating to notification of owners¹⁰. The applicant must make a copy of the application available for inspection during the prescribed period or periods¹¹.

Where the hazardous substances authority receives¹² an application for hazardous substances consent, it must, as soon as practicable, acknowledge receipt in writing¹³. Where, in the opinion of the hazardous substances authority, the application is invalid, the authority must, as soon as practicable, notify the applicant of the authority's opinion, giving its reasons¹⁴.

1 le an application to which the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 17 relates: see PARA 1263 ante.

2 As to hazardous substances authorities see PARAS 1219-1220 ante.

3 For the prescribed form of application see the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, regs 2(2)(b), 5(3)(a), Sch 2, Form 2 (Form 2 substituted by SI 1999/981).

4 The change of control plan so required is a plan of the land to which the application relates, drawn to a scale of not less than 1 to 2,500, which identifies each area of the site under separate control after the proposed change of control: ibid reg 5(7).

5 The relevant consent so referred to is the existing hazardous substances consent which applies to the hazardous substance to which the application applies; and the particulars of the relevant consent to be supplied are a copy of the consent, in the case of a consent granted on an application under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990, a copy of the relevant claim, in the case of a consent deemed to be granted under s 11 (as amended) (see PARA 1250 et seq ante) or a copy of the relevant direction, in the case of a consent deemed to be granted under s 12 (as amended) (see PARA 1254 ante): Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 5(8).

6 The notices and certificates required under ibid reg 6 (see PARA 1240 ante) and reg 7 (see PARA 1242 ante).

Regulations 6-13 (as amended) (see PARA 1238 et seq, 1248 ante, PARA 1288 post) apply to applications made under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 17 as they apply to applications for hazardous substances consent: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 5(10).

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/ (8) HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONSENT/(v) Variation, Revocation and Continuation of Consent/C. APPLICATION FOR CONTINUATION OF CONSENT/1265. Fee for application.

1265. Fee for application.

A fee of £200 is payable to a hazardous substances authority¹ on an application² for continuation of hazardous substances consent³.

Where, however, applications relating to the same site are made to two or more hazardous substances authorities, a fee is payable only to the authority in whose area the largest part of the site is situated; and the amount payable is the amount that would have been payable if the application had fallen to be made to one authority in relation to the whole site⁴.

Any fee due in respect of an application must accompany the application when it is made to the hazardous substances authority⁵; and any fee so paid must be refunded if the application is rejected as invalidly made⁶.

1266. Powers on determination of application.

Where an application is made¹ for the continuation of a hazardous substances consent², the hazardous substances authority³ may:

- 4633 (1) modify⁴ the consent in any way it considers appropriate; or
- 4634 (2) revoke it⁵.

In dealing with such an application, the authority must have regard to any material consideration⁶ and, in particular, but without prejudice to the generality of the above:

- 4635 (a) to the matters to which a hazardous substances authority is required to have regard⁷ in dealing with an application for consent; and
- 4636 (b) to any advice which the Health and Safety Executive⁸ has given⁹ following consultations¹⁰.

If an application relates to more than one consent, the authority may make different determinations in relation to each¹¹; and, if a consent relates to more than one hazardous substance¹², the authority may make different determinations in relation to each¹³.

It is the duty of a hazardous substances authority, when continuing hazardous substances consent, to attach to the consent either:

- 4637 (i) a statement that it is unchanged in relation to specified matters¹⁴ included in it; or
- 4638 (ii) a statement of any change in respect of those matters¹⁵.

Where any application for the continuation of a hazardous substances consent is made¹⁶ to a hazardous substances authority, then, unless within such period as may be prescribed¹⁷, or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the hazardous substances authority, the hazardous substances authority either:

- 4639 (A) gives notice to the applicant of its decision on the application; or
- 4640 (B) gives notice to him that the application has been referred to the Secretary of State¹⁸ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁹ in accordance with directions given by either of them²⁰, the application is deemed to have been granted²¹.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions requiring applications for continuation of hazardous substances consent³ to be referred to him or to the Assembly instead of being dealt with by hazardous substances authorities⁴. These powers and their exercise have already been discussed in the context of applications for hazardous substances consent⁵.

(9) CONTRAVENTION OF HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTROL

(i) Offences; in general

1269. Offences.

If there is a contravention of hazardous substances control, the appropriate person¹ is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000². There is a contravention of hazardous substances control if:

- 4641 (1) a quantity of a hazardous substance³ equal to or exceeding the controlled quantity⁴ is or has been present on, over or under land and either:
- 356
130. (a) there is no hazardous substance consent⁵ for the presence of the substance; or
131. (b) there is hazardous substances consent for its presence but the quantity present exceeds the maximum quantity permitted by the consent;
- 357
- 4642 (2) there is or has been a failure to comply with a condition subject to which a hazardous substances consent was granted⁶.

In determining the amount of any fine to be imposed on a person convicted of such an offence, the court must in particular have regard to any financial benefit which has accrued or appears likely to accrue to him in consequence of the offence⁷.

In proceedings for any such offence it is a defence for the accused to prove that he took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to avoid commission of the offence, or that commission of the offence could be avoided only by the taking of action amounting to a breach of a statutory duty⁸.

In any proceedings for an offence consisting of a contravention falling within head (1) above, it is a defence for the accused to prove that at the time of the alleged commission of the offence he did not know, and had no reason to believe:

- 4643 (i) if the case falls within head (1)(a) above, that the substance was present or that it was present in a quantity equal to or exceeding the controlled quantity;
- 4644 (ii) if the case falls within head (1)(b) above, that the substance was present in a quantity exceeding the maximum quantity permitted by the consent⁹.

In any proceedings for an offence consisting of a contravention falling within head (2) above, it is a defence for the accused to prove that he did not know, and had no reason to believe, that there was a failure to comply with a condition subject to which hazardous substances consent had been granted¹⁰.

Failure to comply with a hazardous substances contravention notice¹¹ is also an offence; such offences are discussed below¹².

1 For these purpose, 'the appropriate person' means (1) in relation to a contravention falling within the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 23(2)(a) (see head (1) in the text): (a) any person knowingly causing the substance to be present on, over or under the land; (b) any person allowing it to be so present; and (2) in relation to a contravention falling within s 23(2)(a) or (b) (see heads (1)-(2) in the text), the person in control of the land: s 23(3). Where it appears to the hazardous substances authority¹ that there is or has been a contravention of hazardous substances control², it may issue a notice (a 'hazardous substances contravention notice')³. HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(9) CONTRAVENTION OF HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTROL/(ii) Hazardous Substances Contravention Notices/A. IN GENERAL/1273. Contents of notices.

1273. Contents of notices.

A hazardous substances contravention notice¹ must:

- 4649 (1) specify an alleged contravention of hazardous substances control²; and
- 4650 (2) require such steps as may be specified in the notice to be taken to remedy wholly or partly the contravention³.

A hazardous substances contravention notice must also specify:

- 4651 (a) a date not less than 28 days from the date of service of copies of the notice as the date on which it is to take effect;
- 4652 (b) in respect of each of the steps required to be taken to remedy the contravention of hazardous substances control, the period from the notice taking effect within which the step is to be taken⁴; and must identify the land⁵ to which the notice relates, whether by reference to a plan or otherwise⁶.

Where a hazardous substances authority⁷ issues a hazardous substances contravention notice, the steps required by the notice may, if the authority thinks it expedient and without prejudice to the generality of head (2) above, include a requirement that the hazardous substance be removed from the land⁸. Where a notice includes such a requirement, it may also contain a direction that at the end of such period as may be specified in the notice any hazardous substances consent⁹ for the presence of the substance shall cease to have effect or, if it relates to more than one substance, shall cease to have effect so far as it relates to the substances which are required to be removed¹⁰.

1275. Register of notices.

Every hazardous substances authority¹ must keep an enforcement register containing the following information in respect of each hazardous substances contravention notice² issued by the authority:

- 4658 (1) the address of the land³ to which the notice relates;
- 4659 (2) the date of service of copies of the notice;

- 4660 (3) a statement of the alleged contravention of hazardous substances control⁴, the steps required by the notice to remedy the contravention, and the period within which such steps are to be taken;

- 4662 (5) the date and effect of any variation of the notice;
- 4663 (6) the date of any appeal to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ against the notice and the date of the final determination of the appeal⁷.

Every entry in the register must be made within 14 days of the relevant information being available to the hazardous substances authority⁸; and the register must include an index to enable any person to trace an entry in the register⁹. The register must be kept at the principal office of the hazardous substances authority¹⁰; and every register so kept must be available for inspection by the public at all reasonable hours¹¹.

The entry relating to the hazardous substances contravention notice and everything relating to such notice must be removed from the register if the notice is quashed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly or is withdrawn¹².

1278. Execution and cost of works required by hazardous substances contravention notice.

Where any steps required by a hazardous substances contravention notice¹ to be taken are not taken within the period for compliance with the notice², the hazardous substances authority³ may:

- 4664 (1) enter the land⁴ and take the steps; and
- 4665 (2) recover from the person who is then the owner⁵ of the land any expenses reasonably incurred⁶ by the authority in doing so⁷.

Any person who wilfully obstructs a person acting in the exercise of the powers so conferred is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁸.

Where a copy of a hazardous substances contravention notice has been served in respect of any contravention of hazardous substances control⁹:

- 4666 (a) any expenses incurred by the owner or occupier of any land for the purpose of complying with the notice; and
- 4667 (b) any sums paid¹⁰ by the owner of any land in respect of expenses incurred by the hazardous substances authority in taking steps required by such a notice to be taken, are deemed to be incurred or paid for the use and at the request of the person by whom the contravention of hazardous substances control was committed¹¹.

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(9) CONTRAVENTION OF HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTROL/(ii) Hazardous Substances Contravention Notices/B. EFFECT OF NOTICES/1279. Offence where hazardous substances contravention notice not complied with.

1279. Offence where hazardous substances contravention notice not complied with.

Where, at any time after the end of the period for compliance with a hazardous substances contravention notice¹, any steps required by the notice to be taken have not been taken, the person who is then the owner² of the land³ and any person other than the owner who is in control of the land is in breach of the notice⁴.

Where a person is in breach of a hazardous substances contravention notice, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000⁵; but in proceedings against any person for such an offence it is a defence for him to show that he did everything he could be expected to do to secure compliance with the notice⁶.

An offence under the above provisions⁷ may be charged by reference to any day or longer period of time and a person may be convicted of a second or subsequent offence by reference to any period of time following the preceding conviction for such an offence⁸. Where, however,:

- 4668 (1) a person charged with such an offence has not been served with a copy of the hazardous substances contravention notice; and
- 4669 (2) the notice is not contained in the appropriate register⁹, it is a defence for him to show that he was not aware of the existence of the notice¹⁰.

In determining the amount of any fine to be imposed on a person convicted of an offence under the above provisions¹¹, the court must in particular have regard to any financial benefit which has accrued or appears likely to accrue to him in consequence of the offence¹².

Where, after the service of a copy of a hazardous substances contravention notice¹, hazardous substances consent² is granted for the presence of a hazardous substance³ on, over or under the land⁴ to which the notice relates, the notice ceases to have effect so far as inconsistent with that consent⁵.

1281. Continuing effect of hazardous substances contravention notice.

Compliance with a hazardous substances contravention notice¹ does not discharge that notice². Without prejudice to this, where a provision of a hazardous substances contravention notice requires:

- 4670 (1) a hazardous substance³ to be removed from the land⁴ to which the notice relates, the presence on, over or under that land of a quantity of that substance equal to or exceeding its controlled quantity⁵ at any time after the substance has been removed in compliance with the hazardous substances contravention notice is in contravention of that notice⁶;
- 4671 (2) the quantity of a hazardous substance on, over or under the land to which the notice relates to be reduced below a specified quantity, being greater than the controlled quantity, the presence on, over or under that land of a quantity of that substance equal to or in excess of the specified quantity at any time after the quantity of that substance has been reduced below the specified quantity in compliance with the hazardous substances contravention notice is in contravention of that notice⁷;
- 4672 (3) steps to be taken to remedy a failure to comply with a condition subject to which a hazardous substances consent⁸ was granted, after those steps have been taken no further steps may be taken which would constitute a breach of that condition, and the taking of such further steps is in contravention of that notice⁹.

Section 178 (as applied and amended) (see PARA 1278 ante) and s 179 (as substituted, applied and amended) (see PARA 1279 ante) apply to the contravention of a hazardous substances contravention notice to which s 181 (as so applied and substituted) applies as if the period for compliance with the notice had expired on the date the contravention took place, but the hazardous substances authority may not enter the land under s 178(1) (as substituted, applied and amended) without, at least 28 days before its entry, serving on the owner or occupier of the land a notice of its intention to do so: s 181(5) (as applied and substituted: see note 2 supra). SUBSTANCES CONTROL/(iii) Transitional Exemptions/1282. Transitional exemptions; in general.

(iii) Transitional Exemptions

1282. Transitional exemptions; in general.

Where a hazardous substance¹ was present on, over or under any land² at any time within the period of 12 months immediately preceding 1 June 1992³, then subject to certain statutory conditions⁴, no offence was committed⁵ and no hazardous substances contravention notice⁶ might be issued in relation to it before the end of a six-month transitional period from that date⁷. Without prejudice to this transitional exemption, no offence was committed⁸, and no hazardous substances contravention notice might be issued, in respect of the presence of a hazardous substance without hazardous substances consent⁹ during the period of 28 days beginning with 1 June 1992¹⁰. Where an application for hazardous substances consent was received by the hazardous substances authority¹¹ within that 28-day period, no offence was committed¹², and no hazardous substances contravention notice might be issued, in respect of a hazardous substance included in the application and present on, over or under the land to which the application applied during the period beginning with the date on which the application was so received and ending on the determination of the application, or eight weeks after the application was so received, whichever was the earlier¹³.

The Planning (Control of Major-Accident Hazards) Regulations 1999¹⁴, which came into force on 20 April 1999¹⁵, made a number of amendments to the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 and the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992¹⁶, in particular by prescribing new categories of hazardous substances and their controlled quantities¹⁷. No offence was committed¹⁸, and no hazardous substances contravention notice might be issued, until the end of the period of six months beginning with 20 April 1999¹⁹ in relation to a hazardous substance which was on, over or under any land, if:

- 4673 (1) the substance was present on, over or under the land at any time within the period of 12 months immediately preceding 20 April 1999²⁰ and was not a substance or quantity of substance for which hazardous substances consent was required before that date²¹; and
- 4674 (2) the substance had not been present during the six-month transitional period²² in a quantity greater in aggregate than the established quantity²³.

The Secretary of State's²⁴ power²⁵ to issue temporary exemption directions and the like power of the National Assembly for Wales²⁶ have already been discussed²⁷.

(iv) Injunctions

1283. Enforcement of hazardous substances control by injunction.

Where a hazardous substances authority¹ considers it necessary or expedient for any actual or apprehended contravention of hazardous substances control² to be restrained by injunction, the authority may apply to the court³ for an injunction, whether or not it has exercised or is proposing to exercise any of its other powers under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990⁴.

On such an application the court may grant such an injunction as the court thinks appropriate for the purpose of restraining the contravention⁵.

Rules of court may, in particular, provide for such an injunction to be issued against a person whose identity is unknown⁶. Without prejudice to the court's power to make an order for service by an alternative method or an order dispensing with service⁷, an applicant for such an injunction must, in the claim form, describe the defendant by reference to (1) a photograph; (2) a thing belonging to or in the possession of the defendant; or (3) any other evidence, with sufficient particularity to enable service to be effected⁸. The applicant must file⁹ in support of the application evidence by witness statement or affidavit:

- 4675 (a) verifying that he was unable to ascertain, within the time reasonably available to him, the defendant's identity;
- 4676 (b) setting out the action taken to ascertain the defendant's identity; and
- 4677 (c) verifying the means by which the defendant has been described in the application and that the description is the best that the applicant is able to provide¹⁰.

(v) Enforcement in relation to the Crown

1284. Enforcement in relation to the Crown; in general.

At the date at which this title states the law, notwithstanding any interest of the Crown in Crown land¹, any restrictions or powers imposed or conferred by the provisions of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 relating to enforcement² apply and are exercisable³ in relation to Crown land to the extent of any interest⁴ in it for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown⁵.

As from a day to be appointed⁶, however, the above provisions are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004⁷ and new provision is made regarding enforcement in relation to the Crown. As from such a day, and despite the general application of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 to the Crown⁸, no act or omission done or suffered by or on behalf of the Crown constitutes an offence under that 1990 Act⁹. A local planning authority¹⁰ must not take any step for the purposes of enforcement in relation to Crown land¹¹ unless it has the consent of the appropriate authority¹²; and the appropriate authority may give such consent subject to such conditions as it thinks appropriate¹³. A step taken for the purposes of enforcement is anything done in connection with the enforcement of anything required to be done¹⁴ or prohibited by or under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990¹⁵; and this includes entering land, bringing proceedings and the making of an application¹⁶ but does not include service of a notice¹⁷ or the making of an order, other than by a court¹⁸.

2 I.e. the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 ss 23-26AA (as amended); see PARA 1269 et seq ante.

3 No hazardous substances contravention notice may, however, be issued or served in relation to land which is for the time being Crown land, except with the consent of the appropriate authority: see ibid s 31(2) (as prospectively repealed); and PARA 1214 ante. Nor may an order be made under s 26AA (as added) (see PARA 1283 ante) without such consent: see PARA 1214 ante. For the meaning of 'the appropriate authority' for these purposes see PARA 1214 note 5 ante.

4 A person who is entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing is treated for these purposes as having an interest in land: see ibid s 31(4); and PARA 1214 note 4 ante.

1287. Right of appeal.

Where a hazardous substances authority¹ refuses an application for hazardous substances consent² or an application for continuation of hazardous substances consent³ or an application for any consent, agreement or approval of the authority required by a condition imposed on the grant of such consent, or grants it subject to conditions, the applicant may, if he is aggrieved⁴ by the authority's decision, appeal to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶.

A person who has made an application for hazardous substances consent may also appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly if the hazardous substances authority has neither:

- 4685 (1) given notice to the applicant of its decision on the application; nor
- 4686 (2) given notice to him that the application has been referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly in accordance with directions given⁷ by him or by the Assembly, within such period as may be prescribed⁸, or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the hazardous substances authority; and for these purposes in such a case the authority is deemed to have decided to refuse the application⁹.

Any such appeal must be made by notice served in the prescribed manner within such period as may be prescribed¹⁰.

authority⁴, whether or not the appeal relates to that part of it, and may deal with the application as if it had been made to him or to the Assembly in the first instance⁵.

Before so determining an appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the hazardous substances authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁶. The procedure on such appeals is discussed below⁷.

B. APPEALS AGAINST HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTRAVENTION NOTICES

(A) APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY

1290. Right of appeal.

A person having an interest in the land¹ to which a hazardous substances contravention notice² relates or a relevant occupier³ may appeal to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ against the notice, whether or not a copy of it has been served on him⁶.

An appeal may be brought on any of the following grounds:

- 4696 (1) that, in respect of any contravention of hazardous substances control⁷ specified in the notice, hazardous substances consent⁸ ought to be granted for the quantity of the hazardous substance⁹ present on, over or under the land or, as the case may be, the condition concerned ought to be discharged;

- 4697 (2) that the matters alleged to constitute a contravention of hazardous substances control have not occurred;
- 4698 (3) that those matters, if they occurred, do not constitute a contravention of hazardous substances control;
- 4699 (4) that copies of the hazardous substances contravention notice were not duly served¹⁰;
- 4700 (5) that the steps required by the notice to be taken exceed what is necessary to remedy any contravention of hazardous substances control;
- 4701 (6) that any period specified in the notice¹¹ falls short of what should reasonably be allowed¹².

If any person appeals against a hazardous substances contravention notice, the notice is of no effect¹³ pending the final determination or the withdrawal of the appeal¹⁴.

Where any person has appealed to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly against a hazardous substances contravention notice, no person is entitled, in any other proceedings instituted after the making of the appeal, to claim that the notice was not duly served on the person who appealed¹⁵.

The statutory provisions relating to appeals against enforcement notices¹⁶ apply to appeals against hazardous substances contravention notices, subject to the specified¹⁷ modifications¹⁸.

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/(11) APPEALS ETC RELATING TO HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTROL/(i) Rights of Appeal/B. APPEALS AGAINST HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTRAVENTION NOTICES/(A) Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/1291. Procedure for making appeal.

1291. Procedure for making appeal.

An appeal against a hazardous substances contravention notice¹ must be made either:

4702 (1) by giving written notice of the appeal to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ before the date specified in the hazardous substances contravention notice as the date on which it is to take effect⁴; or

4703 (2) by sending such notice to him or to the Assembly in a properly addressed and prepaid letter posted to him or to it at such time that, in the ordinary course of post, the letter would be delivered before that date⁵.

Such a notice must be accompanied by a copy of the hazardous substances contravention notice, together with a statement:

4704 (a) specifying the grounds on which the appeal is being made against the hazardous substances contravention notice; and 4705 (b) setting out the appellant's submissions in relation to each ground of appeal⁶.

If, where more than one ground is specified in that statement, the appellant does not in that statement give information required under head (b) above in relation to each of those grounds, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may determine the appeal without considering any ground as to which the appellant has failed in that statement to give such information⁷.

A person who appeals against a hazardous substances contravention notice must, at the same time as notice of the appeal is given or sent to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly under the above provisions, serve on the hazardous substances authority⁸ a copy of the notice of appeal and accompanying material required⁹ to be submitted¹⁰. The hazardous substances authority must, within 28 days of being served with the notice of appeal, serve on the Secretary of State or the Assembly and on the appellant a statement:

- 4706 (i) setting out the authority's submissions in relation to each ground of appeal; and
- 4707 (ii) indicating whether it would be prepared to grant hazardous substances consent for the presence on, over or under the land¹¹ of any quantity of the hazardous substances to which the hazardous substances contravention notice relates and, if so, particulars of the conditions, if any, which the authority would wish to impose on such consent¹².

The hazardous substances authority must, within that 28-day period, give notice of the appeal to occupiers of properties in the locality of the site to which the hazardous substances contravention notice relates¹³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must¹⁴, if either the appellant or the hazardous substances authority so desires, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for the purpose¹⁵. The procedure on such appeals is discussed below¹⁶.

APPEALS AGAINST HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTRAVENTION NOTICES/(A) Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/1292. Powers on determination of appeal; in general.

1292. Powers on determination of appeal; in general.

On an appeal against a hazardous substances contravention notice¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 4708 (1) correct any defect, error or misdescription in the hazardous substances contravention notice; or
- 4709 (2) vary the terms of the hazardous substances contravention notice, if satisfied that the correction or variation will not cause injustice to the appellant or the hazardous substances authority⁴.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly determines to allow the appeal, he or it may quash the notice⁵; and he or the Assembly must give any directions necessary to give effect to his or its determination on the appeal⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 4710 (a) may dismiss an appeal if the appellant fails to submit a statement in writing⁷; and
- 4711 (b) may allow an appeal and quash the hazardous substances contravention notice if the hazardous substances authority fails⁸ to serve the specified statement⁹.

Where it would otherwise be a ground for determining an appeal against a hazardous substances contravention notice in favour of the appellant that a person required to be served with a copy of the hazardous substances contravention notice was not served, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard that fact if neither the appellant nor that person has been substantially prejudiced¹⁰ by the failure to serve him¹¹.

As to hazardous substances authorities see PARAS 1219-1220 ante. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 176(1) (as substituted) does not permit the inspector to add anything to an enforcement notice (and hence to a hazardous substances enforcement notice) which the authority could not have included: see Tandridge District Council v Verrechia [2000] QB 318, [1999] 3 All ER 247, CA.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 176(2A) (as applied (see note 4 supra); substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 7 paras 8, 23). By virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 6, Sch 4 paras 1(1)(a), Table, 1(3), 5, the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 25 (as amended) (see PARAS 1272, 1291 ante) had effect, until a day to be appointed by the Secretary of State, with the addition of the following subsection:

411 '(5) Subsection (5) of section 250 of the Local Government Act 1972 (which authorises a minister holding an inquiry under that section to make orders with respect to the costs of the parties) shall apply in relation to any proceedings before the Secretary of State on an appeal under this section as if those proceedings were an inquiry held by the Secretary of State under section 250'.

The day so appointed was 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

APPEALS AGAINST HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTRAVENTION NOTICES/(A) Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/1293. Grant or modification of hazardous substances consent on appeals against hazardous substances contravention notices.

1293. Grant or modification of hazardous substances consent on appeals against hazardous substances contravention notices.

On the determination of an appeal against a hazardous substances contravention notice¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 4712 (1) grant hazardous substances consent⁴ for the presence of the hazardous substance⁵ on, over or under the land⁶ to which the hazardous substances contravention notice relates or on, over or under part of that land;
- 4713 (2) discharge any condition⁷ subject to which hazardous substances consent was granted⁸.

In considering whether so to grant hazardous substances consent, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must have regard to the specified⁹ considerations¹⁰.

In relation to a grant of hazardous substances consent or a determination under the above provisions the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's decision is final¹¹.

1 le an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as applied and amended): see PARAS 1290-1291 ante. For the meaning of 'hazardous substances contravention notice' see PARA 1270 ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177 (as amended and applied for the purposes set out in the text), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 The hazardous substances consent which may be so granted is any hazardous substances consent which might be granted on an application under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 (see PARA 1212 et seq ante): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(3) (s 177 applied for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 18(1); the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(3) substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 24 (2); and amended for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 18(1), Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(d)).

Where an appeal against a hazardous substances contravention notice is brought under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as applied and amended), the appellant is deemed to have made an application for hazardous substances consent in respect of the matters specified in the hazardous substances contravention notice as constituting a contravention of hazardous substances control: s 177(5) (as so applied; substituted for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992 Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(f)).

Where (1) the statement under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(4) (as applied and substituted (see PARA 1291 ante) specifies the ground mentioned in s 174(2)(a) (as applied and substituted) (see PARA 1290 ante at head (1) in the text); (2) any fee is payable under regulations made by virtue of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 26A (as added) (see PARA 1226 ante) in respect of the application deemed to be made by virtue of the appeal; and (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly gives notice in writing to the appellant specifying the period within which the fee must be paid, then, if that fee is not paid within that period, the appeal, so far as brought on that ground, and the application lapse at the end of that period: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(5A) (as so applied; added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 6(3); amended for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(g)). As to the fee so payable see PARA 1294 post.

Any hazardous substances consent so granted on an appeal is treated as granted on the application deemed to have been made by the appellant: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(6) (as so applied; amended for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(h)). For the meaning of 'hazardous substances consent' see PARA 1234 ante.

5 As to the power to prescribe hazardous substances see PARA 1230 ante; and as to the substances so prescribed see PARAS 1231-1233 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

7 Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly so discharges a condition, he or the Assembly may substitute another condition for it, whether more or less onerous: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(4) (as applied (see note 4 supra); amended for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(e)).

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(1) (as applied (see note 4 supra); substituted for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(a)).

9 le the considerations specified in the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 9(2) (as amended): see PARA 1244 ante.

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(2) (as applied (see note 4 supra); substituted for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(c)). For the purposes of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 28 (as amended) (see PARA 1221 ante), the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's decision is treated as having been given by him or by the Assembly in dealing with an application for hazardous substances consent made to the hazardous substances authority: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(8) (as so applied; substituted for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, Sch 4 Pt 1 para 4(i)). As to hazardous substances authorities see PARAS 1219-1220 ante.

APPEALS AGAINST HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES CONTRAVENTION NOTICES/(A) Appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly/1294. Fees for deemed applications.

1294. Fees for deemed applications.

A fee must be paid¹ to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ in every case where an application for hazardous substances consent⁴ is deemed to have been made⁵ in consequence of an appeal⁶ against a hazardous substances contravention notice⁷ by every person who has made a valid appeal against the relevant contravention notice and whose appeal has not been withdrawn before the date on which the Secretary of State or the Assembly issues a notice⁸ requiring payment⁹. These provisions do not, however, apply where the appellant had:

- 4714 (1) before the date when the hazardous substances contravention notice was issued, applied to the hazardous substances authority¹⁰ for hazardous substances consent for the presence of the quantity of the substance to which the notice relates, and had paid to the authority the fee payable in respect of that application; or
- 4715 (2) before the date specified in the notice as the date on which it is to take effect¹¹, made an appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly against the refusal of the hazardous substances authority to grant such consent, and at the date when the relevant notice was issued that application or, in the case of an appeal made before that date, that appeal, had not been determined¹².

The fee so payable is the amount which would be payable¹³ if the application were an application for hazardous substances consent¹⁴.

The fee must be paid at such time as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may in the particular case specify by notice in writing to the appellant¹⁵.

Any fee paid in respect of the deemed application must be refunded to the appellant by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly if:

- 4716 (a) he or it declines jurisdiction on the relevant appeal on the grounds that it does not comply with one or more of the statutory requirements¹⁶;
- 4717 (b) he or it dismisses the relevant appeal in exercise of the statutory powers¹⁷ on the grounds that the appellant has failed to comply with the statutory requirements¹⁸;
- 4718 (c) he or it allows the relevant appeal and quashes the relevant hazardous substances contravention notice in exercise of the statutory powers¹⁹ on the grounds that the hazardous substances authority has failed to comply with the statutory requirements²⁰;
- 4719 (d) the relevant appeal is withdrawn with the result that there are at least 21 days between the date on which the notice in writing of the withdrawal is received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and:
- 360
137. (i) the date, or in the event of postponement the latest date, appointed for the holding of an inquiry or hearing into that appeal; or
138. (ii) in the case of an appeal which is being dealt with by written representations, the date, or in the event of postponement the latest date, appointed for the inspection of the site to which the notice relates;
- 361
- 4720 (e) the hazardous substances authority withdraws the relevant hazardous substances contravention notice before it takes effect, or the Secretary of State or the Assembly decides that the notice is a nullity;
- 4721 (f) the Secretary of State or the Assembly allows the relevant appeal on any of the specified grounds²¹; or
- 4722 (g) the Secretary of State or the Assembly allows the relevant appeal on the ground that the notice is invalid, or that it contains a defect, error or misdescription which cannot be²² corrected²³.

(B) APPEALS TO THE HIGH COURT

1295. Right of appeal to the High Court.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² gives a decision³ in proceedings on an appeal⁴ against a hazardous substance contravention notice⁵, the appellant or the hazardous substances authority⁶ or any other person having an interest in the land⁷ to which the notice relates may, according as rules of court⁸ may provide, either appeal to the High Court against the decision on a point of law or require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to state and sign a case for the opinion of the High Court⁹. At any stage of the proceedings on any such appeal the Secretary of State or the Assembly may state any question of law arising in the course of the proceedings in the form of a special case for the decision of the High Court¹⁰.

In proceedings brought by virtue of these provisions in respect of a hazardous substances contravention notice, the High Court or, as the case may be, the Court of Appeal may, on such terms, if any, as the court thinks fit, which may include terms requiring the hazardous substances authority to give an undertaking as to damages or any other matter, order that the notice shall have effect, or have effect to such extent as may be specified in the order, pending the final determination of those proceedings and any hearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹¹.

No proceedings in the High Court may be brought by virtue of the above provisions except with the leave of that court; and no appeal to the Court of Appeal may be so brought except with the leave of the Court of Appeal or of the High Court¹².

3 For these purposes, 'decision' includes a direction or order; and references to the giving of a decision are to be construed accordingly: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(7) (s 289 applied for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 18(1)).

8 In relation to any proceedings in the High Court or the Court of Appeal brought by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289 (as amended) (as applied: see note 3 supra), the power to make rules of court includes power to make rules (1) prescribing the powers of the High Court or the Court of Appeal with respect to the remitting of the matter with the opinion or direction of the court for rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and (2) providing for the Secretary of State or the Assembly, either generally or in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the rules, to be treated as a party to any such proceedings and to be entitled to appear and to be heard accordingly: s 289(5) (as so applied). Rules of court may also provide for the High Court or, as the case may be, the Court of Appeal to give directions as to the exercise, until such proceedings in respect of a hazardous substances contravention notice are finally concluded and any rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly has taken place, of any other powers in respect of the matters to which such a notice relates: s 289(5A) (as so applied; substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 6(5); amended for these purposes by the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/656, reg 22(1) Sch 4 Pt 4 para 11(a)).

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(3) (as applied: see note 3 supra). A decision of the High Court on a case stated by virtue of s 289(3) (as so applied) is deemed to be a judgment of the court within the meaning of the Supreme Court Act 1981 s 16 (as amended) (jurisdiction of the Court of Appeal to hear and determine appeals from any judgment of the High Court: see COURTS vol 10 (Reissue) PARA 639): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(4) (as so applied). 1297. In general.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations prescribe the classes of appeals regarding hazardous substances consents³ which are to be determined by a person appointed by him or by the Assembly ('an appointed person') for the purpose instead of by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly⁴.

Appeals of a prescribed class must be so determined except in such classes of case as may for the time being be prescribed or as may be specified in directions given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁵. Regulations so made may provide for the giving of publicity to any directions so given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁶.

The above provisions do not, however, affect any provision in the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 or any instrument made thereunder that an appeal shall lie to, or a notice of appeal shall be served on, the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁷.

WHETHER APPEALS TO BE DETERMINED BY APPOINTED PERSON/(A) Appeals regarding Hazardous Substances Consents/1298. Powers and duties of appointed persons.

1298. Powers and duties of appointed persons.

An appointed person¹ has the same powers and duties as the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ has⁴ in connection with appeals against decisions or failure to take decisions relating to hazardous substances⁵.

If both the parties express a wish not to appear and be heard, the appeal may be determined without their being heard⁶; but, if either of the parties expresses a wish to appear and be heard, the appointed person must give them both an opportunity of doing so⁷.

Where an appeal has been determined by an appointed person, his decision is treated as that of the Secretary of State or of the Assembly⁸; and the validity of that decision may not, except as provided by statute⁹, be questioned in any proceedings whatsoever¹⁰.

Where in any enactment¹¹ there is a reference to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly in a context relating to or capable of relating to:

4723 (1) an appeal against a decision or failure to take a decision relating to hazardous substances¹²; or

4724 (2) any thing done or authorised or required to be done by, to or before the Secretary of State or the Assembly on or in connection with any such appeal, then, so far as the context permits, it is to be construed, in relation to an appeal determined or falling to be determined by an appointed person, as a reference to him¹³.

WHETHER APPEALS TO BE DETERMINED BY APPOINTED PERSON/(A) Appeals regarding Hazardous Substances Consents/1299. Determination of appeals by the Secretary of State or the Assembly instead of by an inspector.

1299. Determination of appeals by the Secretary of State or the Assembly instead of by an inspector.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may, if he or it thinks fit, direct that an appeal which would otherwise fall to be determined by an appointed person³ shall instead be determined by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly⁴.

Such a direction must state the reasons for which it is given and must be served on the appellant, on the hazardous substances authority⁵, on any person who made representations relating to the subject matter of the appeal which the authority was required to take into account⁶ and, if any person has been appointed⁷ to determine the appeal, on him⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give the appellant, the hazardous substances authority and any person who has made representations⁹ an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for that purpose if:

- 4725 (1) the reasons for the direction raise matters with respect to which any of those persons have not made representations; or
- 4726 (2) in the case of an appellant or the hazardous substances authority, either of them was not asked¹⁰ whether he or it wished to appear before, and be heard by, the appointed person, or expressed no wish in answer to that question, or expressed a wish to appear and be heard but was not given an opportunity of doing so¹¹.

In determining the appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may take into account any report made to him or to it by any person previously appointed to determine the appeal¹².

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may by a further direction revoke a direction so given at any time before the determination of the appeal¹³. Such a further direction must state the reasons for which it is given and must be served on the person, if any, previously appointed to determine the appeal, on the appellant, on the hazardous substances authority and on any person who made representations relating to the subject matter of the appeal which the authority was required¹⁴ to take into account¹⁵.

Anything done by or on behalf of the Secretary of State or the Assembly in connection with the appeal which might have been done by the appointed person, including any arrangements made for the holding of a hearing or local inquiry, is treated, unless that person directs otherwise, as having been done by him¹⁶.

1301. Local inquiries and hearings.

Whether or not the parties to an appeal have asked for an opportunity to appear and to be heard, an appointed person¹ may hold a local inquiry in connection with the appeal². He must hold a local inquiry if the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ so directs⁵. Where an appointed person holds a hearing by virtue of the provisions previously discussed⁶ or holds an inquiry by virtue of these provisions⁷, an assessor may be appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to sit with the appointed person at the hearing or inquiry to advise him on any matters arising, notwithstanding that the appointed person is to determine the appeal⁸. The costs of any hearing and of any inquiry are to be defrayed⁹ by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁰.

Subject to the following provisions, at any such inquiry oral evidence must be heard in public and documentary evidence must be open to public inspection¹¹. If, however, the Secretary of State in relation to England, or the Secretary of State exercising these functions concurrently with the Assembly in relation to Wales, is satisfied in the case of any such inquiry that:

4727 (1) giving evidence of a particular description or, as the case may be, making it available for inspection would be likely to result in the disclosure of information as to national security or the measures taken or to be taken to ensure the security of any premises or property; and

he or they may direct that evidence of the description indicated in the direction shall only be heard or, as the case may be, open to inspection at that inquiry by such persons or persons of such descriptions as he or they may specify in that direction¹². In relation to England, if the Secretary of State is considering giving such a direction the Attorney General may appoint a person to represent the interests of any person who will be prevented from hearing or inspecting any evidence at a local inquiry if the direction is given¹³; and if before the Secretary of State gives such a direction no person is so appointed, the Attorney General may at any time so appoint a person for the purposes of the inquiry¹⁴. The Lord Chancellor may by rules make provision:

- 4729 (a) as to the procedure to be followed by the Secretary of State before he gives such a direction in a case where a person has been so appointed¹⁵;
- 4730 (b) as to the functions¹⁶ of a person appointed¹⁷ as described above¹⁸.

If the matter in respect of which a local inquiry to which the above provisions apply¹⁹ is to be held relates to Wales, the above references²⁰ to the Attorney General must be read as references to the Counsel General to the National Assembly for Wales²¹. The Assembly may by regulations²² make provision²³ in connection with such a local inquiry²⁴; and if it acts under this power, rules made by the Lord Chancellor under the provisions set out above²⁵ do not have effect in relation to the inquiry²⁶.

If a person is appointed as described above²⁷ ('the appointed representative') the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct any person who he or it thinks is interested in the inquiry in relation to a matter mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above ('the responsible person') to pay the fees and expenses of the appointed representative²⁸. If the appointed representative and the responsible person are unable to agree the amount of the fees and expenses, the amount must be determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly²⁹. He or it must cause the amount agreed between the appointed representative and the responsible person or determined by him or by the Assembly to be certified³⁰. An amount so certified is recoverable from the responsible person as a civil debt³¹. If, however, a person is so appointed, but no inquiry is held³², then the above provisions³³ apply in respect of the fees and expenses of the person appointed as if the inquiry had been held³⁴.

2 Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 21(8), Schedule para 6(1)(a). The Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 applies to a local inquiry or other hearing held in pursuance of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 Schedule (as amended) (see PARA 1297 et seq ante) as it applies to a statutory inquiry held by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly, but as if in the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 10(1) (statement of reasons for decisions: see JUDICIAL REVIEW vol 61 (2010) PARA 646) the reference to any decision taken by the Secretary of State or the Assembly were a reference to a decision taken by an appointed person: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 Schedule para 7(1) (amended by the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 18(1), Sch 3 para 34).

The Local Government Act 1972 s 250(2)-(5) (as amended) (evidence at and costs of local inquiries: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 105) applies to an inquiry held by virtue of the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 Schedule para 6 with the following adaptations: (1) for the references in the Local Government Act 1972 s 250(4) (recovery of costs of holding inquiry) to the minister causing the inquiry to be held there must be substituted references to the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and (2) for the reference in s 250(5) (order as to costs of the parties) to the Minister causing the inquiry to be held there must be substituted a reference to the appointed person or the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 Schedule para 6(4).

The appointed person or the Secretary of State or the Assembly has the same power to make orders under the Local Government Act 1972 s 250(5) in relation to proceedings under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 Schedule (as amended) (see PARA 1297 et seq ante) which do not give rise to an inquiry as he has in relation to such an inquiry: Schedule para 6(8).

Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

A similar procedure applies in Wales⁴.

The relevant regulations providing for the procedure where an appeal to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ against a hazardous substances contravention notice⁷ is to be disposed of on the basis of written representations⁸ have already been discussed in the context of enforcement appeals under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁹.

1303 Determination of appeals by written representations

NOTE 3--SI 2000/1628 replaced: Town and Country (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/452.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/16. WRITTEN REPRESENTATIONS, HEARINGS AND INQUIRIES/1304. Hearings and inquiries.

1304. Hearings and inquiries.

Rules have been made providing for the procedure in relation to:

- 4737 (1) any hearing¹ for the purposes of a non-transferred or transferred appeal² under, inter alia, the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 regarding appeals against enforcement notices³;
- 4738 (2) any local inquiry⁴ caused to be held by the Secretary of State⁵, by the National Assembly for Wales⁶ or by an inspector⁷ before the determination of any such appeal⁸.

It is apprehended that those rules apply to hearings and inquiries held for the purposes of appeals⁹ against hazardous substances contravention notices¹⁰.

In relation to the procedure on the hearing of appeals and applications regarding hazardous substances consents¹¹, the hearing normally takes the form of a public local inquiry and the spirit of the general rules about planning inquiries¹² is normally followed in practice¹³ although those general rules do not specifically apply.

1306. The Urban Regeneration Agency; in general.

The Urban Regeneration Agency was created by the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993¹ with the main object of securing the regeneration of certain urban and other land in England². The powers and functions of the Agency, as set out in Part III of the 1993 Act³, are broadly similar, in so far as they are concerned with town and country planning, to those of urban development corporations⁴ under Part XVI⁵ of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980⁶. The Urban Regeneration Agency and its general objects, powers and functions are discussed in detail elsewhere in this work⁷ but where those powers and functions correspond to the powers and functions of urban development corporations they are noted below in that connection⁸.

Where, as respects any area in England which is an urban area or which, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, is suitable for urban development, it appears to the Secretary of State that all or any of the authorised provisions⁹ should be made in relation to the whole or any part of it or that either or both of the specified statutory provisions¹⁰ should apply in relation to it, he may by order¹¹ designate that area and either so make the authorised provision or provisions, or direct that the specified statutory provision or provisions shall so apply, or, as the case may require, do both of those things¹². Before making a designation order the Secretary of State must consult¹³ every local authority¹⁴ any part of whose area is intended to be included in the proposed designated area¹⁵.

If a designation order so provides, the Agency is the local planning authority¹⁶ for the whole or any part of the designated area for such of the statutory purposes¹⁷ as may be specified in the order and in relation to such kinds of development as may be so specified¹⁸.

Following the creation of regional development agencies in England¹⁹, the Secretary of State has power to give directions requiring the Agency to make one or more schemes for the transfer to those agencies of such of the Agency's property, rights and liabilities as appear to him appropriate to be transferred in consequence of the carrying out by those agencies of an activity of the Agency²⁰. He also has power to make an order conferring functions on the Agency with respect to the provision of services of any description to regional development agencies and making various other provisions with relation to the functions and name of the Agency and for its winding up and dissolution²¹. Regional development agencies are discussed elsewhere in this work²².

11 A designation order must be made by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament and may contain such savings and transitional and supplementary provisions as may be specified in the order: ibid s 170(4). The power to amend a designation order conferred by the Interpretation Act 1978 s 14 includes power to amend the boundaries of the designated area; and where any such amendment is made, any reference in the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 Pt III (as amended) to a designated area is a reference to the designated area as so amended: s 170(5). In Pt III (as amended) 'designation order' means an order under s 170; and 'designated area' means, subject to s 170(5), an area designated by a designation order: s 170(2).

18 Ibid s 171(1). A designation order making such provision as is mentioned in s 171(1) may also provide that any enactment relating to local planning authorities shall not apply to the Agency and that any such enactment which applies to the Agency shall apply to it subject to such modifications as may be specified in the order: s 171(2). If a designation order so provides: (1) subject to any modifications specified in the order, the Agency has, in the whole or any part of the designated area, such of the functions conferred by the provisions mentioned in s 171(4) as may be so specified; and (2) such of the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VI (ss 137-171) (as amended) and ss 249-251 (as amended) and s 258 and of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 32-37 (as amended) (see PARA 1139 et seq ante) as are mentioned in the order have effect, in relation to the Agency and to land in the designated area, subject to the modifications there specified: Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 s 170(3). A designation order making such provision as is mentioned in s 171(3) may also provide that, for the purposes of any of the provisions specified in the order, any enactment relating to local planning authorities shall apply to the Agency subject to such modifications as may be so specified: s 171(5).

Where these provisions¹ apply in relation to a designated area² and any street works³ have been executed on any land⁴ in the designated area which was then or has since become a private street⁵ or part of a private street, the Urban Regeneration Agency⁶ may serve a notice (an 'adoption notice') on the street works authority⁷ requiring the authority to declare the street or part to be a highway⁸ which is⁹ a highway maintainable at the public expense¹⁰. Within the period of two months beginning with the date on which the adoption notice was served, the street works authority may appeal against the notice to the Secretary of State¹¹. After considering any representations made to him by the Agency and the street works authority, the Secretary of State must determine such an appeal by setting aside or confirming the adoption notice, with or without modifications¹². Where the Secretary of State so confirms the adoption notice he may at the same time impose conditions, including financial conditions, upon the Agency with which it must comply in order for the notice to take effect¹³. With effect from such date as the Secretary of State may specify, the street or part becomes a highway which is a highway maintainable at the public expense¹⁴. Where a street works authority neither complies with the adoption notice, nor appeals under the above provisions, the street or part becomes, upon the expiry of the period of two months referred to above, a highway which is a highway maintainable at the public expense¹⁵.

Where the following provision applies in relation to a designated area, the Agency submits to the Secretary of State that an order under this provision should be made in relation to any road¹⁶ in the designated area which is a private street and it appears to the Secretary of State that the traffic authority does not intend to make an order concerning traffic regulation¹⁷ in relation to the road, the Secretary of State may by order¹⁸ make in relation to the road any such provision as he might have made by order¹⁹ if he had been the traffic authority²⁰.

The Urban Regeneration Agency's power to serve a connection notice in relation to a private street, which is not confined to a private street in a designated area, is discussed elsewhere in this work²¹.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(1) ENGLISH PARTNERSHIPS AND THE WELSH DEVELOPMENT AGENCY/(i) English Partnerships/1308A. The Homes and Communities Agency.

1308A. The Homes and Communities Agency.

1. General

The following provisions are in force unless otherwise stated: SI 2008/2358, SI 2008/3068.

A body corporate known as the Homes and Communities Agency ('the HCA') is established: Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 s 1(1). Schedule 1 (which makes further provision about the HCA) has effect: s 1(2).

The objects of the HCA are (1) to improve the supply and quality of housing (see s 2(3)) in England, (2) to secure the regeneration or development of land (see s 2(3)) or infrastructure (see s 2(3)) in England, (3) to support in other ways the creation, regeneration or development of communities in England or their continued well-being, and (4) to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development and good design in England, with a view to meeting the needs of people living in England: Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 s 2(1). In s 2(1) 'good design' includes design which has due regard to the needs of elderly persons and disabled persons, 'needs' includes future needs, and the reference to improving the supply of housing includes a reference to improving the supply of particular kinds of housing: s 2(2). See also ss 19(5) (financial assistance: PARA 1308A.3) (not yet in force), 44 (local government involvement: PARA 1308A.4) and 52 (role of the HCA in relation to certain former functions of the Commission for the New Towns: PARA 1308A.5): s 2(4).

The HCA may do anything it considers appropriate for the purposes of its objects or for purposes incidental to those purposes: s 3.

The following provisions (ie s 4) are in force for certain purposes. The Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 Pt 1 (ss 1-58) contains various specific powers of the HCA: s 4(1). The specific powers of the HCA (whether contained in Pt 1 or elsewhere) are to be exercised for the purposes of its objects or for purposes incidental to those purposes: s 4(2). Each power may be exercised separately or together with, or as part of, another power: s 4(3). Each power does not limit the scope of another power: s 4(4). Each power does not limit the scope of the powers conferred by s 3: s 4(5). But (a) s 4(2) and (3) do not apply to the HCA in its capacity as a local planning authority by virtue of ss 13 and 14 (see PARA 1308A.2) or in its exercise of other functions by virtue of those provisions, and (b) the powers conferred by s 3 must not be used to override a restriction imposed on the exercise of a specific power: s 4(6).

2. Land and infrastructure

The Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 s 5 provides that the Homes and Communities Agency ('the HCA') may provide housing or other land. In addition, the HCA may regenerate or develop land (s 6) and may provide infrastructure (s 7). The HCA may carry out, or facilitate the carrying out of, any of the following activities in relation to land (1) acquiring, holding, improving, managing, reclaiming, repairing or disposing of housing, (2) acquiring, holding, improving, managing, reclaiming, repairing or disposing of other land, plant, machinery, equipment or other property, and (3) carrying out building and other operations (including converting or demolishing buildings): s 8. 5. Supplementary

The Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 Pt 1 Ch 5 (ss 46-58) (in force unless otherwise stated: SI 2008/2358, SI 2008/3068) makes supplementary provision for the purposes of the Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 Pt 1 (ss 1-58). For transitional provisions and savings see SI 2008/3068.

The Welsh Development Agency was established in 1975¹ and now includes among its functions that of making land available for development². The development of rural Wales was, until the repeal of the relevant statutory provisions in 1998, the responsibility of a separate body, the Development Board for Rural Wales³, whose functions included the development of new towns in rural areas of Wales⁴. That Board has now been abolished⁵, as has the former Land Authority for Wales⁶.

Urban regeneration and development in Wales is now the responsibility of the Welsh Development Agency, whose constitution, functions and powers are discussed in detail elsewhere in this work⁷.

The Welsh Development Agency is a public body subject to reform by the National Assembly for Wales⁸ and may either lose or gain functions as a result of such reform⁹. The Agency maintains an internet site on the World Wide Web where details of its policies, members, office locations, services and current role and projects are available¹⁰.

(2) NEW TOWNS

(i) Legislation and Administration; in general

1310. Introduction.

The new towns legislation, consolidated in the New Towns Act 1981 and subsequently amended, makes provision for the designation of areas of land in England and Wales as new towns¹. No such designations have in fact been made under the 1981 Act, although a number of new town areas were designated under the predecessor legislation².

Under the Development of Rural Wales Act 1976, the Development Board for Rural Wales had responsibility for the development of new towns in rural Wales and such development was subject to the new towns code contained in the 1976 Act³ and not to the New Towns Act 1981⁴. The relevant provisions of the 1976 Act have now been repealed⁵. The abolition of the Development Board for Rural Wales has already been discussed⁶.

1 See the New Towns Act 1981; and PARA 1311 et seq post.

2 Eg Stevenage was the first new town area to be designated under the New Towns Act 1946 (repealed) on 11 November 1946; Welwyn Garden City and Hatfield were both designated under the 1946 Act (repealed) on 20 May 1948; Central Lancashire (Preston, Chorley and Leyland) was designated under the New Towns Act 1965 (repealed) on 26 March 1970; and Milton Keynes was designated under the 1965 Act (repealed) on 23 January 1967.

1311. Regulations and orders.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may make regulations for the purposes of prescribing anything which is authorised or required to be prescribed³ under the New Towns Act 1981⁴. Regulations so made must be made by statutory instrument, which is subject, in the case of regulations made by the Secretary of State, to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament⁵.

The power to make specified orders⁶ is exercisable by statutory instrument⁷; and any provision of the New Towns Act 1981⁸ conferring a power to make orders, whether exercisable by statutory instrument or otherwise, implies a power, exercisable in the same manner and subject to the same conditions or limitations, to revoke or amend any instrument made under the power⁹.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the New Towns Act 1981 s 77 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'prescribed' (except in relation to matters expressly required or authorised by the New Towns Act 1981 to be prescribed in some other way) means prescribed by regulations under that Act: s 80(1).

4 Ibid s 77(1). As to parliamentary procedure in the case of regulations made by the Assembly see PARA 20 ante; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS; STATUTES.

5 New Towns Act 1981 s 77(2). At the date at which this title states the law no such regulations had been made but, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the New Towns (Compulsory Purchase of Land) Regulations 1977, SI 1977/549 (see PARA 1337 et seq post) have effect as if so made.

6 I.e. under the New Towns Act 1981 s 1 (as amended) (see PARA 1315 post), s 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1319 post), s 39 (as amended) (see PARA 1405 post), s 40 (repealed), s 41 (as amended) (see PARA 1406 post), s 42 (repealed), s 60 (as amended) (see PARA 1399 post), ss 62A, 62B (as added) (see PARA 1396 post), Sch 9 para 7 (as added) (see PARA 1395 post).

7 Ibid s 77(3) (s 77(3), (4) amended, and s 77(3A) added, by the New Towns and Urban Development Corporations Act 1985 ss 8(2), 14, Sch 3 para 12, Sch 4). A statutory instrument containing an order under any of the following provisions is, if made by the Secretary of State, subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: (1) certain orders under the New Towns Act 1981 s 1 (as amended) (see PARA 1315 note 7 post); or (2) an order under s 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1319 post), s 42 (repealed) or s 62B(1) (as added) (see PARA 1396 post): s 77(4) (as so amended; further amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 63(8)).

8 I.e. except ibid s 40 (repealed).

PARAS 1009-1508)/17. URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(i) Legislation and Administration; in general/1313. Service of notices.

1313. Service of notices.

Subject to the following provisions, any notice or other document required or authorised to be served or given under the New Towns Act 1981 may be served or given either:

- 4741 (1) by delivering it to the person on whom it is to be served or to whom it is to be given; or
- 4742 (2) by leaving it at the usual or last known place of abode of that person, or, in a case where an address for service has been given by that person, at that address; or
- 4743 (3) by sending it in a prepaid letter using the special delivery service¹, or as a recorded delivery packet², addressed to that person at his usual or last known place of abode, or, in a case where an address for service has been given by that person, at that address; or
- 4744 (4) in the case of an incorporated company or body, by delivering it to the secretary or clerk of the company or body at its registered or principal office, or sending it in a prepaid letter using the special delivery service, or as a recorded delivery packet, addressed to the secretary or clerk of the company or body at that office³.

Where the notice or document is required or authorised to be served on or given to any person as having an interest in premises, and the name of that person cannot be ascertained after reasonable inquiry, or where the notice or document is required or authorised to be served on any person as an occupier of premises, the notice or document is taken to be duly served if:

- 4745 (a) being addressed to him by the description of 'the owner'⁴ or 'the occupier', as the case may be, of the premises, describing them, it is delivered, left or sent in the manner specified in heads (1), (2) or (3) above; or
- 4746 (b) being addressed to him either by name or in accordance with head (a) above, and marked in such manner as may be prescribed⁵ for securing that it is plainly identifiable as a communication of importance, it is sent to the premises in a prepaid letter using the special delivery service or as a recorded delivery packet and is not returned to the authority sending it, or it is delivered to some person on those premises, or it is affixed conspicuously to some object on those premises⁶.

Where the notice or document is required to be served on or given to all persons having interests in, or being occupiers of, premises comprised in any land⁷, and it appears to the authority required to serve or give the notice or other document that any part of that land is unoccupied, then, in such a case, the notice or document is taken to be duly served on all persons having interests in, and on any occupiers of, premises comprised in that part of the land, other than an owner who has given⁸ to that authority an address for the service of the notice on him, if:

- 4747 (i) being addressed to 'the owners and any occupiers' of that part of the land, describing it, and
- 4748 (ii) marked as mentioned in heads (a) and (b) above, it is affixed conspicuously to some object on the land⁹.

Where the fee simple of any ecclesiastical property¹⁰ is in abeyance, it is treated for the purposes of a compulsory acquisition of the property under the New Towns Act 1981¹¹ as being vested in the Church Commissioners, and any notice to treat must be served or is deemed to have been served accordingly¹²; and, where any notice, other than a notice to treat, is required under that Act to be served on an owner of land, and the land is ecclesiastical property, a like notice must be served on the Church Commissioners¹³.

Words in the New Towns Act 1981 importing a reference to service of a notice to treat are to be construed as including a reference to the constructive service of such a notice which, by virtue of any enactment¹⁴, is to be deemed to be served¹⁵.

1 The statutory wording is 'prepaid registered letter'. As to the special delivery service, which has replaced registered post, see POST OFFICE vol 36(2) (Reissue) PARAS 116-118.

- 4753 (5) in relation to any other statutory undertakers, the First Secretary of State⁵.

'The appropriate minister' means⁶ in the case of:

(ii) Establishment of New Towns

A. DESIGNATION OF AREAS

1315. Designation of areas.

If the Secretary of State¹, or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales², is satisfied, after consultation³ with any local authorities⁴ which appear to him or to the Assembly to be concerned, that it is expedient in the national interest that any area of land⁵ should be developed as a new town by a development corporation⁶, he or the Assembly may make an order⁷ designating that area as the site of the proposed new town⁸. An order so made may include in the area designated as the site of the proposed new town any existing town or other centre of population⁹.

In England, if the Secretary of State or a local planning authority¹⁰ thinks that a representation made in relation to a local development document¹¹ is in substance a representation or objection in respect of anything which is done or is proposed to be done in pursuance of such an order, he or the authority may disregard it¹². Similarly, in Wales if the Assembly or a local planning authority thinks that a representation made in relation to a local development plan¹³ is in substance a representation or objection in respect of anything which is done or is proposed to be done in pursuance of such an order, the Assembly or the authority may disregard it¹⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the New Towns Act 1981 s 1 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'consult' para 2 note 1 ante. The effect of failure to carry out proper consultation may be to invalidate any designation order subsequently made: see Port Louis Corp'n v A-G of Mauritius [1965] AC 1111, [1965] 3 WLR 67, PC.

4 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'local authority' means: (1) a billing authority or a precepting authority, as defined in the Local Government Finance Act 1992 s 69 (as amended); (2) a fire and rescue authority in Wales constituted by a scheme under the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 s 2 or a scheme to which s 4 applies; (3) a levying body within the meaning of the Local Government Finance Act 1988 s 74 (as amended); and (4) a body as regards which s 75 (as amended) applies; and any joint board or joint committee if all the constituent authorities are such local authorities as are mentioned in heads (1)-(4) supra: New Towns Act 1981 s 80(1) (amended by the Local Government Finance (Repeals, Savings and Consequential Amendments) Order 1990, SI 1990/776, art 8, Sch 3 para 22; the Local Government Finance Act 1992 s 117(1), Sch 13 para 51; the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 s 53(1), Sch 1 para 52(1)-(3)). See further LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

5 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1313 note 7 ante.

6 Ie a development corporation established under the New Towns Act 1981: see PARA 1322 et seq post.

7 The power to make an order under ibid s 1 (as amended) is exercisable by statutory instrument (see s 77(3) (as amended); and PARA 1311 ante); and a statutory instrument containing such an order is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament where (1) the order is one designating an area as the site of proposed new town, or designating an additional area of not less than 500 acres which would extend the area of a new town by not less than 10%; and (2) an objection to the order was duly made by a county planning authority or, where the order is one designating an area in Wales, by the local planning authority, and had not been withdrawn at the time the order was made (s 77(4)(a) (amended by the New Towns and Urban Development Corporation Act 1985 s 14(1), Sch 3 para 12(3); and by the Local Government (Wales)

Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 63(8)). The function of the Secretary of State in making a designation order is purely administrative, and he is the judge of whether he is satisfied in the national interest that such an order is expedient: Franklin v Minister of Town and Country Planning [1948] AC 87, [1947] 2 All ER 289, HL. As to challenging such orders by judicial review see PARA 1507 post; and JUDICIAL REVIEW. As to the making of subordinate legislation by the Assembly see PARA 20 ante; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS; STATUTES.

8 New Towns Act 1981 s 1(1). As to the procedure for designating an area see PARAS 1316-1317 post.

9 Ibid s 1(3). References in the New Towns Act 1981 to a new town or proposed new town are to be construed accordingly (s 1(3)); and any reference in that Act to the area of a new town is a reference to the area designated as the site of that new town by the relevant order under s 1 (as amended) (s 80(2)).

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/A. DESIGNATION OF AREAS/1316. Preliminary procedure.

1316. Preliminary procedure.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² proposes to make a designation order³, he or the Assembly must prepare a draft of the order, describing the area to be designated as the site of the proposed new town⁴ by reference to a map, either with or without descriptive matter⁵, together with such statement as he or the Assembly considers necessary for indicating the size and general character of the proposed new town⁶. Before making the order, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must publish in the London Gazette, in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the proposed new town will be situated, and in such other newspapers, if any, as he or it considers appropriate in the circumstances⁷, a notice which must:

- 4763 (1) describe the area to be designated as the site of the proposed new town;
- 4764 (2) state that the draft of an order⁸ has been prepared by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly in relation to that area and is about to be considered by him or by it;
- 4765 (3) name a place within that area where a copy of the draft order, including any map or descriptive matter annexed to it, and of the required statement⁹ may be seen at any reasonable hour;
- 4766 (4) specify the time, not being less than 28 days from the publication of the notice in the London Gazette, within which and the manner in which objections to the proposed order may be made¹⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, not later than the date on which the notice is published in the London Gazette, serve a like notice on the council of every county¹¹ and of every district¹² or, in the case of land in Wales, every county or county borough, in which the land¹³, or any part of the land, to which the order relates is situated and on any other local authority¹⁴ which appears to him or to the Assembly to be concerned with the order¹⁵.

If any objection to the proposed order is duly made and is not withdrawn, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, before making the order, cause a public local inquiry¹⁶ to be held with respect to the objection¹⁷ and must consider the report of the person by whom the inquiry was held¹⁸.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the New Towns Act 1981 Sch 1 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'area of a new town' and 'proposed new town' see PARA 1315 note 9 ante.

5 In the case of any discrepancy between the map and any such descriptive matter, the descriptive matter prevails except in so far as may be otherwise provided by the draft order: New Towns Act 1981 s 1(4), Sch 1 para 1(2).

16 As to public local inquiries see PARA 651 et seq ante.

17 It is not necessary for the Secretary of State to adduce evidence or present a case at the inquiry; the inquiry is solely concerned with the objections made: Franklin v Minister of Town and Country Planning [1948] AC 87, [1947] 2 All ER 289, HL. As to the general power of the Secretary of State or the Assembly to hold inquiries for the purposes of the new towns legislation see PARA 1312 ante.

18 New Towns Act 1981 Sch 1 para 3. The consideration given must be genuine, and the Secretary of State must not come to the objections with a foreclosed mind, but, subject thereto, the question of bias on his part is irrelevant, since he is exercising administrative and not judicial functions: Franklin v Minister of Town and Country Planning [1948] AC 87, [1947] 2 All ER 289, HL.

1317. Making of order; publicity.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may³ make the designation order⁴ either in terms of the draft or subject to such modifications as he or the Assembly thinks fit; but, except with the consent of all persons interested, the Secretary or State or the Assembly may not make the order subject to a modification which includes in the area designated as the site of the proposed new town⁵ any land⁶ not so designated in the draft order⁷.

As soon as may be after an order has been made⁸, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must publish⁹ a notice stating that the order has been made and naming a place within the area designated by the order as the site of the proposed new town where a copy of the order may be seen at any reasonable hour¹⁰. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must serve a like notice on any local authority¹¹ on which notice of the proposed order was served¹², and on any other person who has duly made an objection to the proposed order and, at or after the time of making the objection, has sent to the Secretary of State or the Assembly a request in writing to serve him with the required notice¹³, giving an address for service¹⁴.

A designation order, when operative¹⁵, is a local land charge¹⁶.

1318. Validity and date of operation of order.

If any person aggrieved¹ by a designation order² desires to question the validity of that order, or of any provision contained in it, on the ground:

- 4767 (1) that it is not within the statutory powers³; or
- 4768 (2) that any statutory requirement⁴ has not been complied with in relation to the order, he may, within six weeks from the date on which notice of the order is first published in accordance with the relevant statutory provisions⁵, apply to the High Court⁶. On any such application the court may:

- 4769 (a) by interim order suspend the operation of the order or any of its provisions, either generally or in so far as it affects any of the applicant's property, until the final determination of the proceedings; and
- 4770 (b) quash the order or any of its provisions, either generally or in so far as it affects any of the applicant's property, if satisfied that the order or any of its provisions is not within the statutory powers or that the applicant's interests have been substantially prejudiced⁷ by any statutory requirement not having been complied with⁸.

Subject to the above provisions, a designation order may not, either before or after it has been made, be questioned in any legal proceedings whatsoever, and becomes operative on the date on which notice is first published as mentioned above⁹.

1319. Reduction of designated areas.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may make an order excluding any land³ specified in the order from the area of a new town⁴ if, after consulting⁵ the development corporation⁶ for the town and any county council⁷ and district council⁸ or, in the case of land in Wales, any county council or county borough council, in whose area the land is situated, he or the Assembly is satisfied that it is expedient to make the order⁹.

On the coming into force of such an order, the land specified in the order ceases to be contained in the area of the new town and the order designating the area¹⁰ ceases to operate as regards that land¹¹.

The power to make orders under the New Towns Act 1981 s 2 (as amended) is exercisable by statutory instrument (see s 77(3) (as amended); and PARA 1311 ante); and a statutory instrument containing such an order is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 77(4)(b) (amended by the New Towns and Urban Development Corporations Act 1985 s 14(1), Sch 3 para 12(3)(c)). 11 Ibid s 2(2). As to the effect of orders made under s 2 (as amended) see further PARA 1320 post. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in an order under s 2 (as amended) make such provision by way of savings and transitional provisions, including provisions amending provisions made by or under an enactment, as he or the Assembly thinks fit; and s 2(2) applies subject to any such savings and transitional provisions: s 2(3). 1320. Effect of order for reduction of designated area.

The development corporation¹ must dispose of any land² which it has acquired:

4771 (1) which falls within the excluded land³; and 4772 (2) which the corporation does not require for purposes connected with the development⁴ of the new town or for the provision of services for the purposes of the new town⁵.

A corporation must comply with such directions as the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ may give⁸ for preventing this duty from being performed, or for restricting the duty, or for requiring it to be performed in a manner specified in the directions⁹.

Where a corporation purports to dispose of land by virtue of these provisions, then:

4773 (a) in favour of a person claiming under the corporation, the disposal so purporting to be made is not invalid by reason that any consent¹⁰ of the Secretary of State or of the Assembly has not been given or that any such direction as is mentioned above¹¹ has not been complied with; and 4774 (b) a person dealing with the corporation, or a person claiming under the corporation, is not to be concerned to see or inquire whether any such consent has been given or whether any such direction has been given or complied with¹².

(A) ESTABLISHMENT AND GENERAL POWERS

1322. Establishment of development corporation.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² must by order³ establish a corporation (a 'development corporation') for the purposes of the development⁴ of each new town⁵ the site of which has been designated⁶.

A development corporation is a body corporate by such name as may be prescribed by the order, and must consist of a chairman, a deputy chairman, and such number of other members, not exceeding eleven, as may be prescribed by the order⁷.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the New Towns Act 1981 s 3 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 The New Towns Act 1981 s 77(3) (as amended) (orders to be made by statutory instrument) does not apply to orders under s 3 (as amended): see s 77(3) (as amended); and PARA 1311 ante. As to the making of orders generally see PARA 1311 ante.

7 New Towns Act 1981 s 3(2). Nothing in the New Towns Act 1981, except the express provision relating to stamp duty in s 72(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1407 note 5 post) is to be construed as exempting a development corporation from liability for any tax, duty, rate, levy or other charge whatsoever, whether general or local: s 3(4). A development corporation as a public authority is subject to the same limitation period for claims against it as a private individual: see further LIMITATION PERIODS.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/17. URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/B. DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS/(A) Establishment and General Powers/1323. Objects and general powers of development corporations.

1323. Objects and general powers of development corporations.

The objects of a development corporation¹ established for the purposes of a new town² are to secure the laying out and development³ of the new town in accordance with proposals approved⁴ in that behalf⁵. To secure such laying out and development every development corporation has power⁶:

- 4775 (1) to acquire⁷, hold, manage and dispose⁸ of land and other property;
- 4776 (2) to carry out building and other operations;
- 4777 (3) to provide water, electricity, gas, sewerage and other services;
- 4778 (4) to carry on any business or undertaking in or for the purposes of the new town, and generally to do anything necessary or expedient for the purposes or incidental purposes of the new town⁹.

A development corporation in England may¹⁰:

- 4779 (a) with the Secretary of State's¹¹ consent, contribute such sums as he may, with the Treasury's concurrence, determine towards expenditure incurred or to be incurred by any local authority¹² or statutory undertakers¹³ in the performance, in relation to the new town, of any of their statutory functions, including expenditure so incurred in the acquisition of land¹⁴; and

and a development corporation in Wales may exercise the powers described in heads (a) and (b) above with the consent of the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶.

A transaction between a person and a development corporation is not invalidated by reason of any failure by the corporation to observe the specified objects¹⁷ or the statutory requirement that the corporation must exercise the powers conferred on it for the specified purposes¹⁸, but for the avoidance of doubt nothing in these provisions is to be construed as authorising the disregard by a development corporation of any enactment¹⁹ or rule of law²⁰.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/B. DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS/(A) Establishment and General Powers/1324. Power to operate trolley vehicle services.

1324. Power to operate trolley vehicle services.

The development corporation¹ may by means of an order made by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³ be authorised to operate trolley vehicle⁴ services for the purposes of the corporation's new town⁵. An order so made may impose such conditions as appear to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be required in the interests of the public safety, and may contain such incidental and consequential provisions as appear to him or to it to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of the order, including provisions:

- 4781 (1) authorising the construction and maintenance in highways of any works or equipment required in connection with the services;
- 4782 (2) providing for the making and enforcement of regulations and byelaws with respect to the construction and operation of any vehicles or equipment used for the purposes of the services, and with respect to the conduct of passengers on, and of the drivers and conductors of, any such vehicles⁶.

4 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'trolley vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle adapted for use on roads without rails and moved by power transmitted to it from some external source: New Towns Act 1981 s 80(1).

5 Ibid s 32(1). For the meaning of 'new town' see PARA 1315 note 9 ante.

6 Ibid s 32(2). Section 77(3) (as amended) (orders to be made by statutory instrument) does not apply to orders under s 32 (see s 77(3) (as amended) and PARA 1311 ante); but an order so made by the Secretary of State is subject to special parliamentary procedure (s 32(3)). As to special parliamentary procedure see PARLIAMENT vol 34 (Reissue) PARA 912 et seq. This requirement does not apply to orders made by the Assembly: see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 44; para 20 ante; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS; STATUTES.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/17. URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/B. DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS/(A) Establishment and General Powers/1325. Restrictions on powers of development corporations.

1325. Restrictions on powers of development corporations.

A development corporation¹ does not have power to borrow money except in accordance with specified² statutory provisions³.

The Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁵ may give directions to any development corporation:

- 4783 (1) for restricting the exercise by the corporation of any of its statutory powers⁶; or
- 4784 (2) for requiring the corporation to exercise those powers in any manner specified in the directions⁷.

Before so giving any directions to a development corporation, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must:

- 4785 (a) consult⁸ with the chairman of the corporation; and
- 4786 (b) if the chairman is not available, consult with the deputy chairman, unless satisfied that, on account of urgency, such consultation is impracticable⁹.

A transaction between a person and a development corporation acting in purported exercise of its statutory powers is not, however, void by reason only that it was carried out in contravention of a direction so given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and such a person is not to be concerned to see or inquire whether such a direction has been given or complied with¹⁰.

Nothing in the New Towns Act 1981 is to be construed as authorising a development corporation to carry on:

- 4787 (i) any undertaking for the supply of water, electricity or gas, or for the provision of sewerage services; or
- 4788 (ii) any railway, light railway, tramway or trolley vehicle¹¹ undertaking, except under the authority of an enactment¹² not contained in that Act specifically authorising the corporation to do so or, in the case of a trolley vehicle undertaking, under the authority of such an enactment or of an order¹³ under the relevant statutory provisions¹⁴.

(B) CONSTITUTION AND PROCEEDINGS

1326. Appointment of members and tenure of office.

The members of a development corporation¹ ('the corporation') must be appointed by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³ after consultation⁴ with such local authorities⁵ as appear to him or to the Assembly to be concerned with the development⁶ of the new town⁷; and, in appointing members of the corporation, he or the Assembly must have regard to the desirability of securing the services of one or more persons resident in, or having special knowledge of, the locality in which the new town will be situated⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must appoint two of the members to be respectively chairman and deputy chairman of the corporation⁹. A member of the corporation, and the chairman and deputy chairman of the corporation, hold and must vacate office as such in accordance with the terms of the instrument by which they are respectively appointed¹⁰; but, if the chairman or deputy chairman ceases to be a member of the corporation, he also ceases to be chairman or deputy chairman, as the case may be¹¹.

Any member of the corporation may, by notice in writing addressed to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, resign his membership; and the chairman or deputy chairman may, by the like notice, resign his office as such¹². A member of the corporation who ceases to be a member or ceases to be chairman or deputy chairman is eligible for reappointment¹³.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that a member of the corporation:

- 4789 (1) has become bankrupt or made an arrangement with his creditors; or
- 4790 (2) is incapacitated by physical or mental illness; or
- 4791 (3) has been absent from meetings of the corporation for a period longer than three consecutive months without the permission of the corporation; or
- 4792 (4) is otherwise unable or unfit to discharge the functions of a member, or is unsuitable to continue as a member, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may remove him from his office as a member of the corporation¹⁴.

In the case of any such person, who is or has been the chairman of the corporation, as the Secretary of State with the like consent, or as the Assembly, may determine, the Secretary of State or Assembly may direct the corporation:

As soon as possible after the end of each financial year¹, every development corporation must make to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ a report dealing generally with the operations of the corporation during that year, and must include in the report a copy of its audited accounts⁴ for that year⁵. The Secretary of State must lay a copy of every such report before each House of Parliament⁶. In Wales, such a report must be laid before and published by the Assembly⁷.

1 The financial year of every development corporation begins with 1 April but, if the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales (with the approval of the Treasury in either case) so directs in a case where a development corporation is to be dissolved, the final financial year of the corporation is such period as is specified in the direction; and references in the New Towns Act 1981 to a financial year in relation to a development corporation are to be construed accordingly: ss 67(2), 80(1) (s 67(2) amended by the New Towns and Urban Development Corporations Act 1985 ss 9, 14(1), Sch 3 para 13). TEXT AND NOTES 5, 6--New Towns Act 1981 s 71 amended: Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 Sch 5 para 24, Sch 16.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/17. URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/B. DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS/(D) Allocation or Transfer of Functions/1332. Allocation or transfer of new town functions.

(D) ALLOCATION OR TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS

1332. Allocation or transfer of new town functions.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² that there are exceptional circumstances which render it expedient:

4797 (1) in the case of the area of any new town³ that the functions of a development corporation⁴ should be performed by the development corporation established for the purposes of any other new town instead of by a separate corporation established for the purpose, then, instead of establishing such a corporation, he or the Assembly may by order direct that those functions shall be performed by the development corporation established for that other town⁵;

4798 (2) that the functions of a development corporation established for the purposes of a new town should be transferred to the development corporation established for the purposes of any other new town, or to a new development corporation to be established for the purposes of the first-mentioned new town, he or the Assembly may by order provide for the dissolution of the first-mentioned corporation and for the transfer of its functions, rights and liabilities:

1. (a) to the development corporation established for the purposes of that other new town or, as the case may be,
2. (b) to a new corporation established for the purposes of the first-mentioned new town by the order⁶.

Before so making an order providing for the transfer of functions from or to a development corporation, or providing for the exercise of any functions by such a corporation, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult⁷ with that corporation⁸.

An order so made providing:

4799 (i) for the exercise of functions in relation to a new town by the development corporation established for the purposes of another new town; or

4800 (ii) for the transfer of such functions to such a corporation, may modify the name and constitution of that corporation in such manner as appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be expedient; and that corporation is treated⁹ as having been established for the purposes of each of those new towns¹⁰.

- 4805 (2) for the purpose of providing proper means of access to such an area, a local highway authority⁷ may be authorised by means of an order made by the authority and submitted to and confirmed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly⁸ to acquire compulsorily any land as to which he or the Assembly is satisfied that its acquisition by the authority is requisite for the construction or improvement of the road, or for carrying out the improvement, or controlling the development, of frontages to the road or of lands abutting on or adjacent to the road⁹.

A local highway authority may also, with the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's consent, acquire by agreement any land which the authority could be so authorised to acquire compulsorily¹⁰.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/C. ACQUISITION OF LAND/(B) Procedure/1337. Form and content of compulsory purchase order; publicity.

(B) PROCEDURE

1337. Form and content of compulsory purchase order; publicity.

A compulsory purchase order¹ made by a development corporation² or local highway authority³ must designate the land⁴ to which it relates by reference to a map annexed to it, either with or without descriptive matter, and, subject thereto, must be in such form as may be prescribed⁵. In the case of any discrepancy between the map or maps and any such descriptive matter, the descriptive matter prevails except in so far as may be otherwise provided by the order⁶.

After submitting the order to the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁸, the acquiring authority⁹ must:

- 4808 (1) publish¹⁰ a notice in the prescribed form¹¹ describing the land, stating that an order authorising the compulsory acquisition of that land has been submitted to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, naming a place where a copy of the order and of the map and any annexed descriptive matter may be seen at any reasonable hour, and specifying the time, not being less than 28 days from the first local advertisement¹², within which, and the manner in which, objections to the order may be made; and
- 4809 (2) if the Secretary of State or the Assembly so directs in the case of the order in question, serve on every owner¹³ of any of the land to which the order relates a notice to the like effect as the notice required to be published under head (1) above, except that head (2) above does not apply if the order relates only to land within the area of a new town¹⁴.

Publication and, if applicable, service in accordance with the above provisions must be effected:

- 4810 (a) in the case of an order relating only to land within the area of a new town, as soon as may be after the order has been submitted;
- 4811 (b) in any other case, as soon as may be after the order has been submitted and any direction of the Secretary of State or the Assembly as to service on owners under head (2) above has been given or the Secretary of State or the Assembly has notified the acquiring authority that he or it does not propose to give such a direction¹⁵.

- 1 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'compulsory purchase order' means an order under the New Towns Act 1981 s 10(1) (see PARA 1333 ante) or s 11(1) or (2) (as amended) (see PARA 1334 ante): s 80(1).
 - 2 For the meaning of 'development corporation' see PARA 1322 ante.
 - 3 For the meaning of 'local highway authority' see PARA 1334 note 7 ante.
 - 4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1313 note 7 ante.
 - 5 New Towns Act 1981 ss 10(1), 11(1), Sch 4 para 1(1). For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 1311 note 3 ante. At the date at which this title states the law, no regulations had been made under these provisions but, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the New Towns (Compulsory Purchase of Land) Regulations 1977, SI 1977/549, have effect as if so made. For the prescribed form of order see regs 2(1), (2), 3(b), Schedule, Form 2; the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(a). A form substantially to the like effect may be used: see the New Towns (Compulsory Purchase of Land) Regulations 1977, SI 1977/549, reg 2(2).  - 9 For the meaning of 'acquiring authority' see PARA 1335 note 2 ante.
 - 10 The notice so required to be published must be published: (1) in the case of an order relating only to land within the area of a new town, and in any other case where service on owners is not effected under the New Towns Act 1981 Sch 4 para 2(1)(b) (see head (2) in the text) by publishing that notice (a) in the London Gazette; and (b) in each of two successive weeks, in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land to which the order relates is situated; and (c) by affixing a copy, addressed to 'the owners and any occupiers' of the land, describing it, to some conspicuous object or objects on the land; (2) where service on owners is effected under Sch 4 para 2(1)(b), by publishing it in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land to which the order relates is situated: Sch 4 para 2(2). For the meaning of 'area of a new town' see PARA 1315 note 9 ante.
- Where a compulsory purchase order under s 11(1) (see PARA 1334 ante) is submitted to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, the notice required to be published under Sch 4 para 2 must be published not only as therein mentioned but also by being exhibited at such places in the locality to which the order relates as appear to the acquiring authority to be suitable for bringing it to the attention of all persons concerned: Sch 4 para 7(1). This does not, however, apply in any case where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that the land to which the compulsory purchase order relates is required for the purpose of a project (i) which was adequately set out in a statement prepared for the purposes of an order under s 1 (as amended) (see PARA 1315 ante) which has been made; or (ii) which has been the subject of an inquiry for the purposes of the Highways Act 1980 s 10 (as amended) or, so far as it relates to trunk roads, s 14 (as amended) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES) or of any of the following enactments no longer in force, ie the Highways Act 1959 ss 7 or 9 (repealed) (to which the Highways Act 1980 s 10 (as amended) and, so far as it relates to trunk roads, s 14 (as amended) correspond) and the enactments to which the Highways Act 1959 ss 7 and 9 (repealed) correspond, ie the Trunk Roads Act 1936 s 1(3), the Trunk Roads Act 1946 ss 1, 4, and the Special Roads Act 1949 s 14(1) (all repealed): New Towns Act 1981 Sch 4 para 7(2).

1338. Acquisitions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

A compulsory purchase order made¹ by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³ must designate the land⁴ to which it relates by reference to an annexed map either with or without descriptive matter, and, subject thereto, must be in such form as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may determine⁵. In the case of any discrepancy between the map and any such descriptive matter, the descriptive matter prevails except in so far as may be otherwise provided by the order⁶.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to make such an order, he or it must prepare a draft and then as soon as may be must:

- 4812 (1) publish in the specified manner⁷; and
- 4813 (2) in any case in which he or the Assembly thinks it requisite to do so, serve on every owner⁸ of any of the land to which the order as prepared in draft relates,

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/C. ACQUISITION OF LAND/(B) Procedure/1339. Procedure for dealing with objections.

1339. Procedure for dealing with objections.

The following provisions have effect if any objection to the compulsory purchase order¹ is duly made² and is not withdrawn³. Unless the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁵ decides apart from the objection not to confirm the order, or decides to make a modification which is agreed to by the objector as meeting the objection, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, before making a final decision⁶, consider the grounds of the objection as set out in the statement of grounds⁷, and may, if he or the Assembly thinks fit, require the objector to submit within a specified period a further statement in writing as to any of the matters to which the objection relates⁸.

In so far as the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied, after considering the grounds of the objection, as set out in the original statement and any such further statement, that the objection relates to a matter which can be dealt with in the assessment of compensation⁹ or, in the case of an order relating to land¹⁰ within the area of a new town¹¹, that the objection is made on the ground that the acquisition is unnecessary or inexpedient, he or the Assembly may treat the objection as irrelevant for the purpose of making a final decision¹². If:

- 4814 (1) after considering the grounds of the objection as so set out, the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that he or it is sufficiently informed, for the purpose of making a final decision, as to the matters to which the objection relates; or
- 4815 (2) where a further statement has been required, it is not submitted within the specified period, he or the Assembly may make a final decision without further investigation as to those matters¹³.

Subject to the power to disregard irrelevant objections and to make a decision when satisfied that he or it is sufficiently informed, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 4816 (a) must, before making a final decision, afford to the objector an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed for the purpose by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly; and
- 4817 (b) must, if the person making the objection avails himself of that opportunity, afford an opportunity of appearing and being heard on the same occasion to the acquiring authority¹⁴ and to any other persons to whom it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be expedient to afford it¹⁵.

If, however, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the matters to which the objection relates are such as to require investigation by public local inquiry¹⁶ before he or the Assembly makes a final decision, he or it must¹⁷ cause such an inquiry to be held¹⁸.

- 1 For the meaning of 'compulsory purchase order' see PARA 1337 note 1 ante.
- 2 For these purposes, an objection is not treated as duly made unless (1) it is made within the time and in the manner specified in the notice required by the New Towns Act 1981 ss 10(1), 11(1), Sch 4 para 2 (see PARA 1337 ante); and (2) a statement in writing of the grounds of the objection is comprised in or submitted with the objection: Sch 4 para 4(1).

1340. Contemporaneous proceedings.

Where proceedings are necessary¹ in relation to an order authorising a compulsory acquisition of land² and that land is in an area proposed to be designated as the site of a new town³ by an order a draft of which has been published in accordance with the relevant statutory provisions⁴, the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ may by regulations provide for enabling the proceedings relating to the compulsory acquisition to be taken, so far as may be practicable, contemporaneously with the proceedings on the designation order⁷.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published⁸ a draft of an order which he or it proposes to make⁹ designating an area as the site of a new town ('the designation order') and the designation order has not been made, a local highway authority may, pending the making of the designation order, take such proceedings¹⁰ as are required to be taken by that authority in respect of the making of a compulsory purchase order in respect of land in that area¹¹.

Where, in respect of any new town ('the new town'), the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published¹² a draft of an order which he or it proposed to make¹³, varying the designation order which designated the site of the new town so as to include therein an additional area of land ('the additional area'), and the varying order has not yet been made, any proceedings required¹⁴ to be taken for the purposes of an order for the compulsory purchase by the development corporation of land in the additional area may be taken contemporaneously with any proceedings required by the New Towns Act 1981 to be taken in connection with the varying order¹⁵.

1341. Confirmation by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

Subject to the statutory provisions relating to objections¹ in any case in which those provisions have effect, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may confirm the compulsory purchase order⁴ with or without modification, but may not, unless all persons interested consent, so modify it as to extend it to any land which was not designated by the order as submitted⁵.

Where there is submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly a compulsory purchase order⁶ authorising the acquisition of any land forming a frontage to, or abutting on or adjacent to, a road, and the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied as respects the whole or any part of the land:

- 4818 (1) that the acquisition would be requisite only for the purpose of controlling development⁷; and
- 4819 (2) that every owner⁸ has entered, or is willing to enter, into an agreement⁹ with the local highway authority¹⁰ or the Secretary of State or the Assembly, or is bound by such an agreement, and that the agreement or proposed agreement is satisfactory for that purpose, the order may not be confirmed so as to authorise the acquisition of any part of the land as to which the Secretary of State or the Assembly is so satisfied¹¹.

As soon as may be after the order has been confirmed, the acquiring authority¹² must publish in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land designated by the order is situated a notice in the prescribed form¹³ describing the land, stating that the order has been confirmed, and naming a place where a copy of the order and of the map and any annexed descriptive matter may be seen at any reasonable hour, and must serve a like notice on:

- 4820 (a) any owner or occupier of any of the land thereby designated by the order who, at any time after the publication of the notice of the order as submitted, has sent to the acquiring authority a request¹⁴ in writing to serve him with the notice required by this provision giving an address for service and the prescribed particulars¹⁵ of his interest;
- 4821 (b) any person who has duly made¹⁶ an objection to the order and at the time of making it or afterwards has sent to the acquiring authority such a request; and
- 4822 (c) such other persons, if any, as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify, whether individually or as members of a class of persons¹⁷.

1342. Acquisition of common land etc.

In so far as a compulsory purchase order¹ authorises the acquisition of any land² in England forming part of any common³, open space⁴ or fuel or field garden allotment⁵, the order is subject to special parliamentary procedure⁶ unless the Secretary of State⁷ is satisfied:

- 4823 (1) that there has been or will be given in exchange for such land other land, not being less in area and being equally advantageous to the persons, if any, entitled to rights of common or other rights, and to the public, and that the land given in exchange has been or will be vested in the persons in whom the land acquired was vested, and subject to the like rights, trusts and incidents as attached to the land acquired⁸; or

- 4824 (2) that the land is required for the widening of an existing highway and that the giving of other land in exchange is unnecessary, whether in the interests of the persons, if any, entitled to rights of common or other rights or in the interests of the public, and certifies accordingly⁹.

Where it is proposed so to give a certificate, the Secretary of State must give public notice of his intention to do so, and may give the certificate after:

- 4825 (a) affording opportunity to all persons interested to make representations and objections in relation thereto; and 4826 (b) causing a public local inquiry¹⁰ to be held in any case where it appears to him to be expedient to do so, having regard to any representations or objections made; and 4827 (c) considering any representations and objections made, and, if an inquiry has been held, the report of the person who made the inquiry¹¹.

As soon as may be after the giving of such a certificate the acquiring authority¹² must publish in the London Gazette and, in each of two successive weeks, in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land designated by the order is situated, a notice in the prescribed form¹³ stating that the certificate has been given¹⁴.

- 4831 (4) a universal postal service provider⁵ in connection with the provision of a universal postal service⁶, and 'statutory undertaking' is to be construed accordingly⁷. The Environment Agency⁸, every water undertaker and every sewerage undertaker⁹ are deemed to be statutory undertakers, and each of its undertakings a statutory undertaking, for these purposes¹⁰. Gas transporters¹¹ and certain electricity suppliers¹² are also deemed to be statutory undertakers and their undertakings statutory undertakings for these purposes¹³.

Subject to certain exceptions¹⁴, and except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'operational land', in relation to statutory undertakers, means:

- 4832 (i) land¹⁵ which is used for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking;
and
- 4833 (ii) land in which an interest is held for that purpose, not being land which, in respect of its nature and situation, is comparable rather with land in general than with land which is used, or in which interests are held, for the purpose of the carrying on of statutory undertakings¹⁶.

4 For these purposes: (1) a person who holds a licence under ibid Pt I Ch I (as amended) is not to be considered to be a statutory undertaker unless the person is carrying out activities authorised by the licence; (2) the person's undertaking is not to be considered to be a statutory undertaking except to the extent that it is the person's undertaking as licence holder: New Towns Act 1981 s 79(1A) (added by the Transport Act 2000 s 37, Sch 5 para 5(1), (3)).

5 For these purposes, 'universal postal service provider' means a universal service provider within the meaning of the Postal Services Act 2000; and references to the provision of a universal postal service are to be construed in accordance with that Act: New Towns Act 1981 s 80(1) (definition added by the Postal Services Act 2000 (Consequential Modifications No 1) Order 2001, SI 2001/1149, art 3(1), Sch 1 para 53).

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/C. ACQUISITION OF LAND/(C) Operational Land of Statutory Undertakers/1345. Acquisitions by development corporations and local highway authorities.

1345. Acquisitions by development corporations and local highway authorities.

In England, in the case of operational land¹ of statutory undertakers², an order³ authorising the compulsory acquisition of that land by a development corporation⁴ or by a local highway authority⁵, instead of being made and confirmed in accordance with the normal procedure⁶, may be made, on the application⁷ of that development corporation or local highway authority, by the Secretary of State⁸ and the appropriate minister⁹ in accordance with the following provisions¹⁰.

As soon as may be after submitting the application to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister, the acquiring authority¹¹ must serve on every owner¹², lessee and occupier of any land to which the application relates a notice in the prescribed form¹³:

- 4834 (1) describing the land;
- 4835 (2) stating that an application¹⁴ has been submitted in relation to the land and is about to be considered by the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister;
- 4836 (3) naming a place where a copy of the application and of the map referred to in it may be seen at all reasonable hours; and
- 4837 (4) specifying the time, not being less than 28 days from the service of the notice, within which and the manner in which objections to the application may be made¹⁵.

If no objection is duly made¹⁶ by any of the persons on whom notices are required to be served, or if all objections so made are withdrawn, the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister may, if they think fit, make a compulsory purchase order in accordance with the application, with or without modifications, but may not, unless all persons interested consent, make the order with any modification which would extend it to any land to which the application did not relate¹⁷.

If any objection is duly made by any of the persons on whom notices are required to be served and is not withdrawn, the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister must:

- 4838 (a) before making an order on the application, consider the objection; and
- 4839 (b) if either the person by whom the objection was made or the acquiring authority so desires, afford that person and the acquiring authority an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister for that purpose, and may then, if they think fit, make an order on the application¹⁸.

A compulsory purchase order made on such an application must be in such form as the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister may determine, and must describe by reference to a map the land to which the order relates¹⁹. As soon as may be after a compulsory purchase order has been made on such an application, the acquiring authority must serve on every owner, lessee and occupier of any land to which the order relates a notice in the prescribed form²⁰ stating that the order has been made and naming a place where a copy of the order and of the map referred to therein may be seen at any reasonable hour²¹.

In Wales, the functions of the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister under the above provisions are transferred to and exercised by the National Assembly for Wales²².

1346. Acquisitions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

In the case of operational land¹ of statutory undertakers², an order³ authorising the compulsory acquisition of that land by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ may, instead of being made as provided by the normal statutory provisions⁶, be made by the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister⁷ or by the Assembly in accordance with the following provisions⁸. A compulsory purchase order so made must be in such form as the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or, as the case may be, the Assembly, may determine, and must describe by reference to a map the land to which the order relates⁹.

Where the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister propose, or the Assembly proposes, to make such an order, they or it must prepare a draft of it, and must then as soon as may be serve on every owner¹⁰, lessee and occupier of any land to which the draft relates a notice in such form as they or the Assembly may determine:

- 4840 (1) describing the land;
- 4841 (2) stating that the making of the order is proposed;
- 4842 (3) naming a place where a copy of the draft and of the map referred to in the draft may be seen at any reasonable hour; and
- 4843 (4) specifying the time, not being less than 28 days from the service of the notice, within which and the manner in which objections to the proposal may be made¹¹.

In relation to such an order the statutory provisions relating to acquisitions by development corporations and local highway authorities¹² have effect with specified¹³ modifications¹⁴.

1348. Statutory undertakers' power to challenge acquisition.

Where a compulsory purchase order¹ is submitted, or is proposed to be made, in accordance with the relevant statutory provisions², and with respect to any land³, being the whole or part of the land to which the order relates, statutory undertakers⁴ make to the appropriate minister⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ in the prescribed manner⁷ and within the time within which objections to the order may be made, (1) a representation that the first-mentioned land is operational land⁸; and (2) a request for that land to be excluded from the order, and it is determined that that land is operational land, then:

- 4844 (a) if that land constitutes the whole of the land to which the order relates, the order may not be confirmed or made, as the case may be; and 4845 (b) if that land forms part only of the land to which the order relates, the order must be modified so as to exclude that land⁹.

Where, however, in the case of a compulsory purchase order for the acquisition of land by a development corporation¹⁰, any land to which the order relates is within the area of a new town¹¹ and is land in relation to which the above provisions would otherwise apply, they do not apply in relation to that land if:

- 4846 (i) no representation was made¹² with respect thereto; or 4847 (ii) such an order as is described below¹³ has come into force with respect thereto¹⁴.

Where it is proposed to make a designation order¹⁵, any statutory undertakers may, with respect to any land within the area to be designated by the order as the site of the proposed new town, make to the appropriate minister or, as the case may be, to the Assembly, in the prescribed form¹⁶ and within the time allowed for making objections to the order, a representation that that land is operational land¹⁷. Where a representation is so made with respect to any land, the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or, as the case may be, the Assembly may make an order¹⁸ declaring that it is expedient that that land should be subject to compulsory acquisition¹⁹.

(E) COMPENSATION

1350. Measure of compensation; in general.

The general statutory provisions relating to compensation in connection with the compulsory acquisition of land¹ in their application for the purposes of the New Towns Act 1981 have effect subject to any necessary modifications and subject to the following provisions².

The Lands Tribunal may not take into account any interest in land³ or any enhancement of the value of any interest in land by reason of any building erected, work done or improvement or alteration made, whether on the land acquired or on any other land with which the claimant is, or was at the time of the erection, doing or making of the building, works, improvement or alteration, directly or indirectly concerned, if that tribunal is satisfied that the creation of the interest, the erection of the building, the doing of the work, the making of the improvement, or the alteration, as the case may be, was not reasonably necessary and was undertaken with a view to obtaining compensation or increased compensation⁴.

Compensation where permission for additional development is granted after acquisition⁵ is not payable⁶ in respect of a planning decision in so far as it relates to land acquired, whether compulsorily or by agreement, by a development corporation or a highway authority in connection with a new town area under the New Towns Act 1981⁷.

Where statutory undertakers⁸ are entitled to compensation in respect of a compulsory acquisition⁹ of operational land¹⁰, special statutory provisions¹¹ have effect as regards the assessment of the amount of that compensation¹².

9 For these purposes, 'compensation in respect of a compulsory acquisition' includes compensation payable (1) in connection with the acquisition for damage sustained by reason of the severing of the land acquired from other land held therewith or otherwise injuriously affecting such other land; and (2) for disturbance or any other matter not directly based on the value of the land: New Towns Act 1981 s 15(2).

1350 Measure of compensation; in general

TEXT AND NOTE 4--Reference to the Lands Tribunal is now to the Upper Tribunal: New Towns Act 1981 Sch 6 para 6 (amended by SI 2009/1307).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/17. URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(ii) Establishment of New Towns/C. ACQUISITION OF LAND/(E) Compensation/1351. Assessment of compensation for statutory undertakers.

1351. Assessment of compensation for statutory undertakers.

Where statutory undertakers¹ are entitled to compensation², the amount of the compensation is³ an amount calculated in accordance with the following provisions⁴. That amount is the aggregate of the following amounts, that is to say:

- 4852 (1) the amount of any expenditure reasonably incurred in acquiring land⁵, providing apparatus, erecting buildings or doing work for the purpose of any adjustment of the carrying on of the undertaking rendered necessary by the proceeding giving rise to compensation⁶;
- 4853 (2) whichever of the following is applicable, namely:
- 416
- 6. (a) where such an adjustment is made, the estimated amount of any decrease in net receipts⁷ from the carrying on of the undertaking pending the adjustment, in so far as the decrease is directly attributable to the proceeding giving rise to compensation, together with such amount as appears reasonable compensation for any estimated decrease in net receipts from the carrying on of the undertaking in the period after the adjustment has been completed, in so far as the decrease is directly attributable to the adjustment; or
 - 7. (b) where no such adjustment is made, such amount as appears reasonable compensation for any estimated decrease in net receipts from the carrying on of the undertaking which is directly attributable to the proceeding giving rise to compensation;
- 417
- 4854 (3) where the compensation is in respect of the imposition of a requirement to remove apparatus⁸, the amount of any expenditure reasonably incurred by the statutory undertakers in complying with the requirement, reduced by the value after removal of the apparatus removed⁹.

Where any such adjustment as is mentioned in head (1) above is made, the aggregate amount therein mentioned must be reduced by such amount, if any, as appears to the Lands Tribunal to be appropriate to offset:

- 4855 (i) the estimated value of any property, whether movable or immovable, belonging to the statutory undertakers and used for the carrying on of their undertaking which, in consequence of the adjustment, ceases to be so used, in so far as the value of the property has not been taken into account under head (3) above; and
- 4856 (ii) the estimated amount of any increase in net receipts from the carrying on of the undertaking in the period after the adjustment has been completed, in so far as that amount has not been taken into account under head (2) above and is directly attributable to the adjustment, and by any further amount which appears to the Lands Tribunal to be appropriate, having regard to any increase in the capital value of immovable property belonging to the statutory undertakers which is directly attributable to the adjustment, allowance being made for any reduction made under head (ii) above¹⁰.

Where the amount of any such compensation¹¹ falls to be ascertained in accordance with the above provisions¹², the compensation must, in default of agreement, be assessed by the Lands Tribunal if it would not otherwise fall to be so assessed¹³.

Where statutory undertakers are entitled to compensation in respect of a compulsory acquisition, they may by notice¹⁴ in writing elect¹⁵ that the compensation shall be ascertained in accordance with the enactments¹⁶ which would be applicable apart from these provisions; and, if the undertakers so elect, the compensation must be ascertained accordingly¹⁷.

- 4 Ibid Sch 7 para 1(1).

- 6 For these purposes, 'proceeding giving rise to compensation' means the particular action, ie the acquisition, the extinguishment of a right or the imposition of a requirement, in respect of which compensation falls to be assessed, as distinct from any development or project in connection with which that action may have been taken: New Towns Act 1981 Sch 7 para 1(5).
- 7 For these purpose, references to a decrease in net receipts are to be construed as references to the amount by which a balance of receipts over expenditure is decreased, or a balance of expenditure over receipts is increased, or, where a balance of receipts over expenditure is converted into a balance of expenditure over receipts, as references to the aggregate of the two balances; and references to an increase in net receipts are to be construed accordingly: ibid Sch 7 para 1(4).

- 12 le the provisions of ibid Sch 7 para 1: see the text and notes 1-10 supra.
- 13 Ibid Sch 7 para 3(1). For the purposes of any proceedings arising before the Lands Tribunal in respect of compensation so falling to be ascertained, the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 2 (as amended) and s 4 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND) apply as they apply to proceedings on a question referred to the tribunal under s 1 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARAS 718, 721), but with the substitution in s 4 for references to the acquiring authority of references to the person from whom the compensation is claimed: New Towns Act 1981 Sch 7 para 3(2). For the meaning of 'acquiring authority' see PARA 1335 note 2 ante.
- 14 Any such notice must be given to the acquiring authority before the end of the period of two months from the date of service of notice to treat in respect of the interest of the statutory undertakers: ibid Sch 7 para 2(3). As to the service of notice to treat see PARA 1313 post.

UPDATE

1351 Assessment of compensation for statutory undertakers

TEXT AND NOTES 10-13--The Lands Tribunal has been abolished and its functions have been transferred to the Upper Tribunal: Transfer of Tribunal Functions (Lands Tribunal and Miscellaneous Amendments) Order 2009, SI 2009/1307, art 2 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 720 et seq). New Towns Act 1981 Sch 7 paras 1(3), 3(1), (2) amended: SI 2009/1307.

Establishment of New Towns/C. ACQUISITION OF LAND/(F) Application of Other Statutes/1352. Application of the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965.

(F) APPLICATION OF OTHER STATUTES

1352. Application of the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965.

Part I of the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965¹ applies in relation to the acquisition of land² under the New Towns Act 1981 subject to any necessary adaptations and to specified³ modifications⁴.

Nothing in Part I of the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965⁵ as so applied in relation to the acquisition of land by agreement, or in the New Towns Act 1981 as so applying, enables a local authority⁶ to sell for the purpose of the New Towns Act 1981, without the consent of any minister, any land which the authority could not otherwise have sold without that consent⁷. The acquiring authority is entitled⁸, without prejudice to any power in that behalf otherwise exercisable by that authority, to acquire one or some of two or more interests subsisting in the land without acquiring the other interest or interests subsisting in it⁹.

If the acquiring authority has, in respect of any of the land, served¹⁰ notice to treat on every owner¹¹ of that land, the authority may at any time afterwards serve a notice:

- 4857 (1) on every occupier of any of that land; and
- 4858 (2) on every person, other than such an occupier, who, having been served with a notice to treat in respect of that land, has requested the acquiring authority in writing to serve him with any notice under this provision and has given the authority an address for its service, describing the land to which the notice relates and stating the authority's intention to enter on and take possession of it at the expiry of such period, not being less than 14 days, as may be specified in the notice¹². The acquiring authority may enter on and take possession of the land to which such notice or notices relate:

- 4859 (a) at the expiry of the period specified in the notice; or
- 4860 (b) where two or more such notices are required, and the periods specified in the several notices do not expire at the same time, at the expiry of the last of those periods; or
- 4861 (c) at any time after those expiries, without previous consent or compliance with the relevant provisions of the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965¹³ but subject to payment of the like compensation for the land of which possession is taken, and interest on the compensation agreed or awarded, as the authority would have been required to pay if those provisions had been complied with¹⁴.

3 le subject to the modifications specified in the New Towns Act 1981 s 14(1), Sch 6 Pt I (paras 1-5). The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 Pt I (as amended) as applied by the New Towns Act 1981 has effect as if the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 27 (now repealed) and s 32 (commencement) were omitted: New Towns Act 1981 Sch 6 para 1(1). In construing the 1965 Act as applied by the 1981 Act:

76 (1) the 1981 Act or, in relation to a compulsory acquisition, the 1981 Act and the compulsory purchase order, are deemed to be the special Act (New Towns Act 1981 Sch 6 para 1(2)(a));

- 77 (2) 'the acquiring authority' has the meaning given by the 1981 Act (see PARA 1335 note 2 ante) (Sch 6 para 1(2)(b));
- 78 (3) 'subject to compulsory purchase', in relation to a compulsory acquisition, means land the compulsory purchase of which is authorised by the compulsory purchase order and, in relation to the acquisition of land by agreement, means land which may be purchased by agreement under the 1981 Act (Sch 6 para 1(2)(c));
- 79 (4) references to the execution of the works are to be construed as including references to any erection, construction or carrying out of buildings or works authorised by the 1981 Act (Sch 6 para 1(2)(d));
- 80 (5) in relation to any erection, construction or carrying out of any building or works so authorised, references in the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 10 (as amended) (compensation for injurious affection: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 718) to the promoters of the undertaking are to be construed as references to the person by whom the buildings or works in question are erected, constructed or carried out (New Towns Act 1981 Sch 6 para 1(2)(e)); and
- 81 (6) references to the execution of the works are to be construed as including also references to any erection, construction or carrying out of buildings or works on behalf of the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, on behalf of the Assembly on land acquired by him or by it under the New Towns Act 1981 s 11 (as amended) (see PARA 1334 ante), where the buildings or works are erected, constructed or carried out for the purposes for which the land was acquired (Sch 6 para 1(2)).

is blighted land in relation to which the relevant provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁶ apply⁷.

(iii) Development of New Towns

A. CONTROL OF DEVELOPMENT

1357. Planning control.

In relation to a new town¹, the development corporation² must from time to time submit to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴, in accordance with any directions given by him or by the Assembly in that behalf, its proposals for the development⁵ of land⁶ within the area of the new town⁷.

After consultation⁸ with the district or other appropriate planning authority⁹ within whose area the land is situated and with any other local authority¹⁰ which appears to be concerned, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may approve any such proposals, either with or without modification¹¹.

A special development order made¹² by the Secretary of State or the Assembly with respect to the area of a new town may grant permission for any development of land in accordance with proposals so approved; and such permission is subject to such conditions, if any, including conditions requiring details of any proposed development to be submitted to the district or other appropriate planning authority¹³, as may be specified in the order¹⁴.

In the case of land¹ which forms a frontage to a road, or which abuts on or is adjacent to a road, a local highway authority² or the Secretary of State³ (or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴) may enter into an agreement with any owner⁵ of the land imposing on the land, so far as that owner's interest in the land enables him to bind it, restrictions for controlling the development⁶ of the land⁷.

Any restrictions imposed by such an agreement may be enforced by the local highway authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly, as the case may be, against the owner and any person deriving title under him in the like manner and to the like extent as if that authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly were possessed of, or interested in, adjacent land, and as if that agreement had been entered into for the benefit of that land⁸.

1360. Permitted development.

The carrying out by a development corporation¹ within its area² of development in accordance with proposals approved³ by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵, not being development for which permission under the statutory provisions relating to control of development generally⁶ is otherwise granted or deemed to be granted⁷, is permitted subject:

4864 (1) to such of the specified limitations and conditions⁸ as are applicable to the development⁹; and 4865 (2) in the case of the carrying out of development which is deemed¹⁰ to be the carrying out of development by a development corporation, to the development being commenced within a period of five years from the date on which the development corporation disposed of the land¹¹.

1 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'development corporation' means a development corporation established by an order under the New Towns Act 1981 s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1322 ante); Town and Country Planning (New Towns) Special Development Order 1977, SI 1977/665, art 2(1); Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(a).

2 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'its area', in relation to any development corporation, means the area designated by an order under the New Towns Act 1981 s 1 (as amended) (see PARA 1315 ante) made in respect of the new town for the purposes of which the corporation was established: Town and Country Planning (New Towns) Special Development Order 1977, SI 1977/665, art 2(1); Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(a).

10 le by the Town and Country Planning (New Towns) Special Development Order 1977, SI 1977/665, art 3(2). For these purposes, the carrying out of development on land held or formerly held by a development corporation by a person coming within either of the specified descriptions is deemed to be the carrying out of such development by the development corporation where (1) the development is authorised development; (2) the development corporation had, before disposing of the land, complied with any requirements of art 8 (as amended) (see PARA 1363 post) which were applicable to the development; (3) the development corporation has sent a copy of the authorisation to the district planning authority or, where the land is in Wales or in a metropolitan county in England, the local planning authority, in whose area the land is situated: art 3(2) (amended by SI 1986/435; and by virtue of the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994, s 66(6), Sch 16 para 63(2)). The Town and Country Planning (New Towns) Special Development Order 1977, SI 1977/665, art 3(2) (as so amended) applies to any person coming within either of the following descriptions, ie (a) a person to whom a development corporation has disposed of land; or (b) a successor in title or lessee of such a person as is referred to in head (a) supra: art 3(3) (amended by SI 1985/1579). Unless the context otherwise requires, 'authorised development' means development of land which has been authorised in writing by a development corporation at the time when it disposes of the land on which the development is to be carried out; and references in the Town and Country Planning (New Towns) Special Development Order 1977, SI 1977/665, art 8 (as amended) to the authorising of development by a development corporation are to be construed accordingly: art 2(1). 1361. Exceptions from permitted development.

Where planning permission for development has been granted¹ and that permission has subsequently been revoked², nothing in the special development order³ operates so as to permit the carrying out of development of the same description as that which was authorised by the revoked permission on the land to which the revoked permission applied⁴. Where the use of land for any purpose is required⁵ to be discontinued, or any conditions are imposed on the continuance of it, or where any buildings⁶ or works are required⁷ to be altered or removed, nothing in the special development order operates to permit the carrying out of any development which would result in the resumption of the use of the land or the replacement or restoration of the buildings or works, as the case may be, as they were before the order for discontinuance, alteration or removal took effect⁸.

Notice of a direction so given must, except in the case of development to be carried out by the development corporation⁷, be served by the corporation on the owner and occupier of every part of the land affected; and such direction comes into force in respect of any part of the land on the date on which notice of it is served on the occupier of that part or, if there is no occupier, on the owner⁸.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(iii) Development of New Towns/A. CONTROL OF DEVELOPMENT/1363. Consultation before development.

1363. Consultation before development.

In any of the following cases, it is a condition of permission granted by the special development order¹ that, before the development corporation² undertakes or authorises³ any development, it must consult⁴ with the following authorities or persons, namely:

- 4866 (1) in the case of development consisting of the formation, laying out or alteration of an unapproved means of access⁵ to a trunk road⁶, with the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, with the National Assembly for Wales⁸ at such office or address as he or it may appoint⁹;
 - 4867 (2) in the case of development consisting of the formation, laying out or alteration of an unapproved means of access to a classified road¹⁰, or to a highway¹¹ shown in a proposal approved¹² by the Secretary of State or the Assembly as a highway access to which is required to be the subject of such consultation, with the local highway authority¹³;
 - 4868 (3) in the case of development consisting of the laying out or construction of a new street¹⁴, with the local highway authority¹⁵;
 - 4869 (4) in the case of development which appears to the development corporation likely to affect land outside its area¹⁶, with the district planning authority¹⁷ or, where the land is in Wales or in a metropolitan county¹⁸, with the local planning authority¹⁹ for the area in which the land is situated, unless that authority has already been formally consulted²⁰;
 - 4870 (5) where the development consists of the erection of a building²¹, other than an alteration, extension or re-erection of an existing building or the erection of a building of a temporary character, in an area of coal working notified by the former British Coal Corporation or by the Coal Authority to the appropriate local planning authority, with the Coal Authority²²;
 - 4871 (6) where the development is of land which is situated within 3 kilometres from Windsor Great Park or Windsor Home Park or which is within 800 metres of any royal palace or from any other royal park, and might affect the amenities of that palace or park, with the Secretary of State at such office or address as he may appoint²³;
 - 4872 (7) where the development consists of or includes:
- 418
- 8. (a) the carrying out of works or operations in the bed or on the banks of a river or stream;
 - 9. (b) the carrying out of building or other operations or use of land for the purpose of refining or storing mineral oils and their derivatives;
 - 10. (c) the use of land for the deposit of any kind of refuse or waste;

- 12. (e) the use of land as a cemetery,

4875 (9) where the development is of any land on which there is a theatre²⁸, with the Theatres Trust²⁹; and 4876 (10) in the case of development of a class of development specified in any direction³⁰ for the time being in force by which a local planning authority is required to consult with any authority or person other than the development corporation in respect of applications for planning permission, with that authority or person³¹.

When it is so required to consult with any authority or other person, the development corporation must:

- 4877 (i) give to such authority or person not less than 21 days' notice in writing, specifying the site of the proposed development and giving particulars sufficient to describe it, and may not undertake or authorise the development until after the expiration of the period of such notice; and
- 4878 (ii) take into account any objections or representations received from such authority or person³².

Where any objection or representation has been made by an authority or person so consulted and has not been withdrawn, the development corporation must send particulars in writing of the proposal and of the objection or representation to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, and may not undertake or authorise the development in pursuance of the special development order until he or the Assembly has notified it that he or the Assembly does not intend to give a direction³³ in respect of the development³⁴.

C. POWERS EXERCISABLE IN RELATION TO ACQUIRED LAND

1367. Power to override easements and other rights.

The erection, construction or carrying out, or maintenance, of any building or work on land¹ which has been acquired² by a development corporation³ or local highway authority⁴, whether done by the corporation or authority or by any other person, is authorised by virtue of the following provisions if it is done in accordance with planning permission⁵, notwithstanding that it involves:

- 4883 (1) interference with any easement, liberty, privilege, right or advantage annexed to land and adversely affecting other land, including any natural right to support⁶;
- 4884 (2) a breach of a restriction as to the user of land arising by virtue of a contract⁷.

Compensation is payable⁸ in respect of any such interference or breach⁹.

Nothing in head (1) or head (2) above authorises interference with any right of way or right of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining apparatus on, under or over land, being a right vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers¹⁰ for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking or a right conferred by or in accordance with the electronic communications code on the operator of an electronic communications code network¹¹; and nothing in the above provisions is to be construed as authorising any act or omission:

- 4885 (a) on the part of any person which is actionable at the suit of any person on any grounds other than such an interference or breach as is mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above¹²;
- 4886 (b) on the part of a development corporation or local highway authority, or of any body corporate, in contravention of any limitation imposed by law on its capacity by virtue of the constitution of the corporation, authority or body¹³.

purchase by a development corporation or local highway authority; or (2) the injury arises from the execution of works on land acquired by such a corporation or authority: New Towns Act 1981 s 19(4).

Where a person other than the development corporation or local highway authority by which the land in question was acquired is liable to pay compensation by virtue of s 19(4) and fails to discharge that liability, the liability is enforceable against that corporation or authority (s 19(5)); but nothing in s 19(5) is to be construed as affecting any agreement between that corporation or authority and any other person for indemnifying the corporation or authority against any liability under s 19(5) (s 19(6)).

1374. Extinguishment of public rights of way.

Where any land¹ has been acquired for the statutory purposes²:

4901 (1) by a development corporation³ or local highway authority⁴ and is for the time being held by that corporation or authority for those purposes; or

4902 (2) by the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ and is for the time being held for the purposes for which he or the Assembly acquired it, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may by order extinguish any public right of way over the land⁷.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to make such an order, he or it must publish in such manner as appears to him or to it to be requisite a notice stating the effect of the order and specifying the time, not being less than 28 days from the publication of the notice, within which and the manner in which objections to the proposal may be made, and must serve a like notice on the district planning authority⁸ or, in the case of Wales, on the local planning authority⁹ in whose area the land is situated and, if different, on the relevant highway authority¹⁰. Where an objection to a proposal to make such an order is duly made¹¹ and is not withdrawn, the statutory procedure for dealing with objections¹² has effect in relation to the proposal¹³.

Where it is proposed to make such an order extinguishing a public right of way over a road on land acquired¹⁴ by a development corporation and compensation in respect of restrictions¹⁵ has been paid by the highway authority¹⁶, the order may provide for the payment by the development corporation to that authority, in respect of the compensation so paid, of such sums as the Secretary of State, with the Treasury's consent, or as the Assembly may determine¹⁷.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that the construction or improvement of a road is or will be needed in consequence of the extinguishment of a public right of way under these provisions, the statutory provisions relating to acquisition of land for highways¹⁸ apply as they apply where he or the Assembly is satisfied that the construction or improvement of a road is needed¹⁹ as mentioned therein²⁰.

1376. Extinguishment of rights of way and removal of apparatus.

Where, in the case of any land¹ which has been acquired:

- 4908 (1) for the purposes of the New Towns Act 1981 by a development corporation² or local highway authority³ and is for the time being held by that corporation or authority for those purposes; or
- 4909 (2) under that Act by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ and is for the time being held for the purposes for which he or the Assembly acquired it⁶, there subsists over that land a right, being a right of way or a right of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining apparatus⁷, or there is on, under or over the land, apparatus⁸ vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking, then the acquiring authority⁹ may serve on the statutory undertakers¹⁰ a notice stating that, at the end of such period as may be specified in the notice, the right will be extinguished, or requiring that, before the end of such period as may be so specified, the apparatus shall be removed¹¹.

The statutory undertakers on whom a notice is so served may, before the end of the period of 28 days from the service of the notice, serve a counter-notice on the acquiring authority stating that they object to all or any of the provisions of the notice, and specifying the grounds of their objection¹². If a counter-notice is so served:

- 4912 (i) on a development corporation or local highway authority, the corporation or authority may either withdraw the notice, without prejudice to the service of a further notice, or may apply to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister¹⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly for an order¹⁶ embodying the provisions of the notice, with or without modification; and, if such an application is made, the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or the Assembly may make such an order accordingly¹⁷;

Where the Secretary of State¹ and the appropriate minister², or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³, propose or proposes to make an order for the extinguishment of rights of way or removal of apparatus after service of a counter-notice on them or on the Assembly⁴, they or the Assembly must prepare a draft of the order⁵.

The powers so conferred are also exercisable where, on a representation made by a development corporation¹⁰, it appears to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister, or to the Assembly, to be expedient that the powers and duties of statutory undertakers should be extended or modified in order to secure the provision of new services, or to secure the extension of existing services, for the purposes of a new town¹¹.

As soon as may be after making such a representation¹², the statutory undertakers or the development corporation, as the case may be, must publish, in such form and manner as may be directed by the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or by the Assembly, a notice:

4920 (i) giving such particulars as may be so directed of the matters to which the representation relates; and

and must also, if it is so directed by the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or by the Assembly, serve a like notice on such persons, or persons of such classes, as may be so directed¹⁴.

Where the powers so conferred are exercisable, the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or the Assembly may, if they think or it thinks fit, by order¹⁵ provide for such extension or modification of the powers and duties of the statutory undertakers as appears to them or to the Assembly to be requisite in order to secure the provision of the services¹⁶ or the adjustment¹⁷ in question, as the case may be¹⁸. Such an order may provide¹⁹:

- 4922 (A) for empowering the statutory undertakers to acquire, whether compulsorily or by agreement, any land specified in the order, and to erect or construct any buildings or works so specified;
- 4923 (B) for applying, in relation to the acquisition of any such land or the construction of any such works, enactments²⁰ relating to the acquisition of land and the construction of works;
- 4924 (C) where it has been represented that the making of the order is expedient for specified purposes²¹, for giving effect to such financial arrangements between the development corporation and the statutory undertakers as they may agree or, in default of agreement, as may be determined to be equitable in such manner and by such tribunal as may be specified in the order;
- 4925 (D) for such incidental and supplemental matters as appear to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or to the Assembly to be expedient for the purposes of the order²².

1379. Relief from obligations rendered impracticable.

Where, on a representation made by statutory undertakers¹, the appropriate minister² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ is satisfied that the fulfilment of any obligation incurred by those undertakers in connection with the carrying on of their undertaking has been rendered impracticable by:

4926 (1) the compulsory acquisition⁴ of any land⁵ in which an interest was held, or which was used, for the purpose of the carrying on of the undertaking of the statutory undertakers; or the appropriate minister or the Assembly may, if he or it thinks fit, by order direct that the statutory undertakers shall be relieved of the fulfilment of that obligation, either absolutely or to such extent as may be specified in the order⁷.

As soon as may be after so making a representation to the appropriate minister or the Assembly, the statutory undertakers must, as may be directed by the appropriate minister or by the Assembly, either:

4928 (a) publish, in such form and manner as may be so directed, a notice giving such particulars as may be so directed of the matters to which the representation relates, and specifying the time within which, and the manner in which, objections to the making of an order on the representation may be made; or

4929 (b) serve such a notice on such persons, or persons of such classes, as may be so directed; or

and, if any objection to the making of such an order is duly made⁹ and is not withdrawn before the order is made, the order is subject to special parliamentary procedure¹⁰ unless made by the Assembly¹¹.

As soon as may be after an order has been so made, the appropriate minister or the Assembly must publish in such form and manner as he or it thinks fit a notice stating that the order has been made¹².

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(iii) Development of New Towns/E. PROCEDURE FOR DEALING WITH OBJECTIONS TO CERTAIN ORDERS/1380. Procedure for dealing with objections to orders relating to statutory undertakers and orders extinguishing public rights of way.

E. PROCEDURE FOR DEALING WITH OBJECTIONS TO CERTAIN ORDERS

1380. Procedure for dealing with objections to orders relating to statutory undertakers and orders extinguishing public rights of way.

Unless the relevant minister¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² decides, apart from the objection, not to make the order, or decides to make a modification which is agreed to by the objector as meeting the objection, the relevant minister or the Assembly:

- 4931 (1) must, before making a final decision³, consider the grounds of the objection as set out in the statement comprised in or submitted with the objection; and
- 4932 (2) may, if he or the Assembly thinks fit, require the objector to submit within a specified period a further statement in writing as to any of the matters to which the objection relates⁴.

In so far as the relevant minister or the Assembly, after considering the grounds of the objection as set out in the original statement and in any such further statement, is satisfied that the objection relates to a matter which can be dealt with in the assessment of compensation⁵, he or it may treat the objection as irrelevant for the purpose of making a final decision⁶. If:

- 4933 (a) after considering the grounds of the objection as set out in the original statement and in any such further statement, the relevant minister or the Assembly is satisfied that, for the purpose of making a final decision, he or it is sufficiently informed as to the matters to which the objection relates; or
- 4934 (b) where a further statement has been required, it is not submitted within the specified period, the relevant minister or the Assembly may make a final decision without further investigation as to those matters⁷.

The relevant minister or the Assembly must⁸:

- 4935 (i) before making a final decision, afford to the objector an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed for the purpose by the relevant minister or by the Assembly; and
- 4936 (ii) if the objector avails himself of that opportunity, afford an opportunity of appearing and being heard on the same occasion to the statutory undertakers⁹, development corporation¹⁰ or other person, if any, on whose representation the order is proposed to be made, and to any other person to whom it appears to the relevant minister or the Assembly to be expedient to afford such an opportunity¹¹.

Notwithstanding anything in the above provisions, if it appears to the relevant minister or to the Assembly that the matters to which the objection relates are such as to require investigation by public local inquiry¹² before he or it makes a final decision, he or it must cause an inquiry to be held; and, where he or the Assembly determines to cause such an inquiry to be held, any of the requirements of the above provisions to which effect has not been given at the time of that determination must be dispensed with¹³.

1 For these purposes, 'the relevant minister' means: (1) in relation to an order under the New Towns Act 1981 s 23 (as amended) (see PARA 1374 ante), the Secretary of State; (2) in relation to an order under s 28 (see PARA 1378 ante), the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister; (3) in relation to an order under s 30 (see PARA 1379 ante), the appropriate minister: ss 23(3), 31(2), Sch 8 para 1(a)-(c). For the meaning of 'the appropriate minister' and references to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister see PARA 1314 ante; and as to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the New Towns Act 1981 Sch 8, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For these purposes, any reference to making a final decision, in relation to an order, is a reference to deciding whether to make the order or what modification, if any, ought to be made: New Towns Act 1981 Sch 8 para 1.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(iii) Development of New Towns/F. MISCELLANEOUS FUNCTIONS/1381. Performance of sewerage undertaker's functions.

F. MISCELLANEOUS FUNCTIONS

1381. Performance of sewerage undertaker's functions.

A development corporation for a new town¹ may, in accordance with any arrangements which it has entered into for the purpose with any sewerage undertaker, carry out sewerage functions² on that undertaker's behalf in relation to such area, comprising the whole or any part of that corporation's relevant area³, as may be specified in the arrangements⁴. Arrangements so entered into may contain any such provision as may be agreed between the corporation and the undertaker but do not affect the availability to any person, other than the corporation, of any remedy against the undertaker in respect of the carrying out of the undertaker's sewerage functions or of any failure to carry them out⁵.

If arrangements entered into for these purposes so provide, a development corporation is entitled to exercise on behalf of a sewerage undertaker any power which by or under any enactment⁶ is exercisable by the undertaker for the purposes of, or in connection with, the carrying out of the undertaker's sewerage functions⁷.

1 For these purposes, 'new town' has the same meaning as in the New Towns Act 1981 (see PARA 1315 note 9 ante): Water Industry Act 1991 s 97(5).

2 For these purposes, 'sewerage functions', in relation to a sewerage undertaker, means any of the functions of the undertaker by virtue of its appointment under the Water Industry Act 1991 Pt II Ch 1 (ss 6-17) as a sewerage undertaker, other than its functions relating to sewage disposal and its functions by virtue of Pt IV Ch III (ss 118-141) (as amended): s 97(5).

3 For these purposes, 'relevant area', in relation to the development corporation for any new town, means that new town: ibid s 97(5).

4 Ibid s 97(1), (5) (s 97(5) amended by the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 129, Sch 15 para 17). As to sewerage undertakers see generally ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 46 (2010) PARA 999 et seq.

5 Water Industry Act 1991 s 97(2).

6 For these purposes, 'enactment' includes an enactment contained in the Water Industry Act 1991 or in any Act passed after that Act: s 219(1).

7 Ibid s 97(3). The Commission for the New Towns has similar powers in relation to any new town: see s 97(1), (5) (as amended: see note 4 supra). As to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq post.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(iii) Development of New Towns/F. MISCELLANEOUS FUNCTIONS/1382. Housing; in general.

1382. Housing; in general.

A development corporation has power to provide houses under its general powers of acquiring, managing and disposing of land and carrying out building operations¹; and has the same duties and powers in relation to rents for its dwellings as a local authority². Certain housing subsidies³ and housing and council tax benefit subsidies⁴ are payable to development corporations. These subsidies are also payable to the Commission for the New Towns⁵.

The Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ may by regulations make provision for requiring and authorising each new town corporation⁸ to take such steps as may be prescribed⁹ for making and giving effect to proposals for disposing of its housing stock, either by transferring it as a whole to a prescribed person or by transferring different parts of it to different prescribed persons¹⁰.

1 See PARA 1323 ante. As to permitted development see PARA 1360 ante. The tenant of a separate dwelling of which the landlord is a new town development corporation (ie the Commission for the New Towns or a development corporation) is a secure tenant for the purposes of the Housing Act 1985 (see ss 4(a)-(c), 80(1) (as amended)), and therefore has the right to purchase the dwelling and the right of security of tenure afforded to him by that Act (see Pt IV (ss 79-117) (as amended) (security of tenure) and Pt V (ss 118-188) (as amended) (right to buy); LANDLORD AND TENANT vol 27(2) (2006 Reissue) PARAS 1300 et seq; and LANDLORD AND TENANT vol 27(6) (2006 Reissue) 1795 et seq). Such a dwelling is exempt from Rent Act control over private sector housing: see PARA 1372 ante. As to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq post.

2 As to the variation of rent of a secure tenant see the Housing Act 1985 s 103; and LANDLORD AND TENANT vol 27(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1338.

7 As to the transfer of functions under the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 s 172 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

8 For these purposes, 'new town corporation' means the Commission for the New Towns or a development corporation within the meaning of the New Towns Act 1981: Local Government and Housing Act 1989 s 172(8) (definition amended by the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 152, Sch 18 Pt IV).

9 For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by or determined under regulations under the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 s 172(1): s 172(8).

1384. Functions and powers of the Commission.

The purposes for which the Commission for the New Towns exists are:

- 4940 (2) as soon as it considers it expedient to do so, to dispose of property so transferred and any other property held by it⁷, due regard being had to the specified⁸ considerations⁹.

The Commission has power¹⁰, with a view to the better fulfilment of any of the purposes mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above so far as they relate to property of development corporations, by the improvement of any of its towns, or to the convenience or welfare of persons residing, working or carrying on business there:

- 4943 (c) to promote or assist by any means, and in particular by making advances towards the costs of purchasing land, or of erecting, extending, improving or adapting buildings or works, the setting up or extension of businesses in the town¹⁴.

The Commission has power, with a view to the better fulfilment of any of the purposes mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above so far as they relate to property of urban development corporations:

- 4944 (i) to acquire, hold, manage and turn to account any land or other property, including any interest in or rights over land; and

The considerations so specified, in relation to any new town or urban development area, are (1) the convenience and welfare of person residing, working or carrying on business there; and (2) until disposal, the maintenance and enhancement of the value of the land held and the return obtained from it: s 36(2) (as so substituted and amended). For these purposes, 'urban development area' means land which is or was, or is or was part of, an urban development area (within the meaning of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Pt XVI (ss 134-172) (as amended) (see PARA 1426 et seq post)); and (a) any reference to property transferred to the Commission by order under s 165B (as added) includes a reference to rights and liabilities so transferred; and (b) in relation to liabilities so transferred, any reference to disposal includes a reference to extinguishment: New Towns Act 1981 s 36(4A) (as added: see note 6 supra).

A transaction between a person and the Commission is not, however, invalidated by reason of any non-compliance by the Commission with the obligation to have regard to the specified considerations; nor is any such transaction invalidated by reason of any non-compliance by the Commission with the requirement of the New Towns Act 1981 s 36(3) (as amended) that the Commission must exercise the powers conferred by s 36(3) (as amended) or s 36(3A) (as added) with the view there mentioned: s 36(4) (as amended: see note 6 supra). For the meaning of 'new town' see PARA 1315 note 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1313 note 7 ante.

9 Ibid s 36(1) (as substituted: see note 6 supra).

12 New Towns Act 1981 s 36(3)(a) (as amended: see note 6 supra). See also note 4 supra. As to housing see also PARA 1382 ante. Nothing in the New Towns (Transfer of Housing Stock) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1700 (as amended) prevents the Commission making a disposal in exercise of its powers under the New Towns Act 1981 s 36 (as amended): New Towns (Transfer of Housing Stock) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1700, reg 2(4) (added by SI 1990/2366).

13 New Towns Act 1981 s 36(3)(b) (as amended: see note 6 supra). As to sewerage functions see also PARA 1381 ante.

14 Ibid s 36(3)(c) (as amended: see note 6 supra). Where a building is proposed to be erected on land belonging to, or in the possession of, the Commission or a new town development corporation, the statutory requirement of a deposit or security before building on a private street (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 179) does not apply: Highways Act 1980 s 219(4)(i)(iii). A separate scheme of building regulation control applies to work carried out in relation to a building by certain public bodies: see the Building Act 1984 s 54, Sch 4; the Building (Approved Inspectors etc) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/2532 (as amended); and BUILDING vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 370 et seq.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(iv) The Commission for the New Towns/A. ESTABLISHMENT, FUNCTIONS AND GENERAL POWERS/1385. Restrictions on functions of the Commission.

1385. Restrictions on functions of the Commission.

The Commission for the New Towns does not have power:

- 4946 (1) to borrow money except in accordance with the specified¹ statutory provisions²;
- 4947 (2) to dispose of any property by way of mortgage or charge³.

In discharging its functions, the Commission must comply with such directions as may be given to it by the Secretary of State⁴ but, in giving any such direction, he must have regard to the Commission's obligation to have regard to the specified⁵ considerations⁶. A transaction between a person and the Commission is not, however, invalidated by reason of any failure by the Commission to comply with directions so given by the Secretary of State; and such a person is not to be concerned to see or inquire whether a direction has been so given or complied with⁷.

The Commission may not⁸, except under the general or special authority of the Secretary of State:

- 4948 (a) acquire land⁹ or any interest in or rights in or over land;
- 4949 (b) make contributions towards the cost of providing amenities, supplies or services;
- 4950 (c) make loans or advances or give guarantees;
- 4951 (d) develop¹⁰ land otherwise than in accordance with proposals submitted to, and approved by, the Secretary of State; or
- 4952 (e) dispose of any property by way of gift or for a consideration which is less than the best reasonably obtainable¹¹.

In so far as they are exercisable in Wales, the functions of the Secretary of State under the New Towns Act 1981 relating to the Commission have been transferred, formally, to the National Assembly for Wales¹² but it appears that in practice, although the Commission still exercises a role in relation to the former development corporation of Cwmbran in Wales¹³, it is regarded as coming under the remit of the Secretary of State¹⁴.

Where, however, the Commission purports to dispose of land by virtue of the New Towns Act 1981 s 36 (as amended), then (1) in favour of any person claiming under the Commission, the disposal so purporting to be made is not invalid by reason that any authority which is required under s 37(3)(e) (as so substituted) (see head (e) in the text) had not been given; and (2) a person dealing with the Commission or a person claiming under the Commission is not to be concerned to see or inquire whether any such authority has been given: s 37(6) (amended by the New Towns and Urban Development Corporations Act 1985 Sch 3 para 5(c)). TEXT AND NOTES--New Towns Act 1981 Sch 9 repealed: Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 Sch 5 para 30, Sch 16.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(2) NEW TOWNS/(v) Finance, Accounts and Audit/A. GENERAL FINANCIAL PROVISIONS/1396. Advances to development corporations and the Commission.

(v) Finance, Accounts and Audit

A. GENERAL FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

1396. Advances to development corporations and the Commission.

The Secretary of State¹ may² make to a development corporation³ or to the Commission for the New Towns⁴ advances repayable over such period, carrying interest at such rates and on such other terms as may be approved by the Treasury⁵. Such advances may be made for the purpose of enabling:

- 4965 (1) a development corporation to meet expenditure properly chargeable to capital account, including the provision of working capital, or to make good to revenue account sums applied in meeting liabilities so chargeable⁶;
- 4966 (2) the Commission to meet liabilities properly chargeable to capital account, including the provision of working capital, or to make good to revenue account sums applied in meeting liabilities so chargeable⁷.

The Secretary of State may also advance to the Commission any sums required by it to meet a deficit on revenue account; and any such advance is repayable over such period and carries interest at such rates and must be made on such other terms as may be approved by the Treasury; but the sum of the amounts outstanding at any one time in respect of the principal of the sums advanced under these provisions or the corresponding previous provisions⁸ may not exceed £1 million⁹.

The Treasury may issue to the Secretary of State out of the National Loans Fund such sums as are necessary to enable him to make any such advances¹⁰; and any sums received by the Secretary of State by way of repayment of or interest on such advances must be paid into the National Loans Fund¹¹. The Secretary of State must lay before each House of Parliament a statement of any sums payable to him by way of repayment of or interest on any such advances and not duly received by him¹².

In relation to Wales the National Assembly for Wales may exercise the like powers but there is no requirement for Treasury approval¹³.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 Ie subject to the New Towns Act 1981 s 60 (as amended): see PARA 1399 post.

3 For the meaning of 'development corporation' see PARA 1322 ante.

4 As to the Commission see PARA 1383 et seq ante.

5 New Towns Act 1981 s 58(1), (5) (s 58(1), (5), (6) amended by the New Towns and Urban Development Corporations Act 1985 s 14(1), Sch 3 para 8). As to the position where the liabilities of a development corporation for the repayment of such advances, or for payment of interest on them, are transferred to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1409 note 7 post.

6 New Towns Act 1981 s 58(1) (as amended: see note 5 supra). It is a condition of the making of advances to a development corporation under s 58(1) (as so amended) that the proposals for development submitted to the Secretary of State under s 7 (as amended) (see PARA 1357 ante) are approved by the Secretary of State with the Treasury's concurrence as being likely to secure for the corporation a return which is reasonable, having regard to all the circumstances, when compared with the cost of carrying out those proposals: s 58(3). For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 1320 note 4 ante.

7 Ibid s 58(5) (as amended: see note 5 supra).

8 Ie the sums advanced (1) before 5 September 1965, ie the date of the commencement of the New Towns Act 1965, under the New Towns Act 1959 s 3(2) (repealed); (2) before 30 November 1981, ie the date of the commencement of the New Towns Act 1981, under the New Towns Act 1965 s 42(5) (repealed); and (3) on or after 30 November 1981 under the New Towns Act 1981 s 58 (as amended).

9 Ibid s 58(6) (as amended: see note 5 supra). For these purposes any advance to the Commission made before 5 September 1965 under the New Towns Act 1959 s 3(2) (repealed) or any such advance made before 30 November 1981 under the New Towns Act 1965 s 42(5) (repealed), continues to be regarded as having been made under the New Towns Act 1959 s 3(2) (repealed) or the New Towns Act 1965 s 42(5) (repealed), as the case may be, and not under the New Towns Act 1981 s 58(6) (as so amended) (which corresponds to those provisions): s 81, Sch 11 para 3.

The Secretary of State had power, with the Treasury's consent, by order to extinguish to a specified extent any liabilities in respect of advances made by him to the corporation under s 58 (as amended) or the corresponding provisions of the New Towns Act 1946 (repealed) or the New Towns Act 1965 (repealed): New Towns Act 1981 s 62A(1), (6) (ss 62A, 62B added by the New Towns and Urban Development Corporations Act 1985 s 8(1)). No such order might be made unless a draft of the order had been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, the House of Commons: New Towns Act 1981 s 62A(5) (as so added). The aggregate amount of liabilities so extinguished by order might not exceed £1,750 million: s 62A(2) (as so added). Where liabilities were so extinguished, the assets of the National Loans Fund were reduced by amounts corresponding to the liabilities so extinguished: s 62A(3) (as so added). Orders under s 62A (as so added) were to be made by statutory instrument: see s 77(3) (as amended); and PARA 1311 ante. In exercise of the power so conferred the Secretary of State made the New Towns (Extinguishment of Liabilities) Order 1986, SI 1986/1382, extinguishing liabilities in respect of advances to the development corporations of Milton Keynes, Peterborough, Telford and Warrington and Runcorn. As to the National Loans Fund see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 727 et seq. No such order might be made after 30 September 1986: New Towns Act 1981 s 62A(4) (as added: see note 1 supra). At the date at which this title states the law, the Law Commission had proposed the repeal of s 62A (as added), together with consequential amendments: see Statute Law Revision--Town and Country Planning Repeal Proposals (Law Com, June 2005).

The Secretary of State also had power, with the Treasury's consent, by order to specify any new town development loan as a loan the repayment of which to the Secretary of State, and subsequently into the National Loans Fund, was to be suspended for such period ('the period of suspension') as was specified in the order: New Towns Act 1981 s 62B(1) (as so added). The power to make orders under s 62B(1) (as so added) was exercisable by statutory instrument and a statutory instrument containing such an order was subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: see s 77(3), (4)(b) (as amended); and PARA 1311 ante. For these purposes, 'new town development loan' means (1) as regards a development corporation, any sum advanced by the Secretary of State to the corporation under s 58(1) (as amended) or the corresponding provisions of the New Towns Act 1946 (ie s 12(1) (repealed)) or the New Towns Act 1965 (ie s 42(1) (repealed)); (2) as regards the Commission, any sum advanced by the Secretary of State to the Commission under the New Towns Act 1981 s 58(5) (as amended) or the corresponding provisions of the New Towns Act 1959 (ie s 3(1) (repealed)) or the New Towns Act 1965 (ie s 42(4) (repealed)) or any new town development loan transferred from a development corporation to the Commission under the New Towns Act 1981 s 41(2)(a), Sch 10 (see PARAS 1407-1409 post): s 62B(8)(a), (9) (as so added). The power extended to new town development loans made to development corporations and to new town development loans made to the Commission for the New Towns (New Towns Act 1981 s 62B(2) (as so added)); but no such order might be made effecting a suspension of an outstanding loan of a development corporation if an order had been made under s 62A (as added) extinguishing a liability of that development corporation (s 62B(4) (as so added)). Where a loan was specified by such an order: (a) the terms of the loan had effect as if any payment by way of repayment of or interest on the loan which would otherwise fall due at any time within the unexpired period for repayment of the loan fell due instead at the corresponding time within the period of the same duration beginning at the end of the period of suspension; (b) no interest accrued in respect of the loan during the period of suspension; and (c) the borrower was to assume during the period of suspension such obligations as the Secretary of State might impose by directions under the order as regarded the achieving of financial objectives, the obtaining of his approval for proposed expenditure and the provision of information about the borrower's present or future financial position: s 62B(3) (as so added). For these purposes, 'the unexpired period for repayment of the loan', in relation to any loan specified by an order under ibid s 62B (as so added), means the period beginning with the date specified in the order as the date of the beginning of the period of suspension and ending with the date which would otherwise be the last date on which any payment by way of repayment of or interest on the loan would fall due under the terms of the loan: s 62B(8)(b) (as so added). The aggregate amount of new town development loans so suspended by order might not exceed £950 million or such greater sum, not exceeding £1,300 million, as the Secretary of State might by order specify: s 62B(5) (as so added). No order might be made under s 62B(5) (as so added) unless a draft of it has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, the House of Commons: s 62B(6) (as so added). The power to make such orders was exercisable by statutory instrument: see s 77(3) (as amended); and PARA 1311 ante. In exercise of the power so conferred the Secretary of State made the New Towns (Suspension of Loan Repayment) Order 1986, SI 1986/1436, providing for the suspension of certain loans to the development corporations of Aycliffe and Peterlee, Cwmbran and Washington and to the former Peterlee development corporation. No such order might be made after 31 March 1996: New Towns Act 1981 s 62B(7) (as added: see note 6 supra). At the date at which this title states the law, the Law Commission had proposed the repeal of s 62B (as added), together with consequential amendments: see Statute Law Revision--Town and Country Planning Repeal Proposals (Law Com, June 2005).

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may direct a development corporation³ or the Commission for the New Towns to pay to him or to the Assembly, on the date specified in the direction, such sum as is so specified⁴. A. TRANSFER OF UNDERTAKINGS 1405. Power of development corporation to transfer undertakings.

Without prejudice to the powers¹ of development corporations² to dispose of any of their property, including any trade or business carried on by them, a development corporation may, by an agreement made with any local authority³ or any statutory undertakers⁴ and approved by the Secretary of State⁵ with the concurrence of the Treasury, or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁶, transfer:

- 4983 (1) to that local authority any part of the undertaking of the corporation; or
- 4984 (2) to those statutory undertakers any part of that undertaking which consists of a statutory undertaking, upon such terms as may be prescribed by the agreement⁷.

Before, however, approving such an agreement:

- 4985 (a) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult⁸ with the council of every county⁹ and of every county borough in Wales¹⁰ or district in England¹¹ in which the whole or any part of the area of the new town¹² is situated, except, in the case of an agreement made with such a council, the council with which it is made¹³;
- 4986 (b) for the transfer of a statutory undertaking, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must publish in the London Gazette, and in one or more newspapers circulating in the area in which the new town is situated, a notice stating that the agreement has been submitted for approval, and describing the general effect of the agreement¹⁴.

If, within 28 days from the publication of the notice in the London Gazette in accordance with head (b) above, any objection to the agreement is made by any statutory undertakers who are carrying on, or are authorised to carry on, a statutory undertaking of a character similar to the statutory undertaking proposed to be transferred by the agreement, and who do so within the area in which the new town is situated or any adjacent area, the statutory requirement of consent¹⁵ applies in England in relation to the agreement as if for the reference to the Secretary of State there were substituted a reference to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister¹⁶.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that it is expedient, having regard to any agreement so made or proposed to be so made, that the liability of the development corporation in respect of advances made to it¹⁷ should be reduced, he may (with the Treasury's consent) or the Assembly may by order¹⁸ reduce that liability to such extent as may be specified in the order¹⁹.

The payment of any sums payable by a local authority for the purposes of such an agreement is a purpose for which that authority may borrow money²⁰.

B. TRANSFER OF PROPERTY AND DISSOLUTION OF DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS

1406. Transfer of property to Commission; dissolution of development corporation.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is satisfied, after consultation³ with the council of every county⁴ and of every county borough in Wales⁵ or district in England⁶ in which the whole or any part of the area of a new town⁷ is situated, that the purposes for which the development corporation⁸ is established have been substantially achieved, he or the Assembly must by order⁹ direct that:

4987 (1) on such a date as may be specified in the order, the property of the corporation, other than excepted property¹⁰, shall vest in the Commission for the New Towns¹¹ and the corporation shall cease to act except for the purpose of taking such steps, if any, as may be authorised or required by the order to dispose¹² of any property so excepted, to prepare its final accounts and report¹³, or otherwise to wind up its affairs;

4988 (2) on that date, or such later date as may be fixed by or under the order, the corporation shall be dissolved¹⁴.

Where a development corporation discharges functions¹⁵ in relation to more than one new town, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may make an order under these provisions in relation to that corporation and to any of those towns without the other or others as if the corporation were not concerned with the other or others, but without providing for the dissolution of the corporation¹⁶.

NOTE 9--New Towns Act 1981 s 77(3) amended: Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 Sch 5 para 27, Sch 16.

Position after Development of New Towns/B. TRANSFER OF PROPERTY AND DISSOLUTION OF DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS/1407. Effect of order vesting property in the Commission.

1407. Effect of order vesting property in the Commission.

Where an order¹ provides that on a specified date the property of a development corporation², so far as not excepted³ by the order, shall vest in the Commission for the New Towns⁴, then on that date ('the transfer date') there are transferred to the Commission, by virtue of the order and without further assurance, all property, rights, liabilities and obligations which immediately before the transfer date were property, rights, liabilities or obligations of the corporation⁵.

Every agreement to which the development corporation was a party immediately before the transfer date, whether in writing or not, and whether or not of such a nature that rights, liabilities and obligations thereunder could be assigned by the corporation, has effect, unless its terms or subject matter make it impossible that it should have effect as modified in the following manner, from the transfer date as if:

- 4989 (1) the Commission had been a party to the agreement;
- 4990 (2) for any reference, however worded and whether express or implied, to the corporation there were substituted, as respects anything falling to be done on or after the transfer date, a reference to the Commission;
- 4991 (3) for any reference, however worded and whether express or implied, to any member or officer of the corporation there were substituted, as respects anything falling to be done on or after the transfer date, a reference to such person as the Commission may appoint or, in default of appointment, to the member or officer of the Commission who corresponds as nearly as may be to the member or officer in question of the corporation⁶; and other documents, not being enactments⁷, which refer, whether specifically or generally, to the corporation are to be construed in accordance with heads (1) to (3) above so far as applicable⁸.

Where by the operation of any of the above provisions any right, liability or obligation vests in the Commission, the Commission and all other persons have⁹, as from the transfer date, the same rights, powers and remedies, and in particular the same rights as to the taking or resisting of legal proceedings or the making or resisting of applications to any authority for asserting, perfecting or enforcing that right, liability or obligation as they would have had if it had at all times been a right, liability or obligation of the Commission¹⁰; and any legal proceedings or application to any authority pending on the transfer date by or against the development corporation, and not relating to property, rights, liabilities or obligations excepted by the order from the transfer to the Commission, may be continued on and after that date by or against the Commission¹¹.

On the transfer date the New Towns Act 1981 and any other enactment relating to areas designated¹² as the site of a new town cease to apply to the town as an area so designated, except for the purposes of any functions remaining to the development corporation by virtue of the statutory provisions¹³ relating to excepted property¹⁴. The statutory provisions relating to the acquisition of land for highways¹⁵ continue, however, to have effect¹⁶ in relation to the town for such period, if any, as may be specified in the order¹⁷ relating to the town; and that order may provide that any other enactment applying in relation to the town immediately before the transfer date shall continue to apply, subject or not to any modifications specified in the order¹⁸.

Any permission for development¹⁹ in the new town granted by an order made, or having effect as made, under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990²⁰ and in force on the transfer date continues in force²¹ as if references in the order to the development corporation included the Commission²²; and, where the development corporation was making contributions²³ to expenditure of a local authority²⁴ or statutory undertakers²⁵, or had obtained the Secretary of State's²⁶ consent or, in relation to Wales, the consent of the National Assembly for Wales²⁷, to making such contributions, the Commission has power to make or continue to make those contributions, whether or not the development corporation had undertaken any obligation to do so²⁸.

5 New Towns Act 1981 s 41(2), (5), Sch 10 para 1(1). Any property vested in any person by virtue of an order under s 41 (as amended) transferring that property from a development corporation or from the Commission is not treated as so vested by way of sale for the purposes of the Finance Act 1895 s 12 (as amended) (stamp duty on certain statutory transfers by way of sale) (New Towns Act 1981 s 72(1)(a)); however, the Finance Act 1895 s 12 (as amended) now applies only in relation to stock and marketable securities and not to transfers of land. With regard to stamp duty land tax, however, a land transaction entered into on, in consequence of, or in connection with a reorganisation effected by or under a statutory provision is exempt from charge if both the purchaser and vendor are public bodies (see the Finance Act 2003 s 66) and it is apprehended that the transfers mentioned in the New Towns Act 1981 s 72(1)(a) fall within that exemption.

6 Ibid Sch 10 para 1(2).

7 For these purposes, 'enactment' means any Act of Parliament and any order, rules, regulations or similar instrument having effect by virtue of an Act of Parliament, and includes enactments passed or made on or after 30 October 1981, ie the date of the passing of the New Towns Act 1981, except in so far as any such enactment provides to the contrary: Sch 10 para 6. Nothing in Sch 10 para 1 (see the text and notes 1-11 supra) is to be construed as conferring on the Commission any rights, liabilities or obligations of a development corporation under any enactment: Sch 10 para 3(1). Schedule 10 para 3(1) does not affect the operation of Sch 10 para 1 or of any other enactment in relation to things done by or to a development corporation before the transfer date or in relation to matters arising out of things so done; but no order may be made under any enactment on or after the transfer date by virtue of this provision: Sch 10 para 3(2).

Where an enactment ceases to apply in relation to the town by virtue of Sch 10 (as amended), the Interpretation Act 1978 s 16(1) (which relates to the effect of repeals) has effect as it has effect on the repeal of one Act by another: New Towns Act 1981 Sch 10 para 3(5).

5 For these purposes, 'district' includes a London borough, and any reference to the council of a district is to be construed accordingly: ibid s 17(1). For the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 28 note 7 ante.

6 Ibid s 1(1) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 55(1)(a)). Any order under the Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 must be made by statutory instrument and may be varied or revoked by a subsequent order so made: s 15(1). A statutory instrument containing an order under s 1(1) (as amended) is, if made by the Secretary of State, subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 15(2). As to parliamentary procedure in relation to orders made by the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of functions in Wales to the Assembly (see note 2 supra), the Secretary of State made the following orders:

- 82 (1) the Inner Urban Areas (Designated Districts) (England and Wales) Order 1978, SI 1978/1314, specifying the districts of Barnsley, Birmingham, Blackburn, Blaenau Gwent, Bolton, Bradford, Brent, Cardiff, Doncaster, Ealing, Gateshead, Greenwich, Hackney, Hammersmith, Haringey, Hartlepool, Islington, Kingston upon Hull, Lambeth, Leeds, Leicester, Lewisham, Liverpool, Manchester, Middlesbrough, Newcastle upon Tyne, Newham, Newport, North Tyneside, Nottingham, Oldham, Rhondda, Rochdale, Rotherham, Saint Helens, Salford, Sandwell, Sefton, Sheffield, South Tyneside, Southwark, Sunderland, Swansea, Tower Hamlets, Wandsworth, Wigan and Wirral;
- 83 (2) the Inner Urban Areas (Designated Districts) (England and Wales) (No 2) Order 1978, SI 1978/1486, specifying the district of Wolverhampton;
- 84 (3) the Inner Urban Areas (Designated Districts) Order 1983, SI 1983/289, specifying the districts of Burnley, Coventry, Knowsley, Langbaugh and Walsall;
- 85 (4) the Inner Urban Areas (Designated Districts) (Wales) Order 1983, SI 1983/1851, specifying the districts of Afan, Cynon Valley and Merthyr Tydfil;
- 86 (5) the Inner Urban Areas (Designated Districts) (Wales) Order 1987, SI 1987/115, designating the districts of Ogwr and Rhymney Valley.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(3) INNER URBAN AREAS/(i) Designated Districts/1411. Loans for acquisition of, or works on, land.

1411. Loans for acquisition of, or works on, land.

Where a designated district authority¹ is satisfied that:

- 4997 (1) the acquisition by any person of land² situated within the designated district or, except where the land is in Wales, within the same county as the designated district; or
- 4998 (2) the carrying out by any person of any works on land so situated, would benefit the designated district, the authority may make a loan to that person for the purpose of enabling him to acquire that land or, as the case may be, carry out those works³. The council of a designated district may not, however, make a loan as respects land situated in the same county as that district without first consulting⁴ the council of the district in which the land is situated⁵.

Such a loan, together with interest thereon⁶, must be secured by a mortgage of the land⁷; and a mortgage securing such a loan:

- 4999 (a) must be taken at the time when the loan is made or, in the case of a loan made for the purpose of enabling a person to carry out works on land belonging to the authority in pursuance of an agreement whereby the land will be sold or leased to him if the works are carried out to the authority's satisfaction, at the time when the land is sold or leased to him in pursuance of that agreement⁸;

- 5000 (b) must include provision:

- 26. (i) for repayment being made, subject to heads (iii) and (iv) below, within such period not exceeding 30 years as may be specified in the mortgage;
- 27. (ii) for repayment being made, subject to heads (iii) and (iv) below, either by instalments of principal or by an annuity of principal and interest combined;
- 28. (iii) that, in the event of any of the conditions subject to which the loan is made not being complied with, the balance for the time being unpaid shall become repayable on demand by the authority;
- 29. (iv) that that balance, or such part thereof as may be provided for in the mortgage, may⁹ be repaid on any conditions as may be specified in the mortgage after one month's written notice of intention to repay has been given to the authority;
- 30. (v) where repayment is to be made by an annuity of principal and interest combined, for determining the amount by which the annuity or the life of the annuity is to be reduced when a part of the loan is paid off otherwise than by way of an instalment of the annuity¹⁰.

The amount of the principal of such a loan may not exceed:

- 5001 (A) in the case of a loan made for the purpose of enabling a person to acquire land, 90% of the value of the security;
- 5002 (B) in the case of a loan made for the purpose of enabling a person to carry out works, 90% of the value which it is estimated the security will bear when the works have been carried out¹¹.

1 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'designated district authority', in relation to a designated district, means the council of that district or the council of the county which includes that district but, in relation to a designated district which is a Welsh county or county borough, means the council of that county or county borough: Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 ss 1(2), 17(1) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 55(1); the Local Government etc (Scotland) Act 1994 s 180, Sch 13 para 114(1), (2), Sch 14). 'County' includes Greater London: Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 s 17(1). 'Designated district' means any district or Welsh county or county borough specified as such a district by an order made under s 1(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1410 ante): s 17(1) (definition amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 55(5)). For the meaning of 'district' see PARA 1410 note 5 ante; and as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29.

There must be paid out of money provided by Parliament any increase attributable, in England, to the Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 in the sums so payable under any other Act: s 16. For these purposes, except so far as the context otherwise requires, any reference to an enactment is to be construed as a reference to that enactment as amended by or under any other enactment: s 17(2). Section 16 does not apply in Wales: see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 89(b).

As to the exercise of certain powers of designated district authorities by urban development corporations see PARA 1435 post.

2 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'land' includes land covered with water, any interest in land and any easement, servitude or right in, to or over land: Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 s 17(1).

3 Ibid s 2(1) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 16 para 55(2); and by the Local Government etc (Scotland) Act 1994 Sch 13 para 114(1), (3), Sch 14). As to the exercise of such power by an urban development corporation see PARA 1435 post.

4 For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

5 Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 s 2(1) (as amended: see note 3 supra).

6 A loan under ibid s 2 (as amended) carries interest either (1) at a rate not less than 0.25% greater than the rate which, on the date of acceptance of the offer to make the loan, is the rate for the time being determined by the Treasury in accordance with the National Loans Act 1968 s 5 (as substituted and amended) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) in respect of local loans made on the security of local rates on that date and for the same period as the loan; or (2) at such other rate as the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may fix in the case of the loan: Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 s 2(4). Where, however, on the date of acceptance of an offer to make a loan under the Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 s 2 (as amended), there are two or more rates of interest for the time being determined by the Treasury as mentioned in s 2(4), the reference in s 2(4) to the rate so determined is to be read as a reference to such one of those rates as may be specified in a direction given by the Treasury for these purposes; and the Treasury must cause any such direction to be published in the London Gazette as soon as may be after giving it: s 2(5). As to the transfer of functions under s 2 (as amended), other than the Treasury function under s 2(5), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

For these purposes, 'local loans' and 'made on the security of local rates' have the same meanings as in the National Loans Act 1968 s 6(2): Inner Urban Areas Act 1978 s 2(4). As to local loans see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 736; and as to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

Where a designated district authority¹ is satisfied that the establishment by any persons of a body which is intended to meet the specified statutory requirements with regard to common ownership enterprises² or co-operative enterprises³ would benefit the designated district⁴, the authority may make a loan or grant or both to those persons for the purpose of enabling them to establish that body⁵.

In so making a loan or grant, a designated district authority may⁶ impose such conditions as the authority thinks fit and may in particular impose a condition requiring the repayment of all or any part of the loan or grant if any other condition is not complied with, or in such other circumstances as the authority may specify⁷.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(3) INNER URBAN AREAS/(ii) Improvement Areas/1413. Procedure for declaring area to be improvement area.

(ii) Improvement Areas

1413. Procedure for declaring area to be improvement area.

Where a designated district authority¹ is satisfied that conditions in an area within the designated district² which:

- 5003 (1) is predominantly an industrial area, a commercial area or an industrial and commercial area; or
- 5004 (2) if developed in accordance with the development plan³, would be predominantly such an area, could be improved by the exercise of the statutory powers in relation to the improvement of amenities and buildings⁴, the authority may, after consulting⁵, in England, either the district or county council as appropriate⁶, pass a resolution declaring the area to be an improvement area⁷. Such a resolution must specify the date on which it is to take effect, and that date must not be earlier than the end of the period of three months beginning with the passing of the resolution⁸.

As soon as practicable after passing the resolution the authority must:

- 5005 (a) publish a notice⁹ of the effect of the resolution identifying the area and naming a place or places where a copy of the resolution and a map on which the area is defined may be inspected at all reasonable times; and
- 5006 (b) send to the Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ a copy of the resolution and a copy of the map¹².

If, however, the area declared to be an improvement area by such a resolution is wholly or partly included in an area of land¹³ designated as an urban development area¹⁴, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may, if it appears appropriate to him or to it:

- 5007 (i) at any time before the resolution takes effect, send to the authority a notification¹⁵ that the land included in the urban development area is not to be or to be included in the improvement area by virtue of the resolution; and
- 5008 (ii) at any time after the resolution takes effect, send to the authority a notification¹⁶ that the land included in the urban development area is no longer to be or to be included in the improvement area by virtue of it¹⁷.

As soon as practicable after receiving the notification the authority must publish a notice of the effect of the notification naming a place or places where a copy of the notification and, in the case of a notification affecting a part only of the area, a map on which that part of the area is defined may be inspected at all reasonable times¹⁸.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(3) INNER URBAN AREAS/(iii) Arrangements for Determining Action/1417. Power to enter into arrangements.

(iii) Arrangements for Determining Action

1417. Power to enter into arrangements.

If the Secretary of State¹ is or ministers² are satisfied that special social need exists in any inner urban area in England³ and that the conditions which give rise to the existence of that need are such that a concerted effort should be made to alleviate them, he or they may, as respects any district⁴ which includes the whole or any part of that area, enter into arrangements with:

- 5019 (1) as respects any such district, the council of that district or the council of the county⁵ which includes that district or both; and
- 5020 (2) such other person or persons, if any, as may appear to him or them appropriate, being arrangements for determining, by consultation⁶ between the parties, the action⁷ to be taken, whether in the district or not, for the purpose of alleviating those conditions⁸.

Similarly, if the National Assembly for Wales⁹ is satisfied that such need exists in any inner urban area in Wales and that the conditions which give rise to the existence of that need are such that a concerted effort should be made to alleviate them, the Assembly may, as respects any Welsh county or county borough which includes the whole or any part of that area, enter into such arrangements with, as respects any such Welsh county or county borough, the council of that county or county borough and such other person or persons, if any, as may appear to the Assembly appropriate¹⁰.

Where each of two or more districts, Welsh counties or county boroughs includes the whole or any part of any inner urban area as respects which the Secretary of State or the Assembly is, or ministers are, so satisfied, such arrangements may take the form of a single set of arrangements covering both or all of those districts, Welsh counties or county boroughs¹¹.

(iv) Special Areas

1418. Orders specifying special areas.

Where any arrangements¹ have been entered into as respects a designated district², the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ may⁵ by order specify the whole or any part of that district⁶ as an area as respects which the special statutory powers⁷ are exercisable by the designated district authority⁸ or, as the case may be, either or both of the designated district authorities with which he or the Assembly has entered into those arrangements⁹. An area so specified in relation to a designated district authority is referred to, in relation to that authority, as a 'special area'¹⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may not, however, so make an order enabling a designated district authority to exercise the special statutory powers¹¹ as respects a special area except with the consent of that authority¹².

1422. Introduction.

Part XVI of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980¹ provides for the designation of urban development areas² and the establishment of urban development corporations for those areas³ with the general object of urban regeneration⁴. A number of areas in England have been designated and development corporations established under that legislation; the majority of those development corporations have now been dissolved⁵ and their property transferred to the Commission for the New Towns⁶, whose functions with regard to urban development areas have already been discussed⁷. Extant development corporations in England include the Thurrock Development Corporation, established in 2003⁸, and the London Thames Gateway Development Corporation, established in 2004⁹.

In Wales, the Cardiff Bay Development Corporation¹⁰ was formally wound up by the National Assembly for Wales at the end of March 2000 and its assets, functions and associated liabilities were transferred on 1 April 2000 to four successor organisations: Cardiff County Council, the Welsh Development Agency, the Countryside Council for Wales and the Vale of Glamorgan County Borough Council¹¹.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(i) Legislation and Administration; in general/1423. Service of notices.

1423. Service of notices.

The following provisions have effect in relation to any notice required or authorised¹ to be served on any person by an urban development corporation².

Any such notice may:

- 5029 (1) be served on the person in question either by delivering it to him, or by leaving it at his proper address³, or by sending it by post to him at that address⁴;
 5030 (2) in the case of a body corporate, be given to or served on the secretary or clerk of that body⁵;

If the name or address of any owner, lessee or occupier of land⁷ to or on whom any such notice is to be served cannot after reasonable inquiry be ascertained, the document may be served either by leaving it in the hands of a person who is or appears to be resident or employed on the land or by leaving it conspicuously affixed to some building or object on the land⁸.

Where the fee simple of any ecclesiastical property⁹ is in abeyance, it is treated for the purposes of a compulsory acquisition¹⁰ of the property as being vested in the Church Commissioners, and any notice to treat must be served, or is deemed to have been served, accordingly¹¹. Where any notice, other than a notice to treat, is required¹² to be served on an owner of land, and the land is ecclesiastical property, a like notice must be served on the Church Commissioners¹³.

If the Secretary of State¹, or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales², is of opinion that it is expedient in the national interest to do so, he or the Assembly may by order made by statutory instrument designate any area of land³ as an urban development area⁴; and separate parcels of land may be designated as one urban development area⁵.

No such order has effect, however, until approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament⁶.

The action to be taken by the Secretary of State or the Assembly when an area declared to be an improvement area⁷ is wholly or partly included in an area of land so designated as an urban development area has already been discussed⁸.

1427. Alteration of boundaries of urban development area.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by order³ alter the boundaries of any urban development area⁴ so as to exclude any area of land⁵. - 3 The power to make an order under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 134(3A) (as added) (see the text and notes 1-2 supra, 4-5 infra) is exercisable by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament and includes power to make such incidental, consequential, transitional or supplementary provision as the Secretary of State or the Assembly thinks fit: s 134(5) (s 134(3A), (3B), (5) added by the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 s 179(1)-(3)).

A. ESTABLISHMENT AND GENERAL POWERS

1428. Establishment of urban development corporations.

For the purposes of regenerating an urban development area¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ must by order made by statutory instrument establish a corporation (an 'urban development corporation') for the area⁴; and such an order may be made at the same time as an order designating an area⁵ as an urban development area⁶.

No such order has effect, however, until approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament⁷.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(iii) Urban Development Corporations/A. ESTABLISHMENT AND GENERAL POWERS/1429. Object and general powers of urban development corporations.

1429. Object and general powers of urban development corporations.

The object of an urban development corporation¹ is to secure the regeneration of its area²; and the object is to be achieved in particular by the following means, or by such of them as seem to the corporation to be appropriate in the case of its area, namely by bringing land³ and buildings into effective use, encouraging the development of existing and new industry and commerce, creating an attractive environment and ensuring that housing and social facilities are available to encourage people to live and work in the area⁴.

For the purpose of achieving the object an urban development corporation may⁵:

- 5041 (1) acquire, hold, manage, reclaim and dispose of land and other property;
- 5042 (2) carry out building and other operations;
- 5043 (3) seek to ensure the provision of water, electricity, gas, sewerage and other services;
- 5044 (4) carry on any business or undertaking for the purposes of the object; and
- 5045 (5) generally do anything necessary or expedient for the purposes of the object or for purposes incidental to those purposes⁶.

Without prejudice to the generality of the powers conferred⁷ on urban development corporations, such a corporation may, for the purpose of achieving the object and with the consent of the Secretary of State⁸:

- 5046 (a) contribute such sums as he may, with the Treasury's concurrence, determine towards expenditure incurred or to be incurred by any local authority or statutory undertakers⁹ in the performance of any statutory functions of the authority or undertakers, including expenditure so incurred in the acquisition of land;
- 5047 (b) contribute such sums as the Secretary of State may with the like concurrence determine by way of assistance towards the provision of amenities¹⁰; and, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ exercises the like functions of giving consent in Wales which are not subject to Treasury concurrence¹².

A transaction between a person and an urban development corporation is not invalidated by reason of any failure of the corporation to observe the object of securing the regeneration of its area¹³ or the requirement¹⁴ that the corporation shall exercise the statutory powers¹⁵ for the purpose of achieving that object¹⁶.

- 1 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'urban development corporation' means a corporation established under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 135 (as amended) (see PARA 1428 ante): s 171.

To avoid doubt it is declared that s 136(3) relates only to the capacity of an urban development corporation as a statutory corporation; and nothing in s 136 authorises such a corporation to disregard any enactment or rule of law: s 136(6). 1430. Appointment as agent of Urban Regeneration Agency in England.

The Urban Regeneration Agency¹ may, with the consent of the Secretary of State², appoint an urban development corporation³, on such terms as may be agreed, to act as its agent in connection with such of its functions, other than its power to give financial assistance, as may be specified in the appointment; and where such an appointment is made, the urban development corporation must act as such an agent in accordance with the terms of its appointment⁴. For the purpose of assisting the Agency to carry out any of its functions, an urban development corporation, on being so requested by the Agency, may arrange for any of its property or staff to be made available to the Agency for such period and on such other terms as it thinks fit⁵.

1431. Exclusion of functions.

An order establishing an urban development corporation¹ may:

5048 (1) provide that any functions which may be exercisable² by such a corporation and which are specified in the order are not to be exercised by the corporation established by the order, either as regards the whole of its area or as regards a portion of that area; and the relevant statutory provisions³ apply to the corporation accordingly⁴;

1432. Restrictions on powers.

Without prejudice to any statutory provision¹ requiring the consent of the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales³ to be obtained for anything to be done by an urban development corporation⁴, he or the Assembly may give directions to such a corporation for restricting the exercise by it of any of its statutory powers⁵ or for requiring it to exercise those powers in any manner specified in the directions⁶; but, before giving such a direction, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult⁷ the corporation, unless satisfied that because of urgency consultation is impracticable⁸.

A transaction between a person and an urban development corporation acting in purported exercise of its statutory powers⁹ is not, however, void by reason only that it was carried out in contravention of a direction so given; and such a person is not to be concerned to see or inquire whether such a direction has been given or complied with¹⁰.

1433. Consultation with local authorities.

An urban development corporation¹ must prepare a code of practice as to consultation² with the relevant local authorities³ about the exercise of its powers⁴. Preparation of the code must be completed not later than the expiration of the period of 12 months from the date of the establishment of the corporation⁵.

A corporation may from time to time revise the whole or any part of its code⁶; and it must prepare and revise its code in consultation with the relevant local authorities⁷.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(iii) Urban Development Corporations/A. ESTABLISHMENT AND GENERAL POWERS/1434. Allocation or transfer of corporation's functions.

1434. Allocation or transfer of corporation's functions.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² that there are exceptional circumstances which render it expedient:

5050 (1) in the case of an urban development area³, that the functions⁴ of an urban development corporation⁵ should be performed by the urban development corporation established for the purposes of any other area instead of by a separate corporation, established for the purpose, he or the Assembly may, instead of establishing such a separate corporation, by order⁶ direct that those functions shall be performed by the urban development corporation established for the other area⁷;

5051 (2) that the functions of an urban development corporation established for one area should be transferred to the urban development corporation established for the purposes of another area, or to a new urban development corporation to be established for the first-mentioned area, he or the Assembly may by order⁸ provide for the dissolution of the first-mentioned corporation and for the transfer of its functions, property, rights and liabilities to the urban development corporation established for the purposes of the other area or, as the case may be, to a new corporation established for the purposes of the first-mentioned area by the order⁹.

Before making such an order providing for the transfer of functions from or to a development corporation or for the exercise of any functions by such a corporation, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult¹⁰ that corporation¹¹.

An order so made providing for the exercise of functions in relation to an area by the urban development corporation established for the purposes of another area, or for the transfer of such functions to such a corporation, may¹² modify the name and constitution of that corporation in such manner as appears to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly to be expedient; and that corporation is treated¹³ as having been established for the purposes of each of those areas¹⁴.

Where the Secretary of State⁶ or ministers wish or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ wishes to enter into arrangements to determine action in case of special social need⁸ as respects any district or Welsh county or county borough and any area of land is situated both in an urban development area and in that district or, as the case may be, in that Welsh county or county borough, such arrangements may be entered into with:

- 5052 (1) the urban development corporation; or
- 5053 (2) the specified⁹ council or councils; or 1437. Appointment of members; tenure of office.

The members of an urban development corporation¹ ('a corporation') are appointed by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³; and he or the Assembly must appoint two of the members to be respectively chairman and deputy chairman of the corporation⁴. In appointing members of the corporation the Secretary of State or the Assembly must have regard to the desirability of securing the services of people having special knowledge of the locality in which the urban development area⁵ is or will be situated⁶; and, in relation to the possible appointment of such people, he or the Assembly must consult⁷ such local authorities⁸ as appear to him or to the Assembly to be concerned with the regeneration of the urban development area⁹.

A member of the corporation and the chairman and deputy chairman of the corporation hold and must vacate office as such in accordance with the terms of the instrument by which they are respectively appointed¹⁰. If the chairman or deputy chairman ceases to be a member of the corporation, he also ceases to be chairman or deputy chairman, as the case may be¹¹.

Any member of the corporation may, by notice in writing addressed to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, resign his membership; and the chairman or deputy chairman may by the like notice resign his office as such¹². A member of the corporation who ceases to be a member or ceases to be chairman or deputy chairman is eligible for reappointment¹³.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that a member of the corporation, including the chairman or deputy chairman:

- 5055 (1) has become bankrupt or made an arrangement with his creditors; or
- 5056 (2) is incapacitated by physical or mental illness; or
- 5057 (3) has been absent from meetings of the corporation for a period longer than three consecutive months without the permission of the corporation; or

Immediately after a guarantee is so given, the Treasury must lay a statement of the guarantee before each House of Parliament; and, where any sum is issued³ for fulfilling a guarantee so given, the Treasury must lay before each House of Parliament a statement relating to that sum, as soon as possible after the end of each financial year⁴, beginning with that in which the sum is issued and ending with that in which all liability in respect of the principal of the sum and in respect of interest on it is finally discharged⁵.

If any sums are issued in fulfilment of a guarantee so given, the corporation must make to the Treasury, at such times and in such manner as the Treasury may from time to time direct, payments of such amounts as the Treasury so directs in or towards repayment of the sums so issued and payments of interest, at such rates as the Treasury so directs, on what is outstanding for the time being in respect of sums so issued⁶.

89 (3) in the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 22 (as amended), s 22(2) is to be treated as if at the end of s 22(2)(c) there were added the words 'or (d) where an order has been made under section 141 of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 vesting the land in which the interest subsists in an urban development corporation'; and the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 22(3) (repealed) is to be treated as if in s 22(3)(a) the words 'or (d)' were inserted after the words 'paragraph (b)' (Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 27 para 12);

8 For these purposes, 'new rights' means rights which are not in existence when the order specifying them is made: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 142(4).

9 Ibid s 142(4). The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 has effect with modifications necessary to make it apply to the compulsory purchase of rights by virtue of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 142(4) as the 1965 Act applies to the compulsory purchase of land so that, in appropriate contexts, references in that Act to land are read as referring, or as including references, to the rights or to land over which the rights are to be exercisable, according to the requirements of the particular context; and, without prejudice to the generality of the above, in relation to the purchase of rights in pursuance of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 142(4), the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 Pt I (as amended) has effect with the modifications specified in the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 144(5), Sch 28 para 23; and the enactments relating to compensation for the compulsory purchase of land apply with the necessary modifications as they apply to such compensation: Sch 28 para 21(1), (2) (amended by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 s 34, Sch 6 Pt I). URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/ (iv) Vesting and Acquisition of Land/B. POWERS OF ACQUISITION/1456. Acquisition of land by local highway authority.

1456. Acquisition of land by local highway authority.

Where the appropriate minister¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is satisfied that the construction or improvement of a road is needed:

- 5082 (1) outside an urban development area³ for the purpose of securing the development of land⁴ in that area in accordance with proposals approved⁵ by the Secretary of State⁶ or by the Assembly; or
- 5083 (2) for the purpose of providing proper means of access to such an area, then, in that case, a local highway authority⁷ may, on being authorised to do so by the appropriate minister or by the Assembly, acquire compulsorily any land as to which he or the Assembly is satisfied that its acquisition by the authority is requisite for the construction or improvement of the road, or for carrying out the improvement, or controlling the development, of frontages to the road or of land abutting on or adjacent to the road⁸.

1 For these purposes, 'the appropriate minister' means, in England, the Secretary of State for Transport: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 143(5); Transfer of Functions (Transport) Order 1981, SI 1981/238; Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions Order 1997, SI 1997/2971; Transfer of Functions (Transport, Local Government and the Regions) Order 2002, SI 2002/2626.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/ (iv) Vesting and Acquisition of Land/B. POWERS OF ACQUISITION/1458. Power to survey land; rights of entry.

1458. Power to survey land; rights of entry.

A person authorised in writing by the urban development corporation¹, and an officer of the Valuation Office², may at any reasonable time:

5084 (1) survey any land³ or estimate its value, in connection with a proposal by an urban development corporation to acquire the land compulsorily;

5085 (2) for the purpose of surveying⁴ or estimating the value of any land in pursuance of head (1) above, enter on the land and other land⁵.

The power to survey land so conferred includes power for a person authorised in writing by the urban development corporation to search and bore on and in the land for the purpose of ascertaining the nature of the subsoil or whether minerals are present in the subsoil; and the power to enter on land so conferred includes power for such a person to place and leave, on or in the land, apparatus for use in connection with the survey in question and to remove the apparatus⁶.

A person so authorised by an urban development corporation to enter on land in pursuance of heads (1) and (2) above:

- 5086 (a) must, if so required before or after entering on the land, produce evidence of his authority to enter;
- 5087 (b) may take with him on to the land such other persons and such equipment as are necessary for the survey in question;
- 5088 (c) may not, if the land is occupied, demand admission to the land as of right unless notice of the intended entry has been served by the corporation on the occupier not less than 28 days before the demand;
- 5089 (d) must, if the land is unoccupied when he enters or the occupier is then temporarily absent, leave the land as effectually secured against trespassers as he found it;
- 5090 (e) may not place or leave apparatus on or in the land or remove apparatus from the land unless the specified conditions relating to notice⁷ and to ministerial authorisation⁸ are fulfilled;
- 5091 (f) may not search or bore on or in the land which is the subject of the survey in question if the land is held by a local authority or statutory undertakers unless the specified conditions relating to notice⁹ and to ministerial authorisation¹⁰ are fulfilled¹¹.

If, in connection with a proposal of an urban development corporation to acquire land compulsorily, a person interested in any land suffers damage in consequence of the exercise of a power conferred by head (1), head (2) or head (b) above or a failure to perform the duty imposed by head (d) above in respect of the land, he is entitled to recover compensation for the damage from the corporation¹².

If a person:

- 5092 (i) wilfully obstructs another person in the exercise of a power conferred on the other person by head (1), head (2) or head (b) above; or
- 5093 (ii) while another person is on any land in pursuance of head (b) above, wilfully obstructs him in doing things connected with the survey in question; or
- 5094 (iii) removes or otherwise interferes with apparatus left on or in land in pursuance of these provisions,

he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale¹³.

If a person who has entered on any land in pursuance of these provisions discloses to another person information obtained by him there about a manufacturing process or trade secret, then, unless the disclosure is made in the course of performing his duty in connection with the purposes for which he was authorised to enter on the land, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or to both, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum¹⁴.

6 Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 167(3). In exercising the powers of s 167 (as amended) to survey land held by a local authority or statutory undertakers, a person to whom s 167(1) applies must comply with all reasonable conditions imposed by the authority or undertakers with regard to the entry on, surveying of, searching or boring on or in the land, or placing or leaving on, or removal of apparatus from, the land: s 167(6). For the meaning of 'statutory undertakers' see PARA 1425 ante. There is no statutory definition of 'local authority' for these purposes; as to local authorities see generally para 28 ante; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq.

8 Ie unless he has a written ministerial authorisation to do so, if the land is held by a local authority or statutory undertakers who within that 28-day period serve on the corporation a notice stating that they object to the placing or leaving or removal of the apparatus on the ground that to do so would be seriously detrimental to the performance of any of their functions or, as the case may be, the carrying on of their undertaking: ibid s 167(4)(e)(ii). For these purposes, 'ministerial authorisation' means: (1) in relation to land held by a local authority, the authorisation of the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales; and (2) in relation to land held by statutory undertakers, the authorisation of the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister or, in relation to Wales, of the Assembly: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 167(5). 9 Ie unless notice of his intention to do so has been served by the corporation on the authority or undertakers not less than 28 days before he does so: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 167(4)(f)(i).

10 Ie unless he has a written ministerial authorisation to do so, if within that 28-day period the authority or undertakers serve on the corporation a notice stating that they object to the searching or boring on the ground that to do so would be seriously detrimental to the performance of any of their functions or, as the case may be, the carrying on of their undertaking: ibid s 167(4)(f)(ii). See also note 8 supra.

12 Ibid s 167(8). Any dispute as to a person's entitlement to compensation in pursuance of s 167(8) or as to the amount of the compensation must be determined by the Lands Tribunal; and the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 2(2)-(5) (as amended) and s 4 (conduct of certain proceedings before the tribunal and costs: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND) apply with the necessary modifications in relation to the determination by the tribunal of such a dispute: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 167(9).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/17. URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/ (iv) Vesting and Acquisition of Land/C. COMPENSATION AND BLIGHT/1459. Application of statutory provisions relating to compulsory purchase of rights.

C. COMPENSATION AND BLIGHT

1459. Application of statutory provisions relating to compulsory purchase of rights.

The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 has effect with modifications necessary to make it apply to the compulsory purchase of rights by an urban development corporation¹ as that Act applies to the compulsory purchase of land² so that, in appropriate contexts, references in that Act to land are read as referring, or as including references, to the rights or to land over which the rights are to be exercisable, according to the requirements of the particular context³.

In assessing the compensation to be paid by the acquiring authority⁴ under the 1965 Act regard must be had not only to the extent, if any, to which the value of the land over which the right is purchased is depreciated by the purchase but also to the damage, if any, to be sustained by the owner of the land by reason of injurious affection of other land of the owner by the exercise of the right⁵.

Where in consequence of the service on a person⁶ of a notice to treat in respect of a right over land consisting of a house, building or manufactory or of a park or garden belonging to a house ('the relevant land'):

- 5095 (1) a question of disputed compensation in respect of the purchase of the right would otherwise fall to be determined by the Lands Tribunal ('the Tribunal'); and 5096 (2) before the Tribunal has determined that question the person satisfies the Tribunal that he has an interest which he is able and willing to sell in the whole of the relevant land and:

34. (a) where that land consists of a house, building or manufactory, that the right cannot be purchased without material detriment to that land; or
 35. (b) where that land consists of such a park or garden, that the right cannot be purchased without seriously affecting the amenity or convenience of the house to which that land belongs, the compulsory purchase order to which the notice to treat relates must, in relation to that person, cease to authorise the purchase of the right and be deemed to authorise the purchase of that person's interest in the whole of the relevant land including, where the land consists of such a park or garden, the house to which it belongs, and the notice is to be deemed to have been served in respect of that interest on such date as the Tribunal directs⁷. Any question as to the extent of the land in which a compulsory purchase order is so deemed to authorise the purchase of an interest must be determined by the Tribunal⁸. Where, in consequence of a determination of the Tribunal that it is satisfied as mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above, a compulsory purchase order is so deemed to authorise the purchase of an interest in land, the acquiring authority may, at any time within the period of six weeks beginning with the date of the determination, withdraw the notice to treat in consequence of which the determination was made; but nothing in this provision prejudices any other power of the authority to withdraw the notice⁹.

1 le by virtue of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 142(4): see PARA 1455 ante. For the meaning of 'urban development corporation' see PARA 1426 note 4 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1423 note 7 ante.

3 Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 144(5), Sch 28 para 21(1) (Sch 28 para 21(1), (2) (amended by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 s 34, Sch 6 Pt I). Without prejudice to the generality of the provisions set out in the text, in relation to the purchase of rights in pursuance of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 142(4), the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 Pt I (ss 1-32) (as amended) has effect with the modifications specified in the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 144(5), Sch 28 para 23 (see infra; and the text and notes 4-9 infra); and the enactments relating to compensation for the compulsory purchase of land apply with the necessary modifications as they apply to such compensation: Sch 28 para 21(2) (as so amended). See further COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND.

The following provisions of the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 (which state the effect of a deed poll executed in various circumstances where there is no conveyance by persons with interests in the land), namely: (1) s 9(4) (failure of owners to convey: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 663); (2) Sch 1 para 10(3) (owners under incapacity: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 670); (3) Sch 2 para 2(3) (absent and untraced owners: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 663); and (4) Sch 4 paras 2(3), 7(2) (common land: see COMMONS vol 13 (2009) PARAS 484-486), are to be so modified as to secure that, as against persons with interests in the land which are expressed to be overridden by the deed, the right which is to be purchased compulsorily is vested absolutely in the acquiring authority: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 28 para 23(3).

The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 11 (as amended) (powers of entry: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARAS 549, 645) is to be so modified as to secure that, as from the date on which the acquiring authority has served notice to treat in respect of any right, it has power, exercisable in the like circumstances and subject to the like conditions, to enter for the purpose of exercising that right (which is to be deemed for this purpose to have been created on the date of service of the notice); and s 12 (as amended) (penalty for unauthorised entry: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 644) and s 13 (entry on sheriff's warrant in the event of obstruction: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 646) are to be modified correspondingly: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 28 para 23(4).

The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 20 (as amended) (compensation for short-term tenants: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 699 et seq) applies with the modifications necessary to secure that persons with such interests as are mentioned in that section are compensated in a manner corresponding to that in which they would be compensated on a compulsory acquisition of the interests but taking into account only the extent (if any) of such interference with such interests as is actually caused, or likely to be caused, by the exercise of the right in question: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 28 para 23(4).

The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 22 (protection of acquiring authority's possession of land where by inadvertence an interest in the land has not been purchased: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 648) is to be so modified as to enable the acquiring authority, in circumstances corresponding to those referred to in that section, to continue to be entitled to exercise the right in question, subject to compliance with that section as respects compensation: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 28 para 23(5).

4 For these purposes, 'acquiring authority' means the person authorised by the compulsory purchase order to purchase the land: see the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 1(3) (substituted by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 s 34(1), Sch 4; definition amended by s 34(3), Sch 6).

5 Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 7(1) (ss 7, 8 substituted for these purposes by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 28 para 23(1), (2)). The modifications subject to which the Land Compensation Act 1973 s 44(1) is to have effect, as applied by s 44(2) (as amended) to compensation for injurious affection under these provisions, are that for the words 'land is acquired or taken' there are to be substituted the words 'a right over land is purchased' and for the words 'acquired or taken from him' there are to be substituted the words 'over which the right is exercisable': Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 7(2) (as so substituted).

6 le in pursuance of ibid 5 (as amended): see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 616.

7 Ibid s 8(1) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). As to the Lands Tribunal see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 720 et seq.

8 Ibid s 8(2) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

9 Ibid s 8(3) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). The modifications subject to which the Land Compensation Act 1973 s 58(1) (as amended) is to have effect, as applied by s 58(2) (as amended) to the duty of the Tribunal in determining whether it is satisfied as mentioned in the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 8(1) (as so substituted), are that at the beginning of the Land Compensation Act 1973 s 58(1)(a) and (b) there are to be inserted the words 'a right over', for the word 'severance' there are to be substituted the words 'right on the whole of the house, building or manufactory or of the house and the park or garden' and for the words 'part proposed' and 'part is' there are to be substituted respectively the words 'right proposed' and 'right is': Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 8(4) (as so substituted).

- 5098 (2) which has been so designated by an order⁴ which has come into effect,

If the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² so provides by order³, an urban development corporation⁴ is the local planning authority for the whole or any portion of its area for such purposes⁵ and in relation to such kinds of development as may be prescribed⁶. The order may provide that any enactment relating to local planning authorities shall not apply to the corporation and that any such enactment which applies to the corporation shall apply to it subject to such modifications as may be specified in the order⁷.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly so provides by order:

5099 (1) an urban development corporation specified in the order may have, in the whole or any portion of its area, the functions conferred by such of the relevant statutory provisions⁸ as are specified in the order;

5100 (2) such of the specified statutory provisions⁹ as are mentioned in the order have effect, in relation to an urban development corporation specified in the order and to land¹⁰ in that corporation's area, subject to the specified¹¹ modifications¹².

The Secretary of State may direct that Part 2 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹³, which relates to local development in England, does not apply to the area of an urban development corporation¹⁴.

1463-1464 Features of special architectural or historic interest, Corporation as planning authority

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

1464 Corporation as planning authority

NOTES--The Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 149 and the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 33 apply in relation to the Olympic Delivery Authority ('ODA') (see THEATRES AND OTHER FORMS OF ENTERTAINMENT vol 45(2) (Reissue) PARA 125A) as they apply to an urban development corporation: London Olympic Games and Paralympic Games Act 2006 s 5(1). In the application of the 1980 Act s 149, Sch 29 (1) and the 2004 Act s 33 a reference to an urban development corporation is to be taken as a reference to the ODA; (2) a reference to a corporation's area is to be taken as a reference to an area specified in an order made under s 149 (as modified by the 2006 Act s 5(1)(a)); (3) a reference to the 1980 Act s 142 must be disregarded; and (4) a reference to a London borough is to be taken as a reference to an area in respect of which an order is made under s 149: 2006 Act s 5(2), (3).

Where the ODA is appointed as a local planning authority the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 74(1B)(a) does not apply, but the Mayor of London may direct the ODA to refuse an application for planning permission in a specified case: 2006 Act s 5(4). In discharging such functions the ODA must have regard, in particular (a) to the desirability of making proper preparation for the London Olympics; (b) to the desirability of maximising the benefits to be derived after the London Olympics from things done in preparation for them; (c) to the terms of any planning permission already granted in connection with preparation for the London Olympics; (d) to any guidance issued by the Secretary of State, which may, in particular, refer to other documents; and (e) to the development plan for any area in respect of which an order is made under the 1980 Act s 149 by virtue of the 2006 Act s 5(1), construed in accordance with the 2004 Act s 38: 2006 Act s 5(5).

As to the development area in respect of which the ODA is given planning functions and its functions as a local planning authority in relation to certain development in that area see the Olympic Delivery Authority (Planning Functions) Order 2006, SI 2006/2185.

1465. Delegation of planning functions.

The following provisions apply in relation to any function conferred on an urban development corporation¹ by virtue of an order² that it is to be the local planning authority³.

The corporation may appoint committees⁴ and such committees may appoint sub-committees⁵. Anything which is authorised or required to be done by the corporation:

- 5101 (1) may be done by any member of the corporation or of its staff who is authorised for the purpose either generally or specifically;

The corporation may determine the quorum of a committee or sub-committee⁷ and may make such arrangements as it thinks appropriate relating to the meetings and procedure of a committee or sub-committee⁸. Anything done for these purposes is, however, subject to directions given by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁹.

The validity of anything done by a committee or sub-committee is not affected by any vacancy among its members or any defect in the appointment of any of its members¹⁰.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(v) Development of Designated Areas/B. DISPOSAL OF LAND/1466. Disposal by corporation.

B. DISPOSAL OF LAND

1466. Disposal by corporation.

An urban development corporation¹ may² dispose³ of any land vested in or acquired by it to such persons, in such manner, and subject to such covenants or conditions, as it considers expedient for securing the regeneration of the corporation's area or for purposes connected with the regeneration of the area⁴.

The powers of an urban development corporation with respect to the disposal of land vested in or acquired by it under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 must be so exercised as to secure, so far as practicable, that persons who were living or carrying on business or other activities on land so acquired have an opportunity⁵, if they desire to obtain accommodation on land belonging to the corporation and are willing to comply with any requirements of the corporation as to its development and use, to obtain on it accommodation suitable to their reasonable requirements on terms settled with due regard to the price at which any such land has been acquired from them⁶. An urban development corporation does not, however, have any duty to afford to a person who was carrying on a business of selling alcohol⁷ by retail on land acquired by the corporation an opportunity of obtaining alternative accommodation for such a business⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'urban development corporation' see PARA 1429 note 1 ante.

2 Ie subject to the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 146 (as amended) (see the text and notes 3-8 infra) and to any directions given by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980: s 146(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; and as to the transfer of functions under s 146 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For these purposes, references to disposing of land include references to granting an interest in or right over land: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 146(5). Nothing in the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980, however, enables an urban development corporation to dispose of land by way of gift, mortgage or charge: s 146(4). 7 At the date at which this title states the law, the statutory wording is 'intoxicating liquor' (see ibid s 146(3) (as originally enacted)) which has the meaning assigned by the Licensing Act 1964 s 201 (prospectively repealed) (see the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 146(6) (as originally enacted)). The word 'alcohol' is substituted for the words 'intoxicating liquor' in the text, and is defined in s 146(6) (as prospectively amended) as having the meaning assigned by the Licensing Act 2003 s 191: see the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 143(3), (6) (prospectively amended by the Licensing Act 2003, s 198(1), Sch 6 paras 76, 79, as from a day to be appointed under s 201(2); at the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed).

1467. Power to override easements and other rights.

The erection, construction or carrying out, or maintenance, of any building or work on land¹ which has been vested in or acquired² by an urban development corporation³ or local highway authority⁴, whether done by the corporation or authority or by any other person, is authorised by virtue of the following provisions if it is done in accordance with planning permission⁵, notwithstanding that it involves:

- 5103 (1) interference with any easement, servitude, liberty, privilege, right or advantage annexed to land and adversely affecting other land, including any natural right to support⁶; or
- 5104 (2) a breach of a restriction as to the user of land arising by virtue of a contract⁷.

Compensation is payable⁸ in respect of any such interference or breach⁹.

Nothing in head (1) or head (2) above authorises interference with any right of way or right of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining apparatus on, under or over land, being a right vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers¹⁰ for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking or a right conferred by or in accordance with the electronic communications code on the operator of an electronic communications network¹¹; and nothing in the above provisions is to be construed as authorising any act or omission:

- 5105 (a) on the part of any person which is actionable at the suit of any person on any grounds other than such an interference or breach as is mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above¹²;

5106 (b) on the part of an urban development corporation or local highway authority, or of any body corporate, in contravention of any limitation imposed by law on its capacity by virtue of the constitution of the corporation, authority or body¹³.

Where a person other than the urban development corporation or local highway authority by or in whom the land in question was acquired or vested is liable to pay compensation by virtue of Sch 28 para 6(4) and fails to discharge that liability, the liability is enforceable against the corporation or authority (Sch 28 para 6(5)); but nothing in Sch 28 para 6(5) is to be construed as affecting any agreement between that corporation or authority and any other person for indemnifying the corporation or authority against any liability under Sch 28 para 6(5) (Sch 28 para 6(6)).

Tenancies granted after 15 January 1989 are subject to the Housing Act 1988 which excludes security of tenure where the landlord is an urban development corporation: see s 1(2), Sch 1 para 12(1), (d). There is, however, no similar provision enabling the corporation or authority to overcome the protection afforded to a secure tenant of a council house or one owned by a housing association under the Housing Act 1985 Pt IV (ss 79-117) (as amended).

1473. Extinguishment of public rights of way.

Where any land¹ has been vested in or acquired² by an urban development corporation³ or local highway authority⁴ and is for the time being held by that corporation or authority for the statutory purposes⁵, the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ may by order extinguish any public right of way over the land⁸.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to make such an order, he or it must publish in such manner as appears to him or to it to be requisite a notice stating the effect of the order and specifying the time, not being less than 28 days from the publication of the notice, within which and the manner in which objections to the proposal may be made, and must serve a like notice on the district planning authority⁹ or, in Wales, on the local planning authority¹⁰ in whose area the land is situated and on the relevant¹¹ highway authority¹². Where an objection to a proposal to make such an order is duly made¹³ and is not withdrawn, the statutory procedure for dealing with objections¹⁴ has effect in relation to the proposal¹⁵.

Where it is proposed to make such an order extinguishing a public right of way over a road on land acquired¹⁶ by an urban development corporation and compensation in respect of restrictions¹⁷ has been paid by the highway authority¹⁸, the order may provide for the payment by the urban development corporation to that authority, in respect of the compensation so paid, of such sums as the Secretary of State with the consent of the Treasury, or as the Assembly, may determine¹⁹.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that the construction or improvement of a road is or will be needed in consequence of the extinguishment of a public right of way under these provisions, the statutory provisions relating to acquisition of land for highways²⁰ apply as they apply where he or it is satisfied that the construction or improvement of a road is needed²¹ as mentioned therein²².

1474. Procedure for dealing with objections to orders extinguishing public rights of way.

Unless the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² decides apart from the objection not to make the order, or decides to make a modification which is agreed to by the objector as meeting the objection, he or the Assembly must, before making a final decision³, consider the grounds of the objection as set out in the statement comprised in or submitted with the objection, and may, if he or the Assembly thinks fit, require the objector to submit within a specified period a further statement in writing as to any of the matters to which the objection relates⁴.

In so far as the Secretary of State or the Assembly, after considering the grounds of the objection as set out in the original statement and in any such further statement, is satisfied that the objection relates to a matter which can be dealt with in the assessment of compensation, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may treat the objection as irrelevant for the purpose of making a final decision⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may make a final decision without further investigation as to the matters to which the objection relates if:

- 5115 (1) after considering the grounds of the objection as set out in the original statement and in any such further statement, he or it is satisfied that, for the purpose of making a final decision, he or it is sufficiently informed as to those matters; or
- 5116 (2) where a further statement has been required, it is not submitted within the specified period⁶.

Before making a final decision, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must⁷:

- 5117 (a) afford to the objector an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed for the purpose by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and
- 5118 (b) if the objector avails himself of that opportunity, afford an opportunity of appearing and being heard on the same occasion to the statutory undertakers⁸, urban development corporation⁹ or other person, if any, on whose representation the order is proposed to be made, and to any other person to whom it appears to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly to be expedient to afford such an opportunity¹⁰.

If it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the matters to which the objection relates are such as to require investigation by public local inquiry¹¹ before he or it makes a final decision, then, notwithstanding anything in the above provisions, he or it must cause such an inquiry to be held; and, where he or the Assembly determines to cause such an inquiry to be held, any of the requirements of those provisions to which effect has not been given at the time of that determination must be dispensed with¹².

3 For these purposes, any reference to making a final decision, in relation to an order, is a reference to deciding whether to make the order or what modification, if any, ought to be made: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 144(1), (3), Sch 28 para 12(1).

5120 (2) the operator of the network may by notice given in that behalf to the corporation or authority not later than the end of that period of three months abandon the electronic communications apparatus or any part of it;

5123 (5) where under these provisions the operator of the network has abandoned the whole or any part of any electronic communications apparatus, that apparatus or that part of it vests in the corporation or authority and is deemed, with its abandonment, to cease to be kept installed for the purposes of an electronic communications code network⁶.

1476. Extinguishment of rights of way and removal of apparatus.

Where any land¹ has been acquired² by an urban development corporation³ and:

5124 (1) there subsists over that land a right vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers⁴ for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking⁵, being a right of a way or a right of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining apparatus on, under or over that land; or

5125 (2) there is on, under or over the land apparatus vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking⁶, the corporation, if satisfied that the extinguishment of the right or, as the case may be, the removal of the apparatus, is necessary for the purpose of carrying out any development, may serve on the statutory undertakers⁷ a notice stating that, at the end of the period of 28 days from the date of service of the notice or such longer period as may be specified therein, the right will be extinguished, or requiring that, before the end of that period, the apparatus shall be removed⁸.

The statutory undertakers on whom a notice is so served may, before the end of the period of 28 days from the service of the notice, serve a counter-notice on the corporation stating that they object to all or any of the provisions of the notice, and specifying the grounds of their objection⁹. If no counter-notice is so served:

- 5126 (a) any right to which the notice relates is extinguished at the end of the period specified in that behalf in the notice; and
- 5127 (b) if, at the end of the period so specified in relation to any apparatus, any requirement of the notice as to removal of the apparatus has not been complied with, the corporation may remove the apparatus and dispose of it in any way the corporation may think fit¹⁰.

If a counter-notice is so served on a corporation, the corporation may either withdraw the notice, without prejudice to the service of a further notice, or may apply to the Secretary of State¹¹, or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹², and to the appropriate minister¹³ for an order¹⁴ embodying the provisions of the notice, with or without modification¹⁵.

Where any right vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers is so extinguished, or any requirement is imposed on statutory undertakers, those undertakers are entitled to compensation from the corporation¹⁶.

Before making an order for the extinguishment of rights or the removal of apparatus¹, the ministers proposing to make the order, or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales, and the appropriate minister²:

- 5128 (1) must afford to the statutory undertakers³ on whom notice was served⁴ an opportunity of objecting to the application for the order; and and may then, if they think fit, make the order in accordance with the application either with or without modification⁷.

Where such an order is made⁸:

- 5130 (a) any right to which the order relates is extinguished at the end of the period specified in that behalf in the order; and
- 5131 (b) if, at the end of the period so specified in relation to any apparatus, any requirement of the order as to the removal of the apparatus has not been complied with, the corporation may remove the apparatus and dispose of it in any way the corporation may think fit⁹.

1478. Removal or resiting of apparatus.

Where any land¹ has been acquired² by an urban development corporation³ and:

- 5132 (1) there is on, under or over the land apparatus⁴ vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers; and
- 5133 (2) the undertakers claim that development to be carried out on the land is such as to require, on technical or other grounds connected with the carrying on of the undertaking, the removal or resiting of the apparatus affected by the development, the undertakers may serve on the corporation a notice claiming the right to enter on the land and carry out such works for the removal or resiting of the apparatus or any part of it as may be specified in the notice⁵. Where, however, after the land has been so acquired, development of the land is begun to be carried out, no such notice may be served later than 21 days after the beginning of the development⁶.

Where a notice is so served, the corporation on which it is served may, before the end of the period of 28 days from the date of service, serve on the statutory undertakers a counter-notice stating that it objects to all or any of the provisions of the notice and specifying the grounds of its objection⁷.

If no counter-notice is so served, the statutory undertakers have, after the end of that period of 28 days, the rights claimed in their notice⁸; and, if a counter-notice is so served, the statutory undertakers who served the notice may either withdraw it or may apply to the Secretary of State⁹, or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰, and to the appropriate minister¹¹ for an order¹² conferring on the undertakers the rights claimed in the notice or such modified rights as the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the appropriate minister think it expedient to confer on them¹³.

Where¹⁴ statutory undertakers have a right to execute works for the removal or resiting of apparatus, they may arrange with the corporation for the works to be carried out by the corporation, under the superintendence of the undertakers, instead of by the undertakers themselves¹⁵.

Where works¹⁶ are carried out for the removal or resiting of statutory undertakers' apparatus, the undertakers are entitled to compensation from the corporation¹⁷.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(v) Development of Designated Areas/D. STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/1479. Extension or modification of functions.

1479. Extension or modification of functions.

The powers conferred by the following provisions are exercisable where, on a representation made by statutory undertakers¹, it appears to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³, and to the appropriate minister⁴ to be expedient that the powers and duties of those undertakers should be extended or modified, in order:

- 5134 (1) to secure the provision for an urban development area⁵ of services which would not otherwise be provided, or which would not otherwise be satisfactorily provided; or
- 5135 (2) to facilitate an adjustment of the undertaking necessitated by:
- 442 40. (a) the acquisition⁶ of any land⁷ in which an interest was held, or which was used, for the purpose of the carrying on of the undertaking of the statutory undertakers in question;
41. (b) the extinguishment of a right or the imposition of any requirement by virtue of the relevant⁸ statutory provisions⁹.

The powers so conferred are also exercisable where, on a representation made by an urban development corporation¹⁰, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and to the appropriate minister to be expedient that the powers and duties of statutory undertakers should be extended or modified in order to secure the provision of new services, or the extension of existing services, for the purposes¹¹ of an urban development area¹².

As soon as may be after making such a representation¹³, the statutory undertakers, or the urban development corporation, as the case may be, must publish, in such form and manner as may be directed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and by the appropriate minister, a notice:

- 5136 (i) giving such particulars as may be directed of the matters to which the representation relates; and
- 5137 (ii) specifying the time within which, and the manner in which, objections to the making of an order on the representation may be made¹⁴,

and must also, if it is so directed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the appropriate minister, serve a like notice on such persons, or persons of such classes, as may be so directed¹⁵.

Where the powers so conferred are exercisable, the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the appropriate minister may, if they think fit, by order¹⁶ provide for such extension or modification of the powers and duties of the statutory undertakers as appears to them to be requisite in order to secure the provision of the services¹⁷ or the adjustment¹⁸ in question, as the case may be¹⁹. Such an order may make provision²⁰:

- 5138 (A) for empowering the statutory undertakers to acquire, whether compulsorily or by agreement, any land specified in the order, and to erect or construct any buildings or works so specified;
- 5139 (B) for applying, in relation to the acquisition of any such land or the construction of any such works, enactments relating to the acquisition of land and the construction of works;
- 5140 (C) where it has been represented that the making of the order is expedient for certain purposes²¹, for giving effect to such financial arrangements between the urban development corporation and the statutory undertakers as they may agree, or as, in default or agreement, may be determined to be equitable in such manner and by such tribunal as may be specified in the order;

5141 (D) for such incidental and supplemental matters as appear to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the appropriate minister to be expedient for the purposes of the order²².

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(v) Development of Designated Areas/D. STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/1480. Relief from obligation rendered impracticable.

1480. Relief from obligation rendered impracticable.

Where, on a representation made by statutory undertakers¹, the appropriate minister² is satisfied that the fulfilment of any obligation incurred by those undertakers in connection with the carrying on of their undertaking has been rendered impracticable by:

5142 (1) the compulsory acquisition³ of any land⁴ in which an interest was held, or which was used, for the purpose of the carrying on of the undertaking of the statutory undertakers; or

5143 (2) the extinguishment of a right or the imposition of any requirement by virtue of the relevant statutory provisions⁵, the appropriate minister may, if he thinks fit, by order direct that the statutory undertakers shall be relived of the fulfilment of that obligation, either absolutely or to such extent as may be specified in the order⁶.

As soon as may be after so making a representation to the appropriate minister, the statutory undertakers must, as may be directed by the appropriate minister, either:

5144 (a) publish, in such form and manner as may be so directed, a notice giving such particulars as may be so directed of the matters to which the representation relates, and specifying the time within which, and the manner in which, objections to the making of an order on the representation may be made; or

5145 (b) serve such a notice on such person, or persons of such classes, as may be so directed; or

and, if any objection to the making of such an order is duly made⁸ and is not withdrawn before the order is made, the order is subject to special parliamentary procedure⁹.

Immediately after an order is so made by the appropriate minister, he must publish a notice stating that the order has been made and naming a place where a copy of it may be seen at all reasonable hours, and must serve a like notice:

5147 (i) on any person who duly made an objection to the order and has sent to the appropriate minister a request in writing to serve him with the required notice¹⁰, specifying an address for service; and 5148 (ii) on such other persons, if any, as the appropriate minister thinks fit¹¹.

An order becomes operative¹² on the date on which the required notice¹³ is first published¹⁴.

In relation to Wales, these functions of the appropriate minister have not been transferred to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵.

Procedure for dealing with objections to orders relating to statutory undertakers.

1481. Procedure for dealing with objections to orders relating to statutory undertakers.

Unless the appropriate minister¹ decides apart from the objection not to make the order, or decides to make a modification which is agreed to by the objector as meeting the objection, the appropriate minister:

- 5149 (1) must, before making a final decision², consider the grounds of the objection as set out in the statement comprised in or submitted with the objection; and
- 5150 (2) may, if he thinks fit, require the objector to submit within a specified period a further statement in writing as to any of the matters to which the objection relates³.

In so far as the appropriate minister, after considering the grounds of the objection as set out in the original statement and in any such further statement, is satisfied that the objection relates to a matter which can be dealt with in the assessment of compensation⁴, he may treat the objection as irrelevant for the purpose of making a final decision⁵.

The appropriate minister may make a final decision without further investigation as to the matters to which the objection relates if:

- 5151 (a) after considering the grounds of the objection as set out in the original statement and in any such further statement, the appropriate minister is satisfied that, for the purpose of making a final decision, he is sufficiently informed as to those matters; or
- 5152 (b) where a further statement has been required, it is not submitted within the specified period⁶.

The appropriate minister must⁷:

- 5153 (i) before making a final decision, afford to the objector an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by a person appointed for the purpose by the appropriate minister; and
- 5154 (ii) if the objector avails himself of that opportunity, afford an opportunity of appearing and being heard on the same occasion to the statutory undertakers⁸, local authority or minister on whose representation the order is proposed to be made, and to any other person to whom it appears to the appropriate minister to be expedient to afford such an opportunity⁹.

Notwithstanding anything in the above provisions, if it appears to the appropriate minister that the matters to which the objection relates are such as to require investigation by public local inquiry¹⁰ before he makes a final decision, he must cause an inquiry to be held; and, where he determines to cause such an inquiry to be held, any of the requirements of the above provisions to which effect has not been given at the time of that determination must be dispensed with¹¹.

1 In the application of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 144(1), (3), Sch 28 para 20(3)-(8) to an order under Sch 28 para 17 (see PARA 1479 ante), any reference to the appropriate minister is to be construed as a reference to the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales and the appropriate minister: Sch 28 para 20(2). For the meaning of 'the appropriate minister' generally see PARA 1424 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under Sch 28 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. Note that the functions of the 'appropriate minister' under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 28 (as amended) are not transferred to the Assembly.

2 For these purposes, any reference to making a final decision, in relation to an order, is a reference to deciding whether to make the order or what modification, if any, ought to be made: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 28 para 20(8).

If any person aggrieved¹ by an order relieving statutory undertakers of any obligation² wishes to challenge the validity of the order on the ground that it is not within the statutory powers³, or that any statutory requirement⁴ has not been complied with in relation to the order, he may, within six weeks from the date on which the required notice⁵ is first published, make an application to the High Court⁶.

On any such application the High Court:

5155 (1) may by interim order wholly or in part suspend the operation of the order, either generally or in so far as it affects any property of the applicant, until the final determination of the proceedings;

5156 (2) if satisfied that the order is wholly or to any extent outside the powers conferred by the relevant statutory provisions⁷, or that the interests of the applicant have been substantially prejudiced⁸ by the failure to comply with any statutory requirement⁹, may wholly or in part quash the order, either generally or in so far as it affects any property of the applicant¹⁰.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(v) Development of Designated Areas/E. MISCELLANEOUS FUNCTIONS/1483. Performance of sewerage undertaker's functions.

E. MISCELLANEOUS FUNCTIONS

1483. Performance of sewerage undertaker's functions.

The urban development corporation for any urban development area¹ may, in accordance with any arrangements which it has entered into for the purpose with any sewerage undertaker, carry out sewerage functions² on that undertaker's behalf in relation to such area, comprising the whole or any part of that corporation's relevant area³, as may be specified in the arrangements⁴. Arrangements entered into for these purposes may contain any such provision as may be agreed between the corporation and the sewerage undertaker but do not affect the availability to any person, other than the corporation, of any remedy against the undertaker in respect of the carrying out of the undertaker's sewerage functions or of any failure to carry them out⁵.

If arrangements entered into for these purposes so provide, an urban development corporation is entitled to exercise on behalf of a sewerage undertaker any power which by or under any enactment⁶ is exercisable by the undertaker for the purposes of, or in connection with, the carrying out of the undertaker's sewerage functions⁷.

1 For these purposes, 'urban development area' means any area so designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Pt XVI (ss 134-172) (as amended) (see PARA 1426 note 4 ante): Water Industry Act 1991 s 97(5).

2 For the meaning of 'sewerage functions' see PARA 1381 note 2 ante.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(v) Development of Designated Areas/E. MISCELLANEOUS FUNCTIONS/1484. Adoption etc of private streets.

1484. Adoption etc of private streets.

Where any street works¹ have been executed on any land² in an urban development area³ which was then or has since become a private street⁴ or part of a private street, the urban development corporation⁵ may serve a notice (an 'adoption notice') on the street works authority⁶ requiring the authority to declare the street or part to be a highway⁷ which is a highway maintainable at the public expense⁸. Within the period of two months beginning with the date on which the adoption notice was served, the street works authority may appeal against the notice to the Secretary of State⁹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰. After considering any representations made to him or to it by the corporation and the street works authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must determine such an appeal by setting aside or confirming the adoption notice with or without modifications¹¹. Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly confirms the adoption notice, he or it he may at the same time impose conditions, including financial conditions, upon the corporation with which it must comply in order for the notice to take effect¹²; and with effect from such date as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify, the street or part becomes a highway which is a highway maintainable at the public expense¹³. Where a street works authority neither complies with the adoption notice, nor appeals under the above provisions, the street or part becomes, upon the expiry of the period of two months referred to above, a highway which is a highway maintainable at the public expense¹⁴.

An urban development corporation may serve a notice (a 'connection notice') on the local highway authority¹⁵ requiring the authority to connect a private street in the urban development area to an existing highway, whether or not it is a highway which is a highway maintainable at the public expense¹⁶. A connection notice must specify:

- 5157 (1) the private street and the existing highway;
- 5158 (2) the works which appear to the corporation to be necessary to make the connection; and
- 5159 (3) the period within which those works should be carried out¹⁷.

Before serving a connection notice an urban development corporation must consult¹⁸ the local highway authority about the proposed contents of the notice¹⁹.

Within the period of two months beginning with the date on which the connection notice was served, the local highway authority may appeal against the notice to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly²⁰. After considering any representations made to him or to it by the corporation and the local highway authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must determine such an appeal by setting aside or confirming the connection notice with or without modifications²¹. A connection notice becomes effective:

- 5160 (a) where no appeal is made within the period of two months referred to above, upon the expiry of that period;
- 5161 (b) where an appeal is made within that period but is withdrawn before it has been determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, on the date following the expiry of the period of 21 days beginning with the date on which the Secretary of State or the Assembly is notified of the withdrawal;
- 5162 (c) where an appeal is made and the connection notice is confirmed by a determination under the above provisions, on such date as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify in the determination²².

Where a connection notice becomes effective, the local highway authority must carry out the works specified in the notice within such period as may be so specified and may recover from the corporation the expenses reasonably incurred by the authority in doing so²³. If the local highway authority does not carry out the works specified in the notice within such period as may be so specified, the corporation may itself carry out or complete those works or arrange for another person to do so²⁴.

Where an urban development corporation submits to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly that an order under this provision should be made in relation to any road²⁵ in the urban development area which is a private street and it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the traffic authority²⁶ does not intend to make an order²⁷ concerning traffic regulation in relation to the road, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may by order²⁸ make in relation to the road any such provision as he or it might have made by order²⁹ if he or it had been the traffic authority³⁰.

1485. Loans for building or in pursuance of building agreements.

For the purpose of enabling any person to whom an urban development corporation¹ has sold or let any land² to erect a building on the land, the corporation may³ lend money to that person⁴. A loan so made, together with interest on the loan, must be secured by a mortgage of the land in respect of which the loan is made⁵.

The amount of the principal of a loan so made may not exceed whichever of the following is the less:

5163 (1) three-quarters of the value of the mortgaged security at the time the loan is made;

5164 (2) one-half of the value which it is estimated the mortgaged security will bear when the building for the erection of which the loan is made has been erected⁶; and a loan so made carries interest at such rate as may be specified by the Treasury or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁷.

The mortgage deed securing a loan so made must provide:

5165 (a) for repayment being made, subject to heads (c) and (d) below, within such period, not exceeding 30 years, as may be specified in the deed;

- 5166 (b) for repayment being made, subject to heads (c) and (d) below, either by instalments of principal or by an annuity of principal and interest combined;
- 5167 (c) that, in the event of any of the conditions subject to which the loan is made not being complied with, the balance for the time being unpaid shall become repayable on demand by the corporation;
- 5168 (d) that that balance, or such part of it as may be provided for in the mortgage, may, in any other event than that specified in head (c) above, be repaid on any such conditions as may be specified in the mortgage after one month's written notice of intention to repay has been given to the corporation;
- 5169 (e) where repayment is to be made by an annuity of principal and interest combined, for determining the amount by which the annuity or the life of the annuity is to be reduced when a part of the loan is paid off otherwise than by way of an instalment of the annuity⁸.

Where an urban development corporation enters into an agreement with a person ('the builder') by which provision is made:

- 5170 (i) authorising the builder to enter on land belonging to the corporation for the purpose of the builder erecting a building on the land;
- 5171 (ii) for the sale of the land to the builder, if the building is erected to the satisfaction of the corporation, or, as the agreement may provide, for the grant of a lease to him if the building is so erected;
- 5172 (iii) for the corporation to lend money to the builder for the purpose of enabling him to erect the building;
- 5173 (iv) for securing that, on such a sale or, as the case may be, grant of a lease, any amount lent as mentioned in head (iii) above will, together with the interest on the loan, be secured by a mortgage of the land, then, in that case, the corporation may⁹ lend money to the builder for the purpose mentioned in head (iii) above¹⁰.

The amount of the principal of a loan so made may not exceed whichever of the following is the less:

- 5174 (A) three-quarters of the value of the land at the time the above-mentioned agreement is made;
- 5175 (B) one-half of the amount which it is estimated will be the value of the security for the mortgage for which the agreement provides when the building for the erection of which the loan is made has been erected¹¹.

1486. Other miscellaneous functions.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may:

5176 (1) by order³ provide that an urban development corporation⁴ shall have in its area, or in such part of its area as may be specified in the order, the functions conferred on a local authority by specified statutory provisions⁵ relating to public health⁶; on the order coming into force, the corporation has the functions conferred in relation to the area, or part, instead of or concurrently with any such authority, depending on the terms of the order⁷;

5177 (2) make an order⁸ directing that, subject to the provisions of the order, building control functions⁹ in an urban development area¹⁰ or in any portion of such an area shall be exercisable by the urban development corporation¹¹; such an order must identify by reference to a map the area to which the order relates¹² and may provide:

42. (a) in England, that the London building legislation shall not have effect in the area to which the order relates but that building regulations and any enactment relating to such regulations shall have effect instead¹³;

43. (b) for all or any of the following, namely that the corporation shall have only such of the building control functions as may be specified in the order and that that any building legislation¹⁴ under which the corporation is to exercise building control functions shall apply, in relation to the corporation, as modified by the order¹⁵;

5178 (3) make an order¹⁶ directing that, subject to the provisions of the order, an urban development corporation shall have in its area, or in such part of its area as may be specified in the order:

446

44. (i) certain functions of a fire and rescue authority¹⁷;

45. (ii) the power of a local authority to make loans¹⁸ to meet expenditure on certain alterations to buildings¹⁹;

5179 and on the order coming into force, the corporation has the functions conferred in relation to the area, or part, instead of or concurrently with any such authority, depending on the terms of the order²⁰.

If the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales so provides by order²¹, an urban development corporation has in its area, or in such part of its area as may be specified in the order, specified statutory functions²² of a local authority in relation to housing²³. On the order coming into force, the corporation has the functions concerned in relation to the area, or part, instead of or concurrently with any such authority, depending on the terms of the order²⁴. Further, if the Secretary of State or the Assembly so provides by order²⁵, such of the statutory provisions²⁶ relating to rent rebates as may be specified in the order have effect in relation to an urban development corporation as if the corporation were a housing authority and with such other modifications (if any) as may be so specified²⁷.

At the date at which this title states the law, however, no orders had been made under any of the provisions set out above²⁸.

1487. Agreement with local authority for supply of goods and services.

An urban development corporation¹ is a 'public body' for the purposes of the Local Authorities (Goods and Services) Act 1970² and thus, subject to certain exceptions³, a local authority⁴ and an urban development corporation may enter into an agreement for all or any of the following purposes, that is to say:

- 5180 (1) the supply by the authority to the corporation of any goods or materials⁵;
- 5181 (2) the provision by the authority for the corporation of any administrative, professional or technical services;
- 5182 (3) the use by the corporation of any vehicle, plant or apparatus belonging to the authority and, without prejudice to head (2) above, the placing at the disposal of the corporation of the services of any person employed in connection with the vehicle or other property in question;
- 5183 (4) the carrying out by the authority of works of maintenance⁶ in connection with land or buildings for the maintenance of which the corporation is responsible⁷.

Any agreement made in pursuance of the above provisions may contain such terms as to payment or otherwise as the parties consider appropriate⁸.

Nothing in the above provisions is, however, to be construed as derogating from any powers otherwise exercisable by the corporation⁹.

(vi) Position after Development

1488. Power of corporation to transfer undertakings.

Without prejudice to the powers¹ of an urban development corporation² to dispose of any of its property, including any trade or business carried on by it, an urban development corporation may, by an agreement made with any local authority³ or other body or any statutory undertakers⁴ and approved by the Secretary of State⁵ with the Treasury's concurrence or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁶, transfer:

5184 (1) to the local authority or other body the whole or any part of the corporation's undertaking; or

5185 (2) to the statutory undertakers the whole or any part of the corporation's undertaking which consists of a statutory undertaking, upon such terms as may be prescribed by the agreement⁷.

Before, however, approving such an agreement:

5186 (a) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult⁸ each local authority in whose area all or part of the urban development area⁹ is situated, except, in the case of an agreement made with such an authority, the authority with which it is made¹⁰;

5187 (b) for the transfer of a statutory undertaking, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must publish in the London Gazette, and in one or more newspapers circulating in the urban development area, a notice stating that the agreement has been submitted for approval, and describing the general effect of the agreement¹¹.

If, within 28 days from the publication of the notice in the London Gazette in accordance with head (b) above, any objection to the agreement is made by any statutory undertakers who are carrying on, or are authorised to carry on, within the urban development area or any area adjacent to it, a statutory undertaking similar to that proposed to be transferred by the agreement, the statutory requirement of approval¹² applies in relation to the agreement as if for the reference to the Secretary of State there were substituted a reference to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister¹³.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that it is expedient, having regard to any agreement made or proposed to be made under these provisions, that the liability of the urban development corporation in respect of advances made to it¹⁴ should be reduced, he or the Assembly may, by order¹⁵, reduce that liability to such extent as may be specified in the order¹⁶.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(vi) Position after Development/1489. Transfers of property, rights and liabilities by order.

1489. Transfers of property, rights and liabilities by order.

Subject to the following provisions¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may at any time by order:

- 5188 (1) transfer to himself or to itself, upon such terms as he or it thinks fit, any property, rights or liabilities which are for the time being vested in an urban development corporation⁴ and which are not otherwise proposed⁵ to be transferred⁶;
- 5189 (2) transfer to a statutory body⁷, upon such terms as he or the Assembly thinks fit, any property, rights or liabilities which are for the time being vested in an urban development corporation and are not otherwise proposed⁸ to be transferred⁹.

Such an order may terminate any appointment of the corporation to act as agent of the Urban Regeneration Agency¹⁰ and any arrangements made by the corporation¹¹ for assisting the Agency to carry out its functions¹². Before making such an order the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult¹³ each local authority¹⁴ in whose area all or part of the urban development area¹⁵ is situated¹⁶.

An order under head (2) above may:

- 5190 (a) establish new bodies corporate to receive any property, rights or liabilities to be transferred by such an order;
- 5191 (b) amend, repeal or otherwise modify any enactment for the purpose of enabling any body established under any enactment to receive such property, rights or liabilities¹⁷.

² As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

³ As to the transfer of functions under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 ss 165A, 165B (as added and amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

⁴ For the meaning of 'urban development corporation' see PARA 1429 note 1 ante.

⁵ The which are not proposed to be transferred under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 165 (as amended) (see PARA 1488 ante) or under s 165B (as added: see note 1 supra) (see head (2) in the text).

6 Ibid s 165A(1) (as added (see note 1 supra); amended by the Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act 1996 s 143(2), (4)). An order under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 165A (as added and amended) must be made by statutory instrument which subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 165A(4) (as so added). As to the exercise of this power see eg the London Docklands Development Corporation (Transfer of Property, Rights and Liabilities) Order 1998, SI 1998/83, which came into force on 31 March 1998 (art 1) and which transferred to the Secretary of State the shares in the share capital of Docklands Light Railway Ltd (company number 2052677) which were for the time being vested in the London Docklands Development Corporation, together with any rights and liabilities which the London Docklands Development Corporation had in relation to those shares (art 2).

The Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 165A (as added and amended) is wide enough to include rights and liabilities arising from the agreement under s 165 (as amended) (see PARA 1488 ante) under which the undertaking itself, or part thereof, has been transferred: see National Assembly for Wales v Cardiff City and County Council [2005] EWHC 974 (QB), [2005] All ER (D) 134 (Jun).

7 For these purposes, 'statutory body' means any body established under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 165B (as added: see note 1 supra) or any other enactment; and 'enactment' includes any instrument made under any enactment: s 165B(6) (as so added).

8 Ie which are not proposed to be transferred under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 165 (as amended) (see PARA 1488 ante) or under s 165A (as added and amended: see notes 1, 6 supra) (see head (1) in the text): s 165B(1) (as added: see note 1 supra).

9 Ibid s 165B(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). An order under s 165B (as so added) may contain such incidental, consequential, transitional or supplementary provision as the Secretary of State or the Assembly thinks necessary or expedient (including provisions amending, repealing or otherwise modifying any enactment) and must be made by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 165B(4) (as so amended and modified). As to the exercise of this power see eg (1) the London Docklands Development Corporation (Transfer of Property, Rights and Liabilities) (Lee Valley Regional Park Authority) Order 1998, SI 1998/458, which came into force on 24 March 1998 (art 1) and which transferred certain land, together with any rights and liabilities which the corporation had in relation to that land, from the corporation to the Lee Valley Regional Park Authority (art 2); (2) the London Docklands Development Corporation (Transfer of Property, Rights and Liabilities) (Urban Regeneration Agency) Order 1998, SI 1998/569, which came into force on 31 March 1998 (art 1) and which transferred certain shares, land and rights and liabilities from the corporation to the Agency (arts 2, 3); and (3) the Urban Development Corporations in England (Transfer of Property, Rights and Liabilities) (Commission for the New Towns) Order 1998, SI 1998/85, which came into force on 1 April 1998 (art 1) and which transferred (a) any property, rights and liabilities vested in an urban development corporation in England on that date to the Commission for the New Towns, with the exception of any property, rights or liabilities of a corporation which were proposed to be transferred under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 165 (as amended) or s 165A (as added and amended) or which the corporation had notified in writing to the Commission, at least 14 days before that date, as property, rights and liabilities which it thought necessary or expedient to retain for the purpose of preparing its final accounts and report and winding up its affairs (Urban Development Corporations in England (Transfer of Property, Rights and Liabilities) (Commission for the New Towns) Order 1998, SI 1998/85, art 2(1), (2)); and (b) any property, rights and liabilities remaining vested in a corporation immediately before the dissolution date to the Commission on that dissolution date (art 2(3)). URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(4) URBAN DEVELOPMENT AREAS/(vi) Position after Development/1490. Dissolution of corporations.

1490. Dissolution of corporations.

Where all property, rights and liabilities of an urban development corporation¹ have been transferred under or by one or more relevant instruments², the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ may make an order by statutory instrument under these provisions⁵. Any property, rights and liabilities retained by an urban development corporation for the purpose of preparing its final accounts and report and winding up its affairs are, however, to be disregarded for these purposes⁶. Before making such an order the Secretary of State or the Assembly must consult⁷ each local authority⁸ in whose area all or part of the urban development area⁹ is situated¹⁰.

On the order coming into force, the corporation must cease to act except for the purpose of preparing its final accounts and report and winding up its affairs¹¹. The corporation must, without more, be dissolved on a date specified in, or ascertained by reference to the provisions of, the order¹².

1 For the meaning of 'urban development corporation' see PARA 1429 note 1 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'relevant instrument' means an agreement made under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 165 (as amended) (see PARA 1488 ante) or an order made under s 165A (as added and amended) or s 165B (as added) (see PARA 1489 ante): s 166(5) (s 166(1), (5) substituted by the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 s 180(4), (5); the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 166(5) (as so substituted) amended by the Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act 1996 s 143(2), (5)).

The remaining property, rights and liabilities vested in any of those corporations immediately before that date were vested in the Commission for the New Towns: see the Urban Development Corporations in England (Transfer of Property, Rights and Liabilities) (Commission for the New Towns) Order 1998, SI 1998/85, art 2(3). As to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq ante. Any expenses incurred by any of those corporations on or after 1 April 1998 for the purpose of preparing its final accounts and report and winding up its affairs were, so far as not defrayed out of any property retained for the purpose, to be defrayed by the Commission: see art 4(2).

In relation to Wales, the Cardiff Bay Development Corporation was formally wound up by the National Assembly for Wales at the end of March 2000 and its assets, functions and associated liabilities transferred on 1 April 2000 to four successor organisations: Cardiff County Council, the Welsh Development Agency, the Countryside Council for Wales and the Vale of Glamorgan County Borough Council: see PARA 1422 ante.

- 5193 (2) the council of a Welsh county or county borough³;
- 5194 (3) a London borough⁴ council;
- 5195 (4) a new town corporation⁵;
- 5196 (5) an urban development corporation⁶.

The Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁸ may invite any of the bodies to prepare a scheme relating to the development of an area falling within the district, county, county borough, borough, new town area⁹ or urban development area¹⁰, as the case may be, and send the scheme to him or to the Assembly in accordance with the relevant¹¹ statutory provisions¹². The invitation must:

- 5197 (a) be made with a view to the designation as an enterprise zone of the area for which the scheme may be prepared¹³;
- 5198 (b) specify the area for which the scheme may be prepared¹⁴;

and may:

- 5199 (i) contain directions as to the drawing up of the scheme, in particular as to its form or content or any consultations to be made¹⁵;
- 5200 (ii) specify an area in which publicity¹⁶ is to be given¹⁷.

1492. Preparation of draft scheme.

A body which receives an invitation¹ may prepare a scheme in draft in accordance with the terms of the invitation². If the body so prepares a scheme, it must take such steps as will in its opinion secure that:

5201 (1) adequate publicity is given to the provisions of the scheme:

448

- 46. (a) in Greater London³, if the area for which the scheme is to be prepared is within Greater London;
- 47. (b) in the county in which the area is situated, if the area for which the scheme is to be prepared is in England but outside Greater London;
- 48. (c) in the county or county borough in which the area is situated, if the area for which the scheme is to be prepared is in Wales;

5202 (2) adequate publicity is also given to the provisions of the scheme in any specified⁴ area;

5203 (3) persons who may be expected to want to make representations to the body with respect to the provisions are made aware that they are entitled to do so; and 5204 (4) such persons are given an adequate opportunity of making such representations within a period specified by the body ('the specified period')⁵.

The body must consider any representation which is made to it within the specified period, and which is made on the ground that all or part of the development specified in the scheme should not be granted planning permission in accordance with the terms of the scheme⁶.

1493. Adoption of scheme.

After the expiry of the specified period¹ or, if any representations² have been made, after considering them, the body³ may adopt the scheme by resolution⁴. The scheme adopted may be the scheme prepared in draft⁵ or that scheme as modified to take account of any such representation or any matter arising out of the representation⁶; but a scheme may not be modified in any way inconsistent with the Secretary of State's⁷ or National Assembly for Wales's⁸ invitation⁹ to prepare a scheme¹⁰.

As soon as practicable after so adopting a scheme, the body must:

- 5205 (1) send a copy of the scheme to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly;
- 5206 (2) deposit a copy of the scheme at its principal office; and
- 5207 (3) publish an advertisement in accordance with the statutory¹¹ requirements¹².

Any member of the public may inspect the copy so deposited, and make copies of or extracts from it, at any reasonable time without payment¹³; and the body must make available copies of the scheme, at a reasonable cost, to any member of the public¹⁴.

1494. Questioning the scheme's validity.

If a person is aggrieved¹ by a scheme adopted by a body under the relevant statutory provisions² and wishes to question its validity on the ground that it is not within the powers conferred by those provisions or that any statutory requirement³ has not been complied with, he may within the period of six weeks commencing with the first publication⁴ make an application to the High Court⁵.

On such an application the High Court, if satisfied:

- 5208 (1) that the scheme is wholly or to any extent outside the statutory powers; or
- 5209 (2) that the interests of the applicant would be substantially prejudiced⁶ by the failure to comply with any statutory requirement if an order were made⁷ designating the area to which the scheme relates as an enterprise zone, may order that the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ is not to make an order¹⁰ designating the area as an enterprise zone in pursuance of the scheme¹¹. The court may, however, further order, in a case where head (2) above applies, that, if steps are taken to comply with the requirement concerned, an order may be made designating the area¹².

Except as so provided, the validity of a scheme adopted¹³ may not be questioned in any legal proceedings whatsoever¹⁴.

1495. Designation of enterprise zone.

If a body adopts a scheme¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may, if he or it thinks it expedient to do so, by order designate the area to which the scheme relates as an enterprise zone⁴; but no such order may be made until:

- 5210 (1) the expiry of the period of six weeks commencing with the first publication of the required advertisement⁵; or
- 5211 (2) if an application is made⁶ in relation to the scheme questioning its validity, the time at which any proceedings arising out of the application are disposed of, whichever is the later⁷.

The power to make the order is exercisable by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament, and only with the Treasury's consent⁸.

The order must:

- 5212 (a) specify the date of the designation taking effect ('the effective date');
- 5213 (b) specify the period for which the area is to remain an enterprise zone;
- 5214 (c) define the boundaries of the zone by means of a plan or map;
- 5215 (d) designate as the enterprise zone authority the body which was invited to prepare the scheme⁹.

In England, as soon as practicable after the making of such an order, the local planning authority¹⁰ must, if any part of its area is an area to which an enterprise zone scheme relates, review every local development document¹¹ in the light of the enterprise zone scheme and, if it thinks that any modifications of the document are required in consequence of the scheme, prepare a revised document containing the modifications¹².

Where a designation order has been made¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may invite the enterprise zone authority⁴ to prepare modifications to the scheme⁵; and the enterprise zone authority may prepare modifications to a scheme in draft in accordance with the terms⁶ of the invitation⁷.

If an enterprise zone authority adopts modifications to a scheme, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may, if he or it thinks it expedient to do so, notify the authority of his or its approval of them⁸; but no such notification may be given until:

5218 (1) the expiry of the period of six weeks commencing with the first publication of the required advertisement⁹; or

5219 (2) if an application in relation to the scheme is made questioning its validity¹⁰, the time at which any proceedings arising out of the application are disposed of,

whichever is the later¹¹.

The notification must specify the date of the modifications taking effect ('the effective date of modification')¹². As soon as practicable after the date of the notification, the enterprise zone authority must publish an advertisement in accordance with the statutory¹³ requirements¹⁴.

The power so to modify a scheme includes power wholly to replace a scheme¹⁵.

In England, as soon as practicable after the giving of such notification of approval by the Secretary of State, the local planning authority¹⁶ must, if any part of its area is an area to which an enterprise zone scheme relates, review every local development document¹⁷ in the light of the enterprise zone scheme and, if it thinks that any modifications of the document are required in consequence of the scheme, prepare a revised document containing the modifications¹⁸.

- 5222 (3) to reduce the period for which the zone is to remain an enterprise zone⁶.

An order so made may⁷, however, extend the period for which the zone is to remain an enterprise zone⁸.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(5) ENTERPRISE ZONES/(iii) Planning Control/1502. Planning permission for development in enterprise zones.

(iii) Planning Control

1502. Planning permission for development in enterprise zones.

An order¹ designating an enterprise zone has effect, without more, on the date on which the order designating the zone takes effect to grant planning permission² for development³ specified in the scheme or for development of any class so specified⁴; and the approval of a modified scheme⁵ has effect, without more, on the date on which the modifications take effect to grant planning permission for development specified in the modified scheme or for development of any class so specified⁶. Planning permission so granted is subject to such conditions or limitations as may be specified in the scheme or modified scheme or, if none is specified, is unconditional⁷.

Where planning permission is so granted for any development or class of development, the enterprise zone authority⁸ may direct that the permission shall not apply in relation to:

- 5223 (1) a specified development;
- 5224 (2) a specified class of development; or
- 5225 (3) a specified class of development in a specified area within the enterprise zone⁹;

but an enterprise zone authority may not so give a direction unless the authority has submitted it to the Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ and he or the Assembly has notified the authority that he or the Assembly approves of the authority's giving it¹². If the scheme or the modified scheme specifies, in relation to any development it permits, matters which will require approval by the enterprise zone authority, the permission has effect accordingly¹³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may by regulations¹⁴ make provision as to the procedure for giving a direction¹⁵ and the method and procedure relating to the approval of matters specified¹⁶ in a scheme or modified scheme¹⁷.

Nothing in these provisions:

- 5226 (a) prevents planning permission being granted in relation to land¹⁸ in an enterprise zone otherwise¹⁹ than by virtue thereof²⁰;
- 5227 (b) prejudices the right of any person otherwise to carry out development²¹.

In relation to development for which an environmental impact assessment is required²², however, no order designating an enterprise zone made after 14 March 1999 or modified scheme in relation to an enterprise zone approved after that date grants planning permission for EIA development²³ or grants planning permission for Schedule 2 development²⁴ unless that grant is made subject to the prior adoption of a screening opinion²⁵ or prior making of a screening direction²⁶ that the particular proposed development is not EIA development²⁷. Furthermore, any order designating an enterprise zone or approval of a modified scheme in relation to an enterprise zone which had effect immediately before that date ceased, on or after that date, to have effect to grant planning permission for Schedule 1 development²⁸, and ceased to have effect to grant planning permission for Schedule 2 development unless either the relevant planning authority has adopted a screening opinion or the Secretary of State or the Assembly has made a screening direction to the effect that the particular proposed development is not EIA development²⁹.

UPDATE1502 Planning permission for development in enterprise zones

NOTE 20--Day now appointed in relation to England for remaining purposes: SI 2006/1061.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND REGENERATION/(5) ENTERPRISE ZONES/(iii) Planning Control/1503. Effect on planning permission of modification or termination of scheme.

1503. Effect on planning permission of modification or termination of scheme.

Modifications to an enterprise zone scheme¹ do not affect planning permission² under the scheme in any case where the development³ authorised by it has been begun before the modifications take effect⁴. When an area ceases to be an enterprise zone, planning permission under the scheme ceases to have effect except in a case where the development authorised by it has been begun⁵.

1 For these purposes, 'enterprise zone scheme' means a scheme or modified scheme having effect to grant planning permission in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 88 (as amended) (see PARA 1502 ante): s 336(1).

(6) FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE FOR URBAN REGENERATION1504. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to give financial assistance for regeneration and development.

The Secretary of State¹ with the consent of the Treasury, or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales², may give financial assistance to any person in respect of expenditure incurred in connection with activities which contribute to the regeneration or development of an area³. Activities which contribute to the regeneration or development of an area include, in particular:

- 5228 (1) securing that land⁴ and buildings are brought into effective use;
- 5229 (2) contributing to, or encouraging, economic development;
- 5230 (3) creating an attractive and safe environment;
- 5231 (4) preventing crime or reducing the fear of crime;
- 5232 (5) providing or improving housing or social and recreational facilities, for the purpose of encouraging people to live or work in the area or of benefiting people who live there;
- 5233 (6) providing employment for local people⁵;
- 5234 (7) providing or improving training, educational facilities or health services for local people;
- 5235 (8) assisting local people to make use of opportunities for education, training or employment;
- 5236 (9) benefiting local people who have special needs because of disability or because of their sex or the racial group⁶ to which they belong⁷.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act 1996 s 126, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 19 ante.

6 For these purposes, 'racial group' has the same meaning as in the Race Relations Act 1976 (see DISCRIMINATION vol 13 (2007 Reissue) PARA 441): Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act 1996 s 126(3).

1505. Forms of assistance by Secretary of State or Assembly and terms on which it is given.

Financial assistance in respect of expenditure incurred in connection with activities which contribute to the regeneration or development of an area¹ may be given in any form² and may, in particular, be given by way of grants, loans, guarantees or incurring expenditure for the benefit of the person assisted³. The Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁵ must not, however, in giving such financial assistance purchase loan or share capital in a company⁶.

Such financial assistance may be given on such terms as the Secretary of State, with the consent of the Treasury, or as the Assembly considers appropriate⁷. The terms may, in particular, include provision as to:

- 5237 (1) circumstances in which the assistance is to be repaid, or otherwise made good, to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, and the manner in which that is to be done; or
- 5238 (2) circumstances in which the Secretary of State or the Assembly is entitled to recover the proceeds or part of the proceeds of any disposal of land or buildings in respect of which assistance was provided⁸.

The person receiving assistance must comply with the terms on which it is given, and compliance may be enforced by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly⁹.

The Agency may also be appointed as the agent of the Secretary of State in relation to his functions⁵ of giving financial assistance in respect of expenditure incurred in connection with activities which contribute to the regeneration or development of an area⁶.

In relation to Wales, the Welsh Development Agency⁷ may be appointed as the agent of the National Assembly for Wales⁸ in relation to its functions in giving such assistance⁹.
